Battle looms over 2nd rock concert

By TONY AULT
P-B Staff Writer

ONTARIO — The April 6 "California Jam" at the Ontario Motor Speedway has been heraled as the greatest concert show ever staged in the state by its promoters and young concert-goers.

But, to others who were there—firemen, policemen, county coroners, doctors and nurses it was the nearest thing to potential disaster ever to hit Ontario and the surrounding communities.

All the elements of mass trouble and chaos were evident—a huge crowd of perhaps 200,000 packed within a 2½ mile racing oval, steadily rising temperatures, a lack of water and sanitary facilities, a large number of individuals intoxicated on drugs or alcohol, and the inability of safety personnel to react to emergency situations rapidly.

"Under normal crowd conditions we expected to have at least eight to 10 deaths," said San Bernardino County Coroner Bill Hill.

"We were preapred to close the freeway (Interstate 10) down from Etiwanda to Archibald Avenue, letting no one in and letting anyone out," said Capt. W. C. Jones, commander of the Claremont California Highway Patrol Office, commenting on the traffic aspects.

"It was a traffic nightmare. It was chaotic. It had tremendous potential for many being being hurt on the freeways.

"I could see from our helicopter they (the fans) lacked sanitation facilities. I saw 50 to 75 people urinating against a fence."

He expressed disbelief that another rock concert was planned. "I can't believe it. We were so fortunate the last time. . . .If it bleeds over on the freeway. I'm hesitant to accept this."

Since the first groups of rock fans converged on the "Big O," opposition to the sanctioning of any future concerts has been growing in the city. Tonight the Ontario City Council will hear a request for approval of yet another concert, possibly larger than the "California Jam," by Cornucopia Productions from New York, to be presented on July 6. Also at the meeting the council will review a petition opposing any further concerts at OMS filed by a small group of residents.

During the concert, the medical aid tent was filled with injured and ill fan, cut and bruised from falls and broken glass, and overdosed on drugs ranging from marijuana to heroin, according to preliminary reports. The reports indicate that 424 persons were given medical aid, with 236 seriously injured or sick, mostly because of drug abuse. Three people were sent to the San Bernardino County Hospital for ereatment and one almost died. Eight thousand others were given aspirin.

The fire department reported it made 12 emergency runs with three firemen injured. Numerous fires were started in the infield with firemen unable to reach them because of the closely packed crowd.

Ontario police reported they made 23 arrests for offenses ranging from drunkeness to assault with a deadly weapon against a peace officer, with more than 50 crimes reported, not including three reported rapes on juvenile girls, and several streaking and nudity incidents.

The California Highway Patrol patroling the freeways towed away nearly 700 cars, moved a number of early rock fans from camping on a freeway on ramp and investigated 11 accidents with three injuries.

Contractors working on the new Guasti Park, two miles west of the stadium reported groups of rock fans tore down fences, tromped over newly planted grass and littered restrooms.

Residents three miles west of the track reported cars blocking their driveways with some rock fans breaking into their cars and syphoning off their gas, and using their carports and garages as restrooms.

Capt. Edward Noon of the West End Sheriffs substation said the rock concerts are "a moratorium on crime." He added that every time a law enforcement agency handles a huge crowd like the one at the OMS concert, "it is always a calculated risk."

SURVIVES BURIAL IN SAND

Buried in sand for half an hour after a cave-in, Steve Seely, 24, a worker at the Mobil Premix Concrete firm in Denver, holds onto an oxygen mask as firemen work to free him. A hooded garment which Seely wore apparently prevented him from smothering, according to the Denver Fire Department.

Wanted as material witness

Warrant out for Hearst girl after robbery of S.F. bank by SLA group

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI today sought Patricia Hearst as one of four rifle-toting women who held up a San Francisco bank Monday, shot two bystanders and escaped with more than $10,000.

Authorities said the 20-year-old kidnap victim may have been forced to participate against her will.

Miss Hearst was identified in pictures taken by a hidden bank camera. Kidnaped 10 weeks ago by the Symbionese Liberation Army, Miss Hearst, in a tape-recorded message, renounced her parents and her former life 13 days ago and said she was joining forces with her captors. She said she has changed her name to "Tania."

A warrant was issued for Miss Hearst, granddaughter of famed newspaper founder William Randolph Hearst, as a material witness in the robbery.

"She may have been acting under duress and coercion," said FBI Special Agent in charge, Charles W. Bates, in explaining why she was sought as a material witness instead of a participant. Three other women were named as suspects, and police said five men apparently also were involved —four of them waiting outside in two getaway cars.

Bates said if it were determined that Miss Hearst was a willing participant, she also would be charged with bank robbery.

The robbery took place shortly after the 9 a.m. opening of a Hibernia Bank branch in San Francisco's oceanside Sunset District. The four women — all young and white, wearing dark coats and 'waffle-stomper" type boots and carrying semi-automatic rifles —and a man entered the bank with military-like precision, scooped $10,690 from cash drawers after ordering patrons and employes to lie on the floor, then fled through the front door, firing at passersby.

Two men were seriously wounded, but both were reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital. They were Peter Markoff, 59, who operates a nearby liquor store, and Eugene Brennan, 70, who lives near the scene.

A hidden camera in the bank took several dramatic photographs of the gun-wielding robbers, including one showing the woman identified as Patricia carrying a gun but with another of the robbers appearing to be holding a gun on her.

It was because of this picture, plus apparent efforts by the robbers to go out of their way to identify her as "Tania," that authorities speculated she was forced to take part.

"There's reason to believe she was not a willing partner in the kidnaping or the bank robbery," said U.S. Attorney James Browning.

The three women named in bank robbery warrants were Nancy Ling Perry, Patricia Michelle Soltysik and Camilla Catherine Hall, all believed previously to be members of the tiny SLA which claimed responsibility for the Hearst kidnaping and the slaying last November of Oakland Schools Suprintendent Marcus Foster.

None of the men was identified.

The bank robbery was yet another bizarre development in a case which U.S. Attorney Browning calls unprecedented.

"There's never been another case in the annals of legal history where the victim of a kidnaping has turned up in the middle of a robbery," he told newsmen.

The appearance of Miss Hearst on the film allayed fears that she might be dead, for while her voice had been heard on a tape recording as recently as 13 days ago, she had not been seen since the night of Feb. 4 when she was carried screaming from her apartment near the University of California campus in Berkeley.

In the tape received April 3 by two FM radio stations, Miss Hearst called her father a "liar," said she could not return to her former life as a college coed, and said she would remain and fight with the SLA.

3 young women bound, executed

DETROIT (UPI) — Three young women were killed early today in what police called execution-like slayings at an apartment complex.

The bodies were found by police after residents in the Town Square apartment building reported gunfire on the building's second floor. Police found the bodies of the women, who were in their late teens and early '20s, lying on the bedroom floor with their hands tied behind their backs and single bullet wounds in their heads.

Police said a fourth person, a male, apparently escaped the execution by jumping from the second story window despite having his hands bound. Authorities said the 19-year-old man suffered minor injuries but did not require hospitalization.

Police said there was no apparent motive for the shootings and would not release the names of the victims.

Ford: I'll serve as middleman

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford said Monday he is willing to serve as middleman between President Nixon and the House Judiciary Committee, which is investigating the President's possible impeachment.

Ford said he thinks "chances are 50-50" now that the committee will approve a resolution calling for the House to impeach, or indict, the President.

Talking with reporters as he began a week-long vacation, Ford said "I am available in any way I can be to serve in a responsible way" in negotiating the conflict with the White House over what presidential tapes and other evidence will be turned over to the committee.

He tried to head off the committee subpoena for presidential tapes last week, he said, but "time ran out on us." He said he had tried to get presidential adviser Dean Burch and lawyer James D. St. Clair to come up with "something specific" as a counteroffer to the committee's demands.

Doesn't make 'cents'

Hoarding pennies has Treasury in a dither

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hoarding pennies as a hedge against rising copper prices appears to be catching on as a get-rich-quick scheme, and it's got Treasury officials in a dither.

Shoe boxes, cookie jars and piggy banks are fattening up on the copper coins and the government's money machines are hard pressed to keep up with the demand.

Twenty-two billion pennies have dropped out of circulation in the past 15 years. In the first three months of 1974 alone, the nation's monetary system ordered 2 billion more pennies, more than twice the amount as in the same period last year.

The problem is so serious that Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz Monday signed regulations prohibiting the export or melting of pennies and ordered the U.S. Secret Service to enforce the law.

According to Mary Brooks, director of the mint, there don't appear to be any "big time operators" behind the disappearing coins —just a lot of average citizens hoping for a windfall if copper prices continue to rise and the government decides to switch to aluminum pennies.

The penny pinchers are in for a disappointment on both counts, she says.

For example, should the price of copper rise to $1.50 a pound (it's now about $1.20 a pound), it would take 240,000 pennies, melted down, to furnish $100 worth of copper.

"It's pretty ridiculous to be hoarding pennies for the copper content," Mrs. Brocks says.

And don't plan on cooking up a do-it-yourself smelting operation on the kitchen stove or in the barkyard, Mrs. Brooks warns. That technique was popular with silver hoarders before the government eliminated the silver content in U.S. coins.

But copper penny smelting requires much higher temperatures plus techniques to separate the 95 per cent copper in each penny from the 5 per cent zinc.

Mrs. Brooks also says she abandoned the idea of lightweight aluminum pennies after the vending machine industry complained that it would "jimmy their machines."

So copper pennies —34 billion are currently in circulation — will be around for a long while although Mrs. Brooks says she might ask Congress to lower the copper content from 95 to 70 per cent if hoarding continues.

"We haven't really got a shortage of pennies in this country," she says. "We can keep up with the demand but it's ridiculous to use up the nation's copper this way ...

"People are just senselessly storing them away like squirrels. It just doesn't make sense."

If there's a villain in the picture, it's the banks, according to Mrs. Brooks. She wants banks to encourage depositors to bring in their pennies but the thought of busy tellers dutifully sorting hundreds of copper coins has left bankers cold.

"I haven't been getting any cooperation from the banking fraternity," Mrs. Brooks said.

Children roll eggs on lawn of W.H.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of children tossed Frisbies, rolled on the ground and gleefully enjoyed a beautiful spring day Monday at the annual White House Easter Egg Roll.

The costumes ranged from bunny suits and Easter finery to playclothes.

The egg roll, dating back to the 1800s, took on a new look this year. In the past, it has been conducted haphazardly, but this year a determined effort was made to be organized and competitive.

Mrs. Hearst can't believe her daughter took part in robbery

LA PAZ, Mexico (UPI) — The mother of Patricia Hearst said today she cannot believe her daughter took part in the $10,000 holdup of a San Francisco bank.

"I'm so upset I can't talk to you," Mrs. Randolph Hearst said. "We just heard it over the radio. It's so bizarre. I can't believe it. Please leave us alone."

The FBI said Miss Hearst was being sought as a material witness in connection with Monday's holdup of a branch of the Hibernia Bank. Two bystanders were shot during the robbery.

Earlier, Miss Hearst's mother, Catherine, said she and her husband "were still as convinced as ever that our daughter has not been converted to the revolutionary philosophy that those terrorists represent."

She added, however, "We don't know anything at all about the techniques involved in brainwashing. That's something highly professional in the field of psychiatry, I believe."

Mrs. Hearst was in Las Cruces with her husband, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner; two other daughters, a son-in-law and a grandson.

The Hearsts were expected to return soon to their home in Hillsborough, Calif.

Voting is light in Pomona's special city council election

POMONA — A light voting trend was indicated at mid-morning for today's special city election in which one woman and two men are vying for an unexpired, City Council term from the First District.

The turnout at six precincts which account for some 5,700 of the city's total voter registration of 32,043 averaged to slightly more than 3 per cent three hours after the polling places opened at 7 a.m.

The highest turnout of 58 of an estimated 1,000 voters then was at Precinct No. 7 polling place in the Ganehsa Park Building, which is within the First District, or northwest Pomona. The poorest showing — 10 persons voting out of about 900—was at the Precinct No. 27 polling place, 2408 Virgina Ave., in southeast Pomona.

Candidates are Mrs. Georgia Grove, Thomas Fisher Hughes and Carl E. Jackson.

City Clerk Larry Thomas had predicted a turnout of 20 per cent. A minor city charter change is also on the ballot. Polling places close at 8 p.m.

Readers may obtain election returns by calling the Progress-Bulletin between 9 and 11 tonight at 622-1201.

Unlikely suspects in San Francisco bank robbery

BANK ROBBERY TEAM Hibernia Bank camera shows photos of three of the women who robbed the San Francisco bank Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A prison reformer, a one-time social worker and a former topless dancer may seem like unlikely suspects, but they are wanted for the robbery of a San Francisco bank Monday as female members of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

The best known of the trio is Nancy Ling Perry, 26, a former dancer in San Francisco's North Beach who once campaigned for Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential election campaign.

The others are Patricia Soltysik and Camilla Christine Hall.

Missing newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst has also been identified from photos taken during the robbery but the FBI says it is only seeking her as a material witness until it can be determined whether she participated in the robbery willingly or unwillingly.

The FBI today circulated pictures of the SLA trio and copies of the bank robbery warrants for their arrest.

Miss Perry, known in the SLA as "Fahizah," drew attention to herself recently as the writer of a ramlbing essay on the terrorist group's aims. It was one of several communiques to the parents of the abducted Miss Hearst.

In her essay, Miss Perry reviewed her transition from conservative junior high school cheerleader in Santa Rosa to SLA "soldier."

She is also wanted in Contra Costa County, across the bay from San Francisco, in connection with an attempt to burn down a house used as an SLA headquarters. Police found volumes of SLA literature in the house last January, shortly after two other SLA members, Joseph Remiro and Russell Little, were arrested nearby on murder charges in the assassination of Oakland School Superintendent Dr. Marcus A. Foster.

Miss Perry was living in the house under the name, "Nancy Devoto," one of the aliases attributed to her by friends after she became "political." Her SLA affiliation was preceded by sporadic studies at the University of California at Berkeley and a broken marriage.

The oldest of the three SLA women is Camilla Christine Hall, 29, a 1967 graduate of the University of Minnesota and a social worker for three years in Minneapolis. Miss Hall moved into an apartment near the University of California campus in 1972. She disappeared suddenly in February, taking her treasured Siamese cat but leaving furniture behind. A neighbor said she was "good friends" with Patricia Soltysik, 24, known as a prison reformer and a militant feminist.

The San Francisco Chronicle quoted the neighbor as saying, "I heard they were very active in the Gay Liberation Movement."

Miss Soltysik reportedly wrote the outline for the SLA — a romantic vision of a "new world system" accomplished through guerrilla warfare.

A native of Goleta, Calif., she reportedly had her first name legally changed to "Mismoon" after becoming entranced with the name given her in a poem from a friend.

She was a student at the University of California in Berkeley between the autumn of 1968 and the summer of 1971. She was known as intelligent and a quick learner.

Miss Soltysik worked as a part-time janitor at the Berkeley Public Library and later reportedly became a close friend of SLA "Field Marshall" Cinque, who has been identified as Donald D. DeFreeze, an escaped convict.

Kissinger opens 'new dialogue' in Americas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger conferred today with foreign ministers of Argentina and Brazil to lay the groundwork for a meeting Wednesday of Latin American nations.

As part of his announced effort to open "a new dialogue" in the Americas, Kissinger arranged separate sessions with Argentina's Alberto J. Vignes and Brazel's Antonio F. Azeredo da Silviera in advance of a session of the Organization of American States (OAS).

The conference was a sequel to this year's Mexico City foreign ministers' meeting, which led to an agreement on the need for more hemispheric talks.

The ministers go to Atlanta for further sessions later in the week.

In an address to the U.N. General Assembly Monday, Kissinger said the United States would make a major effort to promote world economic development.

In his six-point plan before the United Nations, Kissinger proposed expanding the world energy supply at a fair price, stabilizing the cycles of surplus and shortages of raw materials, balancing food production with population growth, employing technology to achieve abundance and stabilizing world trade.

He warned, however' that arbitrary price hikes of raw materials would produce "global inflation followed by global recession from which no nation could escape."

In his New York hotel suite, Kissinger discussed Syrian-Israeli troop withdrawals with Morrocan Foreign Minister Ahmed Taib Benhima, diplomatic sources said.

Kissinger also met with Yugoslav Vice President Milos Minic and India's External Affairs Minister Swaran Singh, and Turkey's Foreign Minister Turan Gunes

At night, Kissinger and his bride of two weeks, the former Nancy Maginnes, dined in the hotel suite of Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi and his wife.

A State Department spokesman described the meeting as a social affair, with only the two couples present.

The spokesman had no comment on Fahmi's warning at the United Nations of large-scale fighting between Israel and Egypt if the war of attrition along the Golan Heights continues.

Battle looms over 2nd rock concert...

Al Vande Steeg, president of the Ontario Police Officers Association said many officers in the association are opposed to having further rock concerts. He said a statement from the association will be issued soon, along with a statement from Ontario Police Chief Lee Kolbreck.

Ontario resident Fred Rosenveldt, who lives on Rosewood Lane near Vineyard, said he and a group of his neighbors have filed a petition with the City Council criticizing the OMS operations and asking the council to close the area to all except the local residents during rock concerts or motor races.

Rosenveldt in a telephone interview criticized the city council and police department for permitting the activity at the speedway.

"These creeps, and I hate to call them that (referring to some of the rock fans), came our way. They used our carport as their bathroom . . . blocked our driveways with their cars and damaged or syphoned gas from our neighbors' cars.

"It's ridiculous for our police department and council to keep a low profile in these situations. Isn't that just condoning crime?"

Chief Kolbreck, whose police department was primarily responsible for the safety and security at the concert defended the "low profile" stance of his department.

He said his officers were told, "Make an arrest of any law violator — if it could be done with safety." He said the low profile stance was not uncommon. He said the officer should always back off until he can safely make an arrest without endangering innocent bystanders or himself.

Kolbreck said that he could not comment on the last concert until all the other law enforcement agencies participating in the safety and security efforts turned in their reports and statistics. He said when the reports are all in, possibly by next week, he will have them critiqued and make a recommendation to the city council.

Ontario City Manager Ken Hunter said he did not have all the information as yet needed to make a recommendation to the council, but Mayor Paul Treadway has asked Hunter and Chief Kolbreck for a preliminary report for tonight's city council meeting.

'Youngest' ready for Atlantic crossing

WICKFORD, R.I. (UPI) — Bob Gainer launched his 22-foot sailboat "Hitchhiker" on a trial run Monday and began final preparations for his June 29 effort to become the youngest person to cross the Atlantic alone. He is 21.

"It'll be the biggest thing I've ever done," Gainer said. He plans to aim for England, following the route Robert Manry used in his celebrated transatlantic voyage on the 13-foot Tinkerbelle almost 10 years ago.

"If the weather is good, I'll make it in 35 days. If I'm lucky it'll take 45 days, and if I'm enjoying myself —about 50 days," he said.

Can't deny compensation for pregnancy, judge rules

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Employers cannot deny sickness compensation to women for pregnancies or pregnancy-related disabilities, U.S. District Court Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. ruled Monday.

The ruling came in a class action suit filed three years ago by three women employes of the General Electric plant at Salem, Va.

The judge ruled GE had been guilty of "deliberate and intentional" volations of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by denying female employes sickness benefits for pregnancy or pregnancy-related disabilities.

The suit was filed on behalf of about 100,000 women employes at GE and seeks compensation for as many as 5,500 GE employes who were denied compensation for pregnancy since Sept. 14, 1971. No monetary awards were determined Monday.

Merhige overruled defense arguments that pregnancy was a voluntary condition, and that its inclusion under sickness benefits would cost the firm up to $1 billion a year.

Merhige said the voluntary aspect of pregnancy was meaningless, particularly in light of the company policy to grant sickness and accident benefits to male employes for alcoholism, drug addiction, sterilization or plastic surgery.

Under GE's interpretation of the sickness provision, women would have to "forego the right and privilege of the natural state" of pregnancy "if they wish to avoid a total loss of income," he said.

"There is no rational distinction to be drawn between pregnancy-related disabilities and a disability arising from any other cause," Merhige ruled.

Controls off food prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Cost of Living Council (CLC) has ended 2 ½ years of wage and price regulation in the food industry, but government and industry spokesmen say the action won't affect supprmarket prices.

The council Monday removed wage-price controls from 2.5 million workers and 330,000 firms in the food industry nationwide.

The action allows food wholesalers and retailers to boost prices in order to increase their profit margins. Under the controls they could raise prices only to pass along increases in costs.

The controls would have been lifted soon anyway. The CLC and the remaining wage-price control program —now covering only steel and copper —go out of business April 30, unless Congress intervenes with last-minute legislation to control a few inflaton-prone industries.

Lifting the food controls will have "almost no effect" on consumer food prices, Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, told UPI.

W.W.I. hero finally gets his medals

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UPI) — Ernest A. Sheer, 77, a World War I hero who never got his American medals, left his nursing home Monday to enter the Court of Patriots at the Rock Island Arsenal and receive the Silver Star, the nation's No. 3 military honor.

"I'm not much of a talker," he said. "I'm just glad to be here . . . Thanks."

Sheer received the Croix de Guerre with Palm —France's highest military decoration — soon after he and two comrades seized an enemy machine gun nest and captured 47 Germans and several pieces of equipment on Aug. 31, 1918. He was told by an officer of his unit that he had been recommended for the second-highest U.S. military medal —the Distinguished Service Cross. But he never got it.

Later, he read in a history of his division that he had been awarded the DSC. The Pentagon said it has no record of the recommendation, although it acknowledged that some records from Sheer's unit had been lost.

Six years ago, a friend of Sheer's, Mrs. Shirley Barrett of Rock Island, determined to find out why Sheer's own country had never decorated him for gallantry in action. George Nicholas, a local officer of the Disabled American Veterans, also took up the fight.

Army officials, with no record of the DSC recommendation, re-evaluated Sheer's achievements and awarded the Silver Star —now 56 years after the fact.

"I still would have liked to see the other one (the DSC) given," Mrs. Barrett said. "That is still the one the man is listed for."

Sheer was not concerned with such matters. With the help of a cane, he walked slowly, but proudly, into the Court of Patriots for the presentation—a place only entered by men who have been cited for gallantry in action.

"Along toward evening every day on the front I'd always be laying after we'd get our objective in the afternoon," he said. "And I'd lay there in the shell hole and watch the sun go down and say, 'Will I see her go down tomorrow night?"

Maj. Gen. John C. Raaen Jr., pinned the medal on Sheer.

"The Army likes to remember its heroes," he said. "Sometimes we do it right away but sometimes it takes a little time to remember."

Nixon nominees

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI — President Nixon Monday nominated Dallas lawyer Robert W. Porter to be a U.S. district judge for the northern district of Texas.

Nixon at the same time nominated Max E. Wilson of Ashville, N.C., to serve a four-year term as U.S. marshal for the western district of North Carolina.

Porter, 47, is a partner in the Dallas law firm of Thompson, Coe, Cousins, Irons and Porter. He was chosen to succeed Leo Brewster, who retired from the bench last November.

Wigson, 45, is the owner and manager of an automobile repair business in Asheville and would succeed Seibert W. Lockman, who resigned as U.S. marshal last month.

Mom sentenced for delinquency of two children

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Joyce Hayes, the first person to be convicted under a plan to make parents responsible for the delinquency of their truant children, was sentenced Monday to two years' probation with many conditions—including a requirement she make the children go to school.

Mrs. Hayes was found guilty March 13 of two counts of violating Education Code requirements for compulsory education and two counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Authorities said Mrs. Hayes' daughters, aged 12 and 13, had been under investigation eight times between July and November last year in connection with crimes including disturbing the peace, battery, assault with a deadly weapon and grand theft.

Judge James F. Nelson ordered Mrs. Hayes to write a monthly letter to the schools of her two daughters, listing any absences and the reasons.

She was also ordered to appear in court Nov. 20 to report on her daughters' status in school. Nelson said Mrs. Hayes faces a possible sentence of two years in jail if she does not conform to the conditions.

Actor is guilty

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor and comedian Richard Pryor will be sentenced in federal court May 6 on a charge of failure to file an income tax return for the year 1967.

Pryor, who costarred with Diana Ross in "Lady Sings the Blues," had originally pleaded innocent to four counts of failing to file tax returns for the four years 1967 through 1970, a period during which he made $250,000 the Internal Revenue Service charged. Following plea bargaining, he appeared before U.S. District Judge Manuel Real Monday and changed his plea to guilty on one count. Charges for the other three years are expected to be dropped when Pryor is sentenced. He could receive up to one year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Kennedy in Europe

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI)—Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., arrived Monday to begin a fact-finding swing through eastern Europe.

Diplomatic sources said he probably would meet President Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Manea Manescu today although no official schedule was released for the 24-hour visit.

Kennedy and his wife are scheduled to continue their tour today by flying to neighboring Yugoslavia for two days and talks with President Tito.

Pleads innocent

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Ike Turner, of the soul singing combo of Ike and Tina, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of using a "blue box," a sophisticated electronic device that allows users to cheat the telephone company out of unlimited long distance calls.

Trial for Turner and three codefendants was scheduled to begin May 1. They were arrested March 26 at a recording studio. The boxes imitate the signal tones of telephone equipment. Knowledgeable users can signal their way into long lines, and make untraceable calls throughout the world.

Tito denies illness

BELGRADE (UPI) — President Tito today denied Western news reports that he had suffered a stroke and reaffirmed Yugoslav positon on a current border dispute with Italy.

In a nationally televised briefing of Bosnian Communist party leaders, Tito, 81, said: "Yugoslavia has been under pressure recently. They wrote that I was paralysed. Now they have seen me and changed their opinion.

"Some people outside Yugoslavia are constantly waiting for something to happen in Yugoslavia," he told the meeting in Sarajevo.

Retarded students in Chaffey district

Funds sought for training center

ONTARIO — Seeking assistance in the construction of the Chaffey Training Center for trainable mentally retarded students, the Chaffey School board approved Monday a resolution calling for an application for state school building aid.

Senate Bill 852, signed April 6 by Gov. Reagan, provides for school building aid for districts not otherwise qualifying for state aid for the construction of facilities for mentally retarded minors.

Trustees, facing a financial crisis in the district next year, are anxious to receive state aid and are planning to visit state senators Ruben Ayala and Jerry Lewis to gain their assistance. But it was noted by Milo Thomas, district business manager, that the funds for aid are limited and in demand by many other districts.

To comply with provisions of the State School Building Aid Law of 1952, the board approved three required documents — application for an appointment, a certified statement of estimated cost of a school project and a certification of ownership of site.

As another required action to gain state aid, trustees appointed Thomas as district quality act officer. Thomas will furnish required information to the State Allocation Board.

In other action the trustees:

— Delegated Mrs. Martha Chapman, board member, as the representative to the spring meeting of the San Bernardino County School Boards Association April 30.

— Approved a district in-service retreat at the USC conference center in Idyllwild on May 10 through 12. The district will pay a portion of the cost for employes. Those in attendance will include district and school administrators, teachers and teachers' aides and representatives of community organizations.

— Appointed Thomas environmental quality act officer for the district to comply with the State School Building Act program.

— Congratulated Fred Beal, chairman of the driver education department at Alta Loma High School, for receiving a special award from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Chino crashes injure three

CHINO — Three persons were injured Monday evening in two separate traffic accidents here less than two hours apart.

At Benson Avenue and Jefferson Street at 5:20 p.m. 7-year-old Toni Lynn Languell of 12613 Benson Ave., was struck by a car driven by Luis Antonio Borrel, 46, of 12550 Benson Ave.

Toni was given emergency treatment for minor injuries at Montclair Doctors Hospital and released.

At 6:48 p.m. Marie E. Marker, 27, and her 8-month-old son, Michael John Marker of 13083 Cousins St., Chino, were injured when two cars collided broadside in the intersection of Riverside Drive and Ramona Avenue. Mrs. Marker was admitted to Chino General Hospital where she is in satisfactory condition. The boy was later released.

Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Marker's vehicle collided with another vehicle driven by John Boone, 17, of 4867 Riverside Dr. Boone was not injured.

Plan to extend Chino fire station approved

CHINO — The Planning Commission Monday night approved site development plans for extension of the present fire station.

The station, located on the east side of Central Avenue immediately north of Chino Avenue, will remain in its present location rather than be included in the new Civic Center complex. All other city offices at Central and D Street will relocate in the new complex of buildings to be constructed west of Central on D, to Sixth Street.

The 5-0 vote, with chairman Nancy Carpenter and James Sanders absent, allows the addition of about 2,217 square feet to the existing station.

Gale Carr, director of building, planning and community development, pointed out in his written report that the "request is to extend the office and engine house portions of the present fire station approximately 30 feet westward toward Central Avenue. This will leave a 50-foot setback from Central Avenue to the station doors. This new extension will allow for the housing of fire equipment and expansion of the headquarters offices."

The addition will be constructed of steel reinforced concrete blocks and elevations will be identical to the existing structure, Carr noted.

Walnut teachers ask 14.2% hike

WALNUT — Teachers in the Walnut School District Monday night handed the board of trustees requests calling for a 14.2 per cent total salary increase and various fringe benefits.

Cost of the proposed 8.73 per cent cost of living boost, and 5.5 per cent additional increase to "improve the total salary schedule," would be $426,000, according to Certificated Employe Council (CEC) spokesmen.

Trustees took no action on the requests, as by law they first must be negotiated between CEC and the board representative, personnel director, Ray McMullen, in "meet and confer" sessions.

Pomonan dies in car crash, train collision

POMONA — Riverside highway patrolmen are still investigating the cause of a single-car accident that took the life of a 19-year-old Pomona man early Sunday morning in the Corona area.

Highway patrolmen reported Norman C. Noble of 1230 W. Third St. lost control of his car on the eastbound Riverside Freeway, crashed through a center divider and a bridge railing and landed on Santa Fe Railroad tracks beneath the freeway. Moments after the crash, Noble's car was struck by a Santa Fe engine. Whether the victim was killed in the initial impact has not been determined, authorities said.

Mr. Noble was born in Jan. 19, 1955, and lived all his life here. He graduated from Garey High School in 1972.

He is survived by his father, Lester J. Noble, his mother, Mrs. Evlyn Carter; a sister, Mrs. Joyce Slamal; two brothers, Gregg and Paige Noble, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Heckler, all of Pomona.

Mackay switches vote

L.V. council drops annexation fees

By BOG NAGEY
P-B Staff Writer

LA VERNE — The City Council reversed itself Monday night and dropped an ordinance that would have charged developers $150 per home for annexing their projects to the city.

The ordinance was coming up for final passage when Councilman Allan Mackay switched his vote of two weeks ago and decided that the city didn't need the ordinance, after all.

"I'm in favor of letting the developers annex without puting obstacles before them" he said. "I learned a lot of things during the past two weeks. We don't need this ordinance.

Councilman Dan Lopez charged that the council was "playing politics" by reversing itself Monday.

The council approved introduction of the ordinance two weeks ago with Mackay, Lopez and Harrison Sanborn edging out Mayor Frank Morales and Councilman Frank Johnson in the vote.

The proposal was aimed primarily at Arcadia developer H.N. Berger, who is about the build a 42-acre mobile home park just outside the eastern boundaries of La Verne.

The council felt that Berger was deliberately attempting to circumvent a bedroom tax that's levied on developers within the city.

If Berger is allowed to annex without payment of any taxes, the city will lose about $49,000 in parks and recreation fees. But Johnson contended the city will get that money back very quickly.

He said the city will realize about $40,000 in revenues from the mobile home park every year if Berger is allowed to join.

By joining, the devloper will be allowed to use the city's sewer and water system.

"I don't see how he can take advantage of a multimillion dollar water system," Lopez argued. "I feel this council should have the guts to stop playing politics and make him pay the fee."

But his proposal lost.

In another matter, the council approved the official zoning map of the general plan, despite some changes recommended by the Planning Commission. The council instructed the commission to go over the map again and revise its recommendations to fall more in line with the wishes of the council.

The commissioners did not object to the map itself, but to the method of monitoring planned residential developments. They felt another body, in addition to the city staff, should judge the merits of proposed plans.

The council also accepted for further study a proposal by City Manager George Caswell to build additional space for the present city hall at the estimated cost of $265,000. The addition would be between the present city hall and the fire station.

Water rates to increase in La Verne

LA VERNE — Water rates are going up about 26 per cent here, starting May 1.

The rates will rise another 10 per cent next January to offset the higher costs of power, labor and import water, according to City Manager George Caswell.

The City Council approved the two-step increase Monday night after consultant Kenneth I. Mullen reported that at the present rates, the cost of operation was higher than water users were paying in fees.

Under the two plan, the rates will go from $11.90 ot $15.05 bi montly for the average residential. The rates will go to approximately $16.50 bimonthly Jan. 1.

Caswell told the council that the average home requires about 31,000 gallons of water every two months.

Rates also are going up for the installation of new connections, from 100 to $185 for ¾ inch lines, and from $125 to $265 for those who need 1-inch lines.

SANBAG fund request riles Montclair mayor

By MAE TATE
P-B Staff Writer

MONTCLAIR — Mayor Harold Hayes led Montclair City Council indignation Monday night about a regional government group's attempt to appropriate funds without authorization from participating cities.

Hayes voiced his concern after a report from City Administrator Lauren Wasserman on a request from San Bernardino Associated Governments (SANBAG) for an additional one per cent funding for bikeway planning. The mayor voiced consternation about SANBAG'S executive board consideration of the one per cent allocation during its March meeting "without first getting funding authorization from participating cities."

Hayes pointed out that clarification of procedure for various city council's approval was necessary in order to avoid the possibility of SANBAG executive board bypassing cities in appropriation of funds for special projects.

Wasserman reported that the one per cent would be in addition to the current three per cent funding coming from each city for regional transportation study and planning. The extra expense would cost the City of Montclair about $1,600.

The city administrator questioned whether the expenditure was appropriate at this time, particularly due to the fact that SANBAG has not finalized plans for regional transportation. Additional funding may be premature at this time, Wasserman said.

Hayes noted that SANBAG's present priorities should be "with people and the mass effort of regional transportation." Councilman Tom McClure also voiced indignation about any allocation without councils' approvals. He asked that a letter be sent to the executive director of SANBAG, "strongly" emphasizing this opinion and signed by the mayor.

Ernest Rowley advised a "wait and see" attitude toward the additional money. He also recommended that SANBAG press for federal allocations for bikeways. Nelson Gentry said although there was a need for bikeways for safety purposes, this should not be considered a separate expense. Rather, it should be included with consideration of other regional transportation needs, he added.

The council unanimously accepted the mayor's recommendation for opposition to the additional one per cent, clarification of procedure for funding special projects and opposition at this time to any annexation to the Southern California Rapid Transit District.

In other action, the council:

— Heard a report on the housing element from Chuck Regalia, planning assistant. Regalia said that the research and analysis stage of the element had been completed and the initial draft would be ready for submission to the planning commission, council and public within a week.

The element will identify neighborhoods and problems; evaluate the housing market; identify housing problems, constraints and obstacles; and outline long-term goals according to those expressed by people in the public hearings on the matter.

— Set a public hearing for May 6 for posting prices and hours of operation for service stations.

— Approved a joint participation project with the Chamber of Commerce for the construction of entry signs at the east and west entrances to the city on Holt Boulevard. The eight-foot wide signs will be funded by the two bodies at $1,700 each.

— Adjourned to a special session next Monday with the fire chief, fire department officials and recreation department representatives to discuss budget matters at 5 p.m.

Gas price signs still required

By PATRICK SPENCER
P-B Staff Writer

UPLAND — Gasoline price signs will still be required in the city, but the flag system indicating gas availability has been dropped by City Council action Monday night.

The council voted 4-1 in favor of requiring the price signs after City Attorney Donald Maroney announced that a pending state law also requiring the signs had not yet emerged from committee deliberations.

The council had been waiting to see if the legislation would pass before taking action to rescind a March 4 ordinance that required both the signs and the flag system.

The original ordinance had raised the ire of service station operators and didn't seem to be alleviating the length of lines at stations.

The council voted unanimously Monday to table action that would have rescinded the original ordinance. All but Councilman Harold Bailin approved an amendment to the original ordinance striking down the requirement for the flag system.

Although he commented that he would "rather have prices than flags," Bailin objected to any revision of the basic ordinance.

Councilwomen Ina Petokas, who had supported the basic ordinance, also thought the flag system should be retained, but cast her vote in favor of the change

Councilmen George Gibson and John McCarthy both agreed that the flag system should be left to the discretion of the station owners.

In a final comment Bailin suggested that all stations in the city be advised that the ordinance will be in effect following a second reading in two weeks.

In other action, the council accepted a traffic light request petition signed by parents of children using the intersectin of 16th Street and Second Avenue to and from Sierra Vista School.

The council also approved action by the city administration to hire a crossing guard who will be on duty at the intersection for the remainder of the school year.

The $30,000 initial cost for the traffic lights will be considered during coming budget sessions, but according to City Engineer Fred Blanchard the lights could not be installed much before the end of the next school year.

The council indicated it was exploring the possibility of busing students next year to and from the school to help solve the safety problem.

In other business action, the council:

—Approved a zone change from agricultural to single-family residential (R-1-C) on 10 acres west of San Antonio Avenue on the north side of 18th street.

—Tabled a Planning Commission request to reaffrim General Plan zone designations on property fronting both sides of north Mountain Avenue. The council felt the action was unnecessary and proposed a future joint meeting with the commission to make another attempt at developing a plan for the future development of the area.

—Agreed to consider a resolution in joining the county and the cities of Ontario and Chino in requesting the state to designate Euclid Avenue as a state scenic highway. No major benefits will accrue to the city as a result of the change, but Planning Director Rod Anderson said the city would have slightly more control of traffic and usage of the street.

Wednesday, April 17

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't plan too challenging a schedule today. You aren't likely to be your usual assertive self.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Outside interests will take you off-course a bit at this time. You'll not pursue goals as vigorously as they should be sought.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be considerate of any who come under your authority today. They can best be directed if orders come in the form of suggestions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Let imagination run free, particularly if problem solving. Don't block your thoughts with reasons why something can't be done.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best you keep some secrets to yourself. Bear this in mind when you're just about to reveal a confidence that you shouldn't.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're likely to be wishy-washy about making decisions. This will irk those you're closely associated with.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Serving the needs of another before your own interests will prove a good investment. Later, you'll be repaid for your thoughtfulness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You need some form of social outlet at this time just to change the pace. How about dinner at your favorite restaurant?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Everyone will have a better time if they come to your house to be entertained today, rather than your going to theirs.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You won't have the peace of mind you should if you leave a task half-done. Wrap it up so you can relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Conditions that affect your bank balance are on the upswing if managed wisely. Don't spend what you don't have in hand.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're still in a cycle where things come to you easier than usual. It's up to you to make the most of them.

April 17

You're likely to see rewards from plans you've worked very hard to develop this year. Don't give up on your ideas now that victory is near.

Americans are peanut eaters

Each American eats on the average of 6.1 pounds of shelled peanuts a year.

Dirksen flower recognized by his hometown

PEKIN, Ill. (UPI) — The late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen failed to make the marigold the national flower but his hometown has not forgotten his efforts.

The marigold will form the center of new flag which the city of Pekin, Ill. will adopt this week.

The flag was designed by Jim Thomas of Peoria, Ill. in response to a local contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Proxmire hits 'useless agencies'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. today called for abolishing 16 government agencies including the Selective Service System and the Small Business Administration. He said they were useless and wasteful.

The agencies included the Small Business Administration, Renegotiation oBard, Selective Service System, the Cost of Living Council and eight of its subordinate agencies, Interstate Commerce Commission, President's Council on Physical Fitness, Overseas Private Investment Corporation, and what Proxmire called the Central Intelligence Agency's "Department of Dirty Tricks."

Proxmire said that this was just "a short list of the useless agencies and wasteful functions of the government which should end." Among his charges:

— The Selective Service "wants $41 million this year to maintain several thousand bureaucrats, offices, local, state, and county boards, and a host of appeal boards" despite the fact that under the law no Americans can be drafted.

—"Instead of regulating transportation to avoid monopoly and increased prices, the ICC has established monopolies, reduced competition, and ordered high and uneconomic rates to cover the costs of inefficient producers."

—The Small Business Administration has had "a history of political favoritism, bad judgment and based decisions. Such a small proportion of businesses are helped, far less than 1 per cent of eligible businesses, that the expense and bureaucracy doesn't merit the cost."

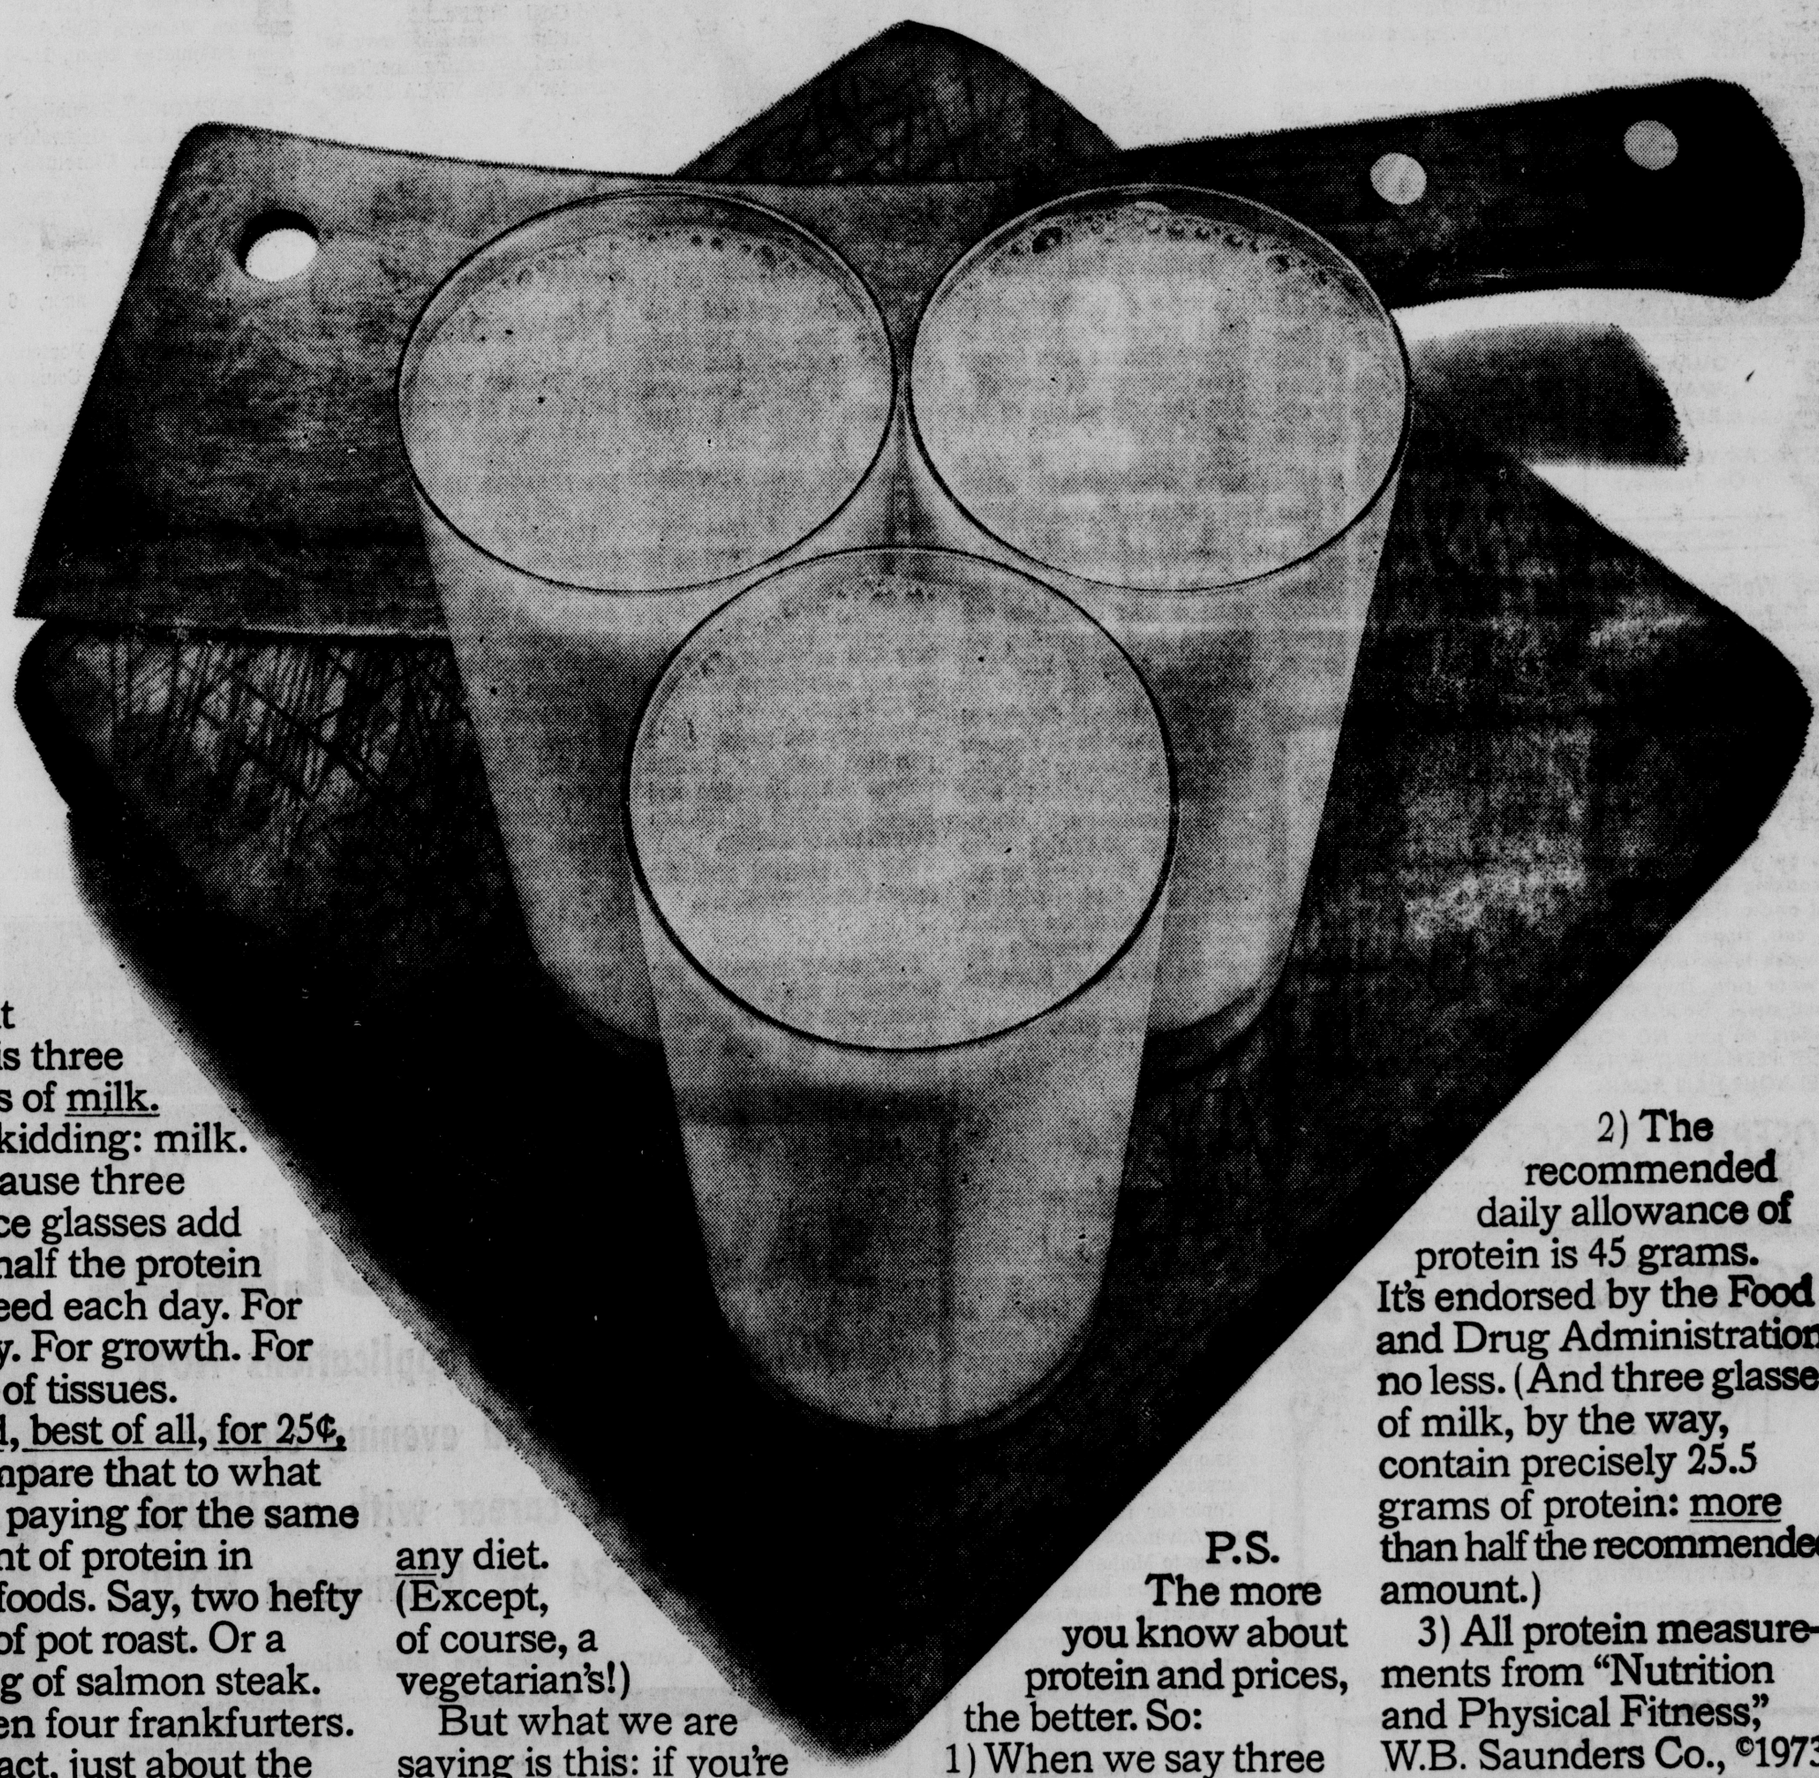
How to cut the price of protein.



All it takes is three glasses of milk.

No kidding: milk.

Because three 8-ounce glasses add up to half the protein you need each day. For energy. For growth. For repair of tissues.

And, best of all, for 25¢.

Compare that to what you're paying for the same amount of protein in other foods. Say, two hefty slices of pot roast. Or a serving of salmon steak. Or even four frankfurters.

In fact, just about the only protein you can get for less these days comes from certain dried peas, beans and nuts.

Now: does this mean we're saying don't eat meat or fish? No way—because they belong in any diet. (Except, of course, a vegetarian's!)

But what we are saying is this: if you're concerned about the rising price of protein, now you know a thrifty way to get it.

In fact, you can pour it on.

California Milk Advisory Board

P.S. The more you know about protein and prices, the better. So:

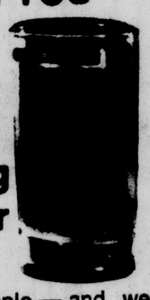
1) When we say three glasses, we mean eight ounces per...or 24 ounces in all. And that price of 25¢ is based on the average price in California stores for one-half gallon. Which is 66.2¢. And you're welcome.

2) The recommended daily allowance of protein is 45 grams. It's endorsed by the Food and Drug Administration, no less. (And three glasses of milk, by the way, contain precisely 25.5 grams of protein: more than half the recommended amount.)

3) All protein measurements from "Nutrition and Physical Fitness," W.B. Saunders Co., ©1973. Very meaty book.

Milk has something for every body.™

WATER YOU DRINK Has a Strong Bearing on Your Health



Some people — and we consider them misinformed —claim that the body needs the minerals in water. They advise people to avoid distilled water for this reason. They would have us drink water saturated with impurities and chemicals and run the risk of contracting serious diseases to obtain a few minerals.

Water is certainly not our only source of minerals. The mineral content in water varies from area to area. One locality might have water with a high calcium content and be low in phosphorous. Drinking a glass of milk would supply both.

So doesn't it make good common sense to clean the water of all bacteria, virus and chemicals, eat a good balanced diet, and if there are doubts as to sufficient minerals, take a good organic mineral supplement?

The trick to conserving energy with your refrigerator-freezer is in remembering one thing: it doesn't cool by blowing cold air in. It cools by taking heated air out. Opening the refrigerator door as few times as possible keeps heated air from getting inside.

Violinist to offer recital at Pomona

CLAREMONT — Violinist Mark Emile will play music by Bach, Beethoven and Schoenberg in his senior recital in Bridges Hall of Music, Pomona College, a 8:15 p.m. April 26. He will be accompanied by pianist Ebet Dudley.

The concert, sponsored by the Pomona College music department, is open to the public. Admission is free.

Emile will perform Bach's D Minor Partita, for solo violin, with its accompanying "Chaconne," Schoenberg's "Phantasy for Violin," and Beethoven's Violin Sonata No. 3.

A native of San Diego, Emile has been a frequent solosit during his four years at Pomona College. Most recently he played Prokofieff's First Violin Concerto with the Pomona College Symphony in November, and last May he conducted a special program of highlights from Bach's B Minor Mass. In addition, he has regularly served as concertmaster for the orchestra.

Miss Dudley, a freshman at Scripps College, has performed in a number of student recitals this season.

ANGELIC ANGELA — Musical comedy star Angela Lansbury, shown with Lisa Peluso, center, and Bonnie Langford, stars in "Gypsy," opening Sunday night at the Shubert Theater in Los Angeles. The show was a resounding hit during its recent London engagement. Tickets are on sale at Mutual, Liberty, Wallich's and Ticketron agencies.

At Paramount Ranch

Pleasure Faire to open six weekends engagement

AGOURA — The 12th annual Renaissance Pleasure Fair & Springtime Market will be held on the old Paramount Ranch Saturdays and Sundays for six weekends starting Saturday.

The fair, a recreation of 16th Century English festivals, was originated by Ron and Phyllis Patterson, who are devoted to the recreation and preservation of the color, pageantry, music, plays and customs of medieval England.

All of the participants are dressed in the costume of the Middle Ages, and visitors are urged to wear similar garb. Free patterns and instructions for making costumes can be obtained by writing to Faire Costumes, Box 46070, Los Angeles 90046.

The fair runs from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. Parking is free. The ceremonial "Call of the Faire" opens the activities. These include plays, dancing, concerts of Renaissance music, performances by jugglers, puppeteers, strolling troubadours and others.

The Pleasure Faire is reached by the Ventura Freeway west from Los Angeles to the Kanan Road exit.

A-limp became the B-limp

During World War I, the British experimented with non-rigid, lighter-than-air ships. Though the first model, named A-limp, failed, the second model, B-limp was successful. That model name became the one-word "blimp."

Martha Raye to star in CLO musical

SAN BERNARDINO — Comedienne Martha Raye will star in the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association production of the "No, No, Nanette," opening May 10 at the California Theater of Performing Arts.

Miss Raye, who appeared with CLO two seasons ago in "Hello, Dolly!" will re-create her Broadway role in "Nanette," which she says is her favorite.

"No, No, Nanette," billed as "the new 1925 musical," features a cast of Broadway and film performers. It will play through May 18.

Tickets are on sale at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce. A 10 percent discount is offered to groups of 30 or more persons.

The musical brings back such dances as the Castle Walk, the Bunny Hug, the Maxixe, the Tango, the Charleston, and a good deal of tap dancing, according to Jack Bunch, director-choreographer who is mounting the musical.

"No, No, Nanette" also brings back such songs as "Tea for Two," "I Want To Be Happy," "Take a Little One-Step," "You Can Dance With Any Girl," and the title song.

POMONA — A Merit System Commission recommendation that the city hire less experienced police officers at higher salaries and provide more opportunities for inexperienced young men to join the public safety departments was overruled by the City Council 2-1 Monday night.

The council acted in the case of a La Palma police officer who has applied for a position with the Pomona Police Department.

Police Chief F. P. Wallick recommended that the officer be hired at the third salary step, two steps above the starting salary, a recommendation endorsed by City Administrator Jerrold Gonce providing the applicant was required to live in Pomona in keeping with council action taken on a similar case.

At a meeting April 3, the commission voted 3-1 to deny the recommendation of Wallick and Personnel Director Sidney Simms.

At that meeting, Simms was asked to inform Wallick the commission "was not in the mood" to accept additional experienced officers from other cities' departments, prefering instead to see inexperienced young men hired from wthin the city limits.

Commissioner John Rogan appeard at the council meeting to press for the denial.

Rogan noted that the city recently had agreed on an equal employment opportunity program and said the practice of hiring experienced police officers instead of inexperienced Pomona residents "can get around that program."

He said the police department was the one department allowed to hire persons at higher than starting salaries without requiring the applicants to take an examination.

In a letter to the council, Wallick said that the average attrition rate for the past four years has been 9.75 per cent and during calendar year 1973 was 8 per cent.

He listed figures showing that in 1973, seven inexperienced officers were hired compared to eight experienced; in 1972 it was 18 inexperienced and six experienced, in 1971 it was six inexperienced and six experienced and in 1970, four inexperienced and seven experienced.

"The department understands the value of hiring inexperienced police applicants, especially from the community. The department also has a difficult job to do which can best be done with experienced officers on the street," Wallick wrote.

"In order to keep this experience at some acceptable level it is necessary to balance our recruitment of police officers with experienced officers on a regular basis."

The dissenting council vote came from Councilman Ben Ochoa Sr. who asked for a city staff report on the "experience level" of the entire police department.

The council also voted, 3-0, to overrule a resolution of the Planning Commission denying a request for a conditional use permit for the construction of a mini-warehouse development at 2735 N. Towne Ave. The applicant agreed to put in additional parking spaces.

CLAREMONT'S SEAL

Claremont fire engineer Dave Horn gets approval from Claremont Mayor Bertye Smith as he presses into place a reverse decal of the new city seal on the fire department's yellow fire truck. The new seal slowly is replacing the old seal of a "free flowing leaf." Mrs. Adele Schoene designed the seal and incorporated into it the arches found in the colleges, the city's many trees, and the year of the city's incorporation. The seal normally comes in black on white.

Reward awaiting tipster in narcotics sales case

POMONA — The We T.I.P. Board of Directors has authorized a reward will be made at a prearranged drop point.

According to a spokesman from the Pomona Police Department, Joe Russell Kennedy, 20, of 567 Miller Ave., Pomona, was arrested in May of 1973 on suspicion of sales of marijuana. Kennedy has since been convicted of the narcotics offense in the Pomona courts.

The Pomona Police spokesman said information supplied by We T.I.P. informant GC 1127 was helpful in the investigation and the We T.I.P. Board of Directors has authorized a reward.

We T.I.P. is a citizen action program designed to supply intelligence information about the activities of suspected drug pushers to local authorities while keeping the identity of informants anonymous.

Bill Brownell, state director of We T.I.P., said that information supplied by anonymous informants has resulted in the arrest of 524 suspected drug pushers and 122 convictions. More than $4,100,000 in illegal drugs has been seized by local police as a result of the information.

Anyone having information about a suspected drug pusher is urged to call the We T.I.P. toll free state line (800-472-7785) or the local line (714-983-9611) from noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. If the information results in the arrest and conviction of a suspected drug pusher, a reward of $100 to $500 will be paid.

Panel to speed up sales of abandoned homes proposed

POMONA — Formation of a regional committee "to facilitate the sale" of abandoned houses owned by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) was proposed Monday night by Councilman Charles W. Bader.

Bader is chairman of the Valley Association of Cities (VAC) whose nine member cities together contain an estimated 1,000 abandoned houses owned by federal agencies and private lending institutions—more than 800 such units in Pomona alone.

Bader said the proposal would be submitted to VAC after a report has been received from the Pomona city staff on recommendations for implementation and on ways other cities can take action.

The problem of abandoned housing was discussed at a meeting last Friday between HUD officials and Bader; Montclair Councilman Paul Jones, vice chairman of VAC; the organization's executive director, Joseph Korpsak; and members of the Pomona city staff.

"One of our subjects of discussion was the inability of HUD to sell a house once it was boarded up and once title was transferred to the federal government," Bader told the council.

Bader said that presently, only 12 of the hundreds of houses owned by HUD in Pomona were available for sale.

"Obviously, if abandonments of HUD financed houses continue as they are, and HUD doesn't sell the houses that they already own, the number of abandoned houses will continue to increase," Bader said.

"I am persuaded that there is a demand for many of these houses. I am persuaded that many of these houses can be sold to legitimate buyers with a meaningful down payment. It is in the best interest of the citizens of Pomona, and indeed the citizens of this valley, that we help in speeding up the sale of these abandoned houses."

Bader said the committee would include representatives of the Pomona Valley Board of Realtors and the Ontario-Upland-Chino Board of Realtors, of the chambers of commerce, city staffs, VAC delegates and Korpsak.

Fault line found there

Claremont school site will be sold

By GEORGE MacLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

CLAREMONT — After receiving a report that the Sage Avenue school site sits astride a trace of the Cucamonga Fault, the school board Monday night authorized the staff to proceed with the necessary steps to sell the 10-acre elementary school site.

A representative of F. Beach Leighton and Associates was present at the school board meeting to clarify the firm's geotechnical and seismic study of the Sage Avenue site and the La Puerta Intermediate School site, both south of the Thompson Creek flood control channel.

A study was required by the state Office of Architecture and Construction before the district could proceed with construction of a lunch shelter roof at La Puerta School.

The report said that school construction on the La Puerta School site is considered feasible, provided such construction is designed to resist collapse in case of an earthquake.

The report said that school construction is not considered feasible on that portion of the Sage Avenue site located north of the Cucamonga Fault trace, but is considered feasible south of the trace provided a minimum setback of 100 feet is maintained.

District business manager Charles Abbott reported to the board that such a setback would affect adversely the district's plans for an elementary school on the site.

"Even if an architect could redesign the plans using the land available south of the setback, the engineering design required for the maximum credible earthquake would make construction costs prohibitive," Abbott said.

The Leighton official, Michael Scullin, explained to the board and the City Council at a joint workshop that the best evidence to locate fault traces is the difference in groundwater levels.

He explained that there is a difference of 200 feet depth in well water in the land on the north and south sides of the Cucamonga traces.

He estimated that the land on the north side of the trace would receive twice as much ground motion during a quake than the land on the south side.

Mayor Bertye Smith reported that the city might be interested in buying a portion of the Sage site if funds are available. She explained that the site is next to the James Higginbotham park site.

School district criticized in session on coordinator job

POMONA — Two major criticisms of the Pomona Unified School District surfaced at a special meeting Monday night for the purpose of receiving community opinion on desirable qualities in any prospective candidate for coordinator of intergroup education.

Lack of community representation on the interview committee and asserted invalid reasoning for the reassignment of the current coordinator, Mrs. Daisy L. Cook, were the major complaints voiced by the audience.

The meeting, called by Lynn Rountree, assistant superintendent of personnel services for the district, was not, in his words, intended to revolve around the question of personalities.

Members of the audience, however, gave vent to their feelings of support for Mrs. Cook and indicated they had no desire to lend credibility to the search for a new coordinator.

Mrs. Cook was reassigned to teaching duties effective next year by a unanimous vote of the Board of Education in late February. She has indicated her displeasure with this action and has reapplied for the position.

In a statement issued by Mrs. Eddiemarie Patterson, chairperson of the Pomona Valley Black Coalition, Mrs. Cook was characterized as "an integral part of our district."

Mrs. Patterson went on to say that to remove Mrs. Cook would cause some hardships since "about two years are required to begin to function."

"We want constructive change without undue chaos and confusion. Mrs. Cook has been most effective in helping us to attain these goals," said Mrs. Patterson.

There were approximately 20 people in the audience, most of whom lent their vocal support to Mrs. Patterson's statement.

Rountree refused to discuss any aspects of Mrs. Cook's reassignment with the audience, indicating that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss necessary quaities of applicants for the position.

Deaf-mute youth reacts quickly to assist woman

POMONA — Jan Ross Simpson, a 14-year-old deaf mute, helped an elderly woman in distress here by summoning emergency aid after he saw the woman lying on the sidewalk on S. Locust Street.

The woman, Marie Bickel, 70, was apparently pushed from behind by an unknown assailant and her purse was stolen Sunday.

Simpson rode his bicycle to the police department and communicated with officers by writing on a note pad. The police called the fire department who dispatched rescue units.

The young man rode on the fire truck to direct the firemen to the place where he saw the woman. Mrs. Bickel was treated at the scene but refused further medical assistance.

Electric gold mine in America's trash

A four-leaf clover is blooming on the nation's growing mountain of trash, and more and more communities are beginning to look it over.

This is the idea, which is becoming increasingly attractive and practical in these energy-and ecology-conscious days, of converting trash into power and mining it for recyclable metals and other resources.

According to the federal Environmental Protection Agency, there is enough energy in garbage and other solid wastes generated in the nation's large cities to provide the equiyalent of 150 million barrels of oil a year, or more than a quarter of the oil expected to be piped from Alaska's North Slope.

In a recent status report on programs to convert waste to energy, the agency listed these cities as having either started or seriously considering transforming trash into electricity or otherwise utilizing it:

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Washington, D.C., Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Diego, Buffalo, Rochester, Memphis, Albany, Akron, Nashville, Knoxville, Bridgeport, Conn., Brockton, Mass., and Eugene, Ore.

New York, which has created a virtual dead sea off the East Coast by years of dumping sewage sludge in the ocean, is considering a proposal by a private company to build a "resource recovery center" in its lower harbor.

First, a 225-acre island would be constructed out of garbage, and then on top of it a plant which would initially consume about 11,000 tons of garbage a day, or almost a third of the amount produced by the city. After glass, metals and other salvagable materials had been removed, the remainder would be grounded into a fuel that could be purchased by utility companies.

The most ambitious plan so far is one in St. Louis, where the Union Electric Company has announced plans to generate electrical power using essentially all of the solid waste collected in St. Louis and six adjoining Missouri and Illinois counties.

A $70-million plant, scheduled to be in operation in mid-1977, will be able to handle from 2.5 to three million tons of solid waste a year and will generate about six per cent of its power from the waste when it is shredded and mixed with coal, after separating out metals and glass.

In recoverable metals alone, the Environmental Protection Agency estimates that there is over $1 billion worth that could be mined annually from the nation's trash. Not surprisingly, that kind of money is attracting a number of well known firms into the field — Garrett Systems, Raytheon, American Can and Continental Can, Monsanto, Allis-Chalmers — all of which have developed or are developing varying waste-processing systems.

Waste conversion will not in itself be the answer to the country's long-term energy needs, of course. But even if some of the estimates that have been made as to the amount of energy available in the nation's total refuse output are exaggerated or unrelizable — seven per cent of current natural gas consumption, for example, or six per cent of electricity production — the potential power now being thrown away in our garbage is not anything to turn one's nose up at.

A misguided Watergate burglar

WASHINGTON — Long before Frank Sturgis joined the world's most celebrated burglary crew and broke into the Watergate, he was my friend.

I knew him as a soldier of fortune, a pilot and gun runner, a romantic who bloomed ill-betimed in a programmed age, an adventurer whom humdrum could never quite assimilate.

He was a Don Quixote, square jaw set against the enemy, drawn irresistibly to such calamities as the Bay of Pigs and Watergate.

We have kept in touch over the years, but he has periodically dropped out of sight,forever chasing adventure, usually finding misadventure.

Once in his youth, he confounded the odds and became part of a legend, one of the ragged few who perservered in the mountains with Fidel Castro.

After their incredible victory, he could be seen on Havana's streets in the regalia of an Air Marshal. For a time, he was Castro's man in charge of "liberated" gambling casinos and luxury hotels.

On matters of principle, having to do with Castro's repression and his turn toward Russia, Frank defected from the Revolution to become again the long-shot gambler against the house. Thereafter, he risked his neck against Castro in foredoomed ventures of the Cuban "freedom fighters."

He progressed from the Bay of Pigs to Watergate, where he thought he was seeking evidence that Castro was contributing to the George McGovern campaign.

After Frank and his friends were arrested at gunpoint inside Democratic headquarters, they were pictured in the press as figures of fun, bunglers and petty thieves.

On another level, they became caricatures of Orwellian enemies of the American system. It was even whispered that they had been behind the plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

As evidence, one group brought me a news photo taken on the streets of Dallas on assassination day. They eagerly pointed out a man they said was Sturgis lukring in the shadows. The man resembled Sturgis but definitely was not Sturgis.

And in Miami, the Justice Department solemnly charged that Sturgis had recruited mercenaries, a dirty dozen ostensibly to fight Castro but really to steal cars. The prosecutors waited until after the Watergate caper to bring the charges. when they couldn't convince the jury, they convened another jury which finally convicted Frank of transporting stolen cars to Mexico.

Frank has told me that the Watergate figure he admires most is G. Gordon Liddy who has maintained a grim, tight-lipped silence in the face of a harsh, 20-year sentence. So Sturgis, Liddy-like, sat through the auto theft trial without testifying in his own defense.

I have no persuaded him to tell his story, which I have carefully checked with the witnesses I could reach. They have confirmed most details as he related them, but there are no available witnesses to other events.

Frank has always been ready at the crook of a finger to pick up his carbine and rush off to a new adventure. It was altogether characteristic of him, therefore, to volunteer in 1968 to lead a mission for a total stranger who identified himself as Col. Francisco Quesada. The colonel sought out Sturgis to help hijack a Soviet freighter and hold it hostage for the return of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo, which the North Koreans had captured in January 1968.

Frank advertised in the newspapers and selected his dirty dozen from the toughest applicants. He gave no thought to the possibility that some of them may have applied from the wrong side of the law.

In obedience to the colonel's instructions, Frank told them only that they would participate in a mission against Castro and would be paid after the mission was completed.

He hever learned until later, he swears, that a couple of his troopers raised drinking and gambling money by leasing two cars and selling them in Mexico. Indeed, one had been sentenced to a federal penintentiary in 1966 for a similar crime.

Eventually, Frank rounded up his undisciplined band from Mexican bars and bawdy houses, loaded them aboard a fishing boat and set out for a secret rendezvous with a gunboat that he had been told would assist them with the hijacking.

But Frank's boatload of adventurers, alas, ran aground on a reef off the coast of British Honduras. Frank put eight men and all the firearms ashore on a mangrove swamp. Then he and four others made their way to Belize, British Honduras, seeking to repair the boat.

The motley mercenaries, of course, were spotted and rounded up by the British authorities, and Frank's "Mission: Impossible" ended in a Honduran jail.

They were shortly deported back to the United States and the missing autos were traced to Frank's men. Angry at Frank because they hadn't been paid for the abortive adventure, they told the authorities he had directed them to sell the leased cars.

I have always known Frank Sturgis as a man of touching sincerity, sober habits and fierce patriotism. Although misguided, he fully deserved the sentence for his role in the Watergate break-in. But the auto theft conviction, I believe, is a bum rap.

Life's elixir

This may upset a few preconceived notions about the toll of stress and competition in the business world, but a study by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. indicates that executives who reach the highest levels in the business community have the most favorable prospects of completing —or exceeding — their biblically alloted three-score and ten.

"Captains of industry," says the report, "not only live distinctly longer than white men in general, but also considerably longer than prominent business executives in general."

This conclusion was reached on the basis of a 16-year follow-up study of 1,078 corporate executives of the 500 industrial coporations ranked by Fortune magazine as having had the largest sales in 1957. (The study was limited to white men because there were very few blacks or women executives in the 500 corporations, which is another story.)

What makes top executives such good life insurance prospects?

In large measure, the statisticians believe, it reflects the physical and emotional fitness of business executives for positions of responsibility. Many of those who attain high status are able to cope with an even thrive on stressful situations by harnessing tensions for productige use.

It may well be, they add, that work satisfaction, together with public recognition of accomplishments, is an important determinant of health and longevity.

An alternative to amnesty

Amnesty is more an emotional than a legal question. It's easy to say that Americans who don't like the American way of doing things should be allowed to get out — but should have to stay out.

It's easy to say that our prodigal sons should be welcomed home because there have been many other instances in U.S. history when they were — following the Uncivil War, the War of 1812. Two years after World War II, 1,500 draft evaders were pardoned.

Now it's been a year and a half since we backed out of Indochina and thousands of Americans are still unwelcome home, some of them after as long as 10 years in self-exile. If it were put to a vote how would you vote? In a Harris survey Americans were asked, "Should we allow the draft evaders to come home?"

A year ago Americans said no, 49 per cent to 43 per cent. This year they say yes, 45 per cent to 43 per cent.

Most of those surveyed still insist that the prodigals should be required to perform some form of "national service." But opposition to unconditional amnesty has declined by 11 points.

Thus is measurable the traditional American willingness to forgive. Congress is not going to do anything about it this year. Despite the erosion of opposition to amnesty, it remains far too sensitive an issue for most campaigners.

President Nixon remains firmly and, I believe, unalterably opposed to blanket amnesty. I expect that by the next presidential election one or both party platforms may provide for conditional amnesty. It it's a close race, one or both candidates for the Presidency may embellish that offer.

Since neither this Congress nor this President is going to recommend amnesty and since even conditional amnesty appears years away, there is another option.

Come home and face the music. Most all draft evaders who return to the United States to stand trial are receiving very light, if any, sentences.

Only one-third of those prosecuted in federal court are convicted and three-fourths of those convicted are placed on probation.

It is a calculated gamble; it's up to each individual judge in each individual case. But stateside parents can talk to the U.S. attorney in the home district and get a pretty good idea of what local judges are doing about penalties.

State will miss Ivy's charm, ability

California's delightful and talented Ivy Eaker Priest will not be a candidate to succeed herself as State Treasurer. One-time Treasurer of the United States during the administration of President Dwight Eisenhower, Mrs. Priest caught the political world looking the other way when word was released she would not seek re-election.

The performance of the State Treasurer's office under Mrs. Priest's leadership has been phenomenal. So much so, coupled with her charm and grace, she was assured renomination by the Republican Party and even in this era of low esteem for the politically inclined, she undoubtedly would have won re-election barring anything short of a total Democratic landslide. California will miss its only statewide lady officeholder both for her charm and her ability—which is what public office really should be all about, but isn't very often.

It is frequently said that anyone has to be silly to hold public office, in view of the brickbats, scorn and abuse heaped upon those who do. To her credit this was not Mrs. Priest's problem. Other than taking a few cheap political shots from would-be challengers she has earned the universal respect of Democrats and Republicans alike. That she chooses to step down is a blow to California, but should not be totally unexpected. Her personal travail, with the loss of a son and a husband in a terribly short period of time, is reason enough even without weighing the responsibilities of office.

What scramble will pop to the fore with Mrs. Priest's retirement is hard to determine, but scramble there will be as is always the case. All of the political types will be trying to establish themsleves in the race if it should appear more appealing than those already being contested.

In a way it is a shame both political parties don't nominate Mrs. Priest's Deputy State Treasurer Alex Steinkamp by acclamation. Steinkamp, a career Treasury offical who has served former Treasurers Gus Johnson, Ronald Button, and Bert Betts in addition to Mrs. Priest, knows the office and its functions intimately. As Treasurer he would bring the same fresh citizen approach to the office Mrs. Priest did, and would revive the public's confidence in the game of politics. Those, however, are the things dreams are made of and citizen dreams don't come true too often politically.

Good lucky, Ivy and God bless you.

Gossip for today

Throughout our nation's history, Americans have successfully weathered many a crisis. As long ago as the 1850s we survived a whale oil shortage. During the 1930s there were shortages of almost everything, but we are still here. At the present time we seem to be surviving the gasoline and electricity shortages. — But are there no limits to the trials and tribulations to which American citizens are to be subjected? — Now it has been announced that because of the shortage of horsehide, baseball covers are being made of cowhide.

BRUCE BIOSSAT

Industrial world seeks leadership

WASHINGTON — From what I've learned from some Europeans and from Japanese leaders in recent weeks, it is clear that the realists in the free industrial world still count upon America for the critical leadership.

French Premier Pierre Messmer's recent comment, suggesting France and the United States are engaged in some kind of duel for domination of Europe, is from dreamland. Except as an anchor-drag, France doesn't figure large in the hard thinking presently going on about the free world's future.

The crucial, stable economic core of Western Europe is formed by West Germany despite Chancellor Willy Brandt's undoubted political troubles), Holland and — through its financial influence — Switzerland, this latter of course not a member of the nine-nation European Economic Community.

In these relatively stable places, for all the talk of the need for and promise of greater internal integration of the European Countires, the word is plan and simple: The United States is the big one, and must show the way.

In Japan, though leaders practice the litany of saying they should exercise more diversity in foreign policy, they make it resoundingly clear in private talks that they continue to believe America has to exhibit imaginative leadership out of an economic morass that engulfs all.

The view in the free world is virtually universal — that from the borders of Eastern Europe to the waters beyond Japan, everyone is in the same muck and mire of inflation, shortages and a generally uncertain raw materials outlook, and so on.

The confident, stable elements in this sprawling industrial community do not today worry all that much about U.S. domination. They want to get out of the mess, they recognize our size and power as something special and see American leadership as a properly inevitable consequence of it.

Their regret, naturally, is that 1973 was not the Year of Europe President Nixon promised. Deflected from that purpose by the scandals of Watergate, he, who prides himself so much upon his foreign policy achievements, caused the free world perhaps irretrievable loss.

The concern at the far end of the two great oceans is not with the morality of the Nixon regime, but with the fact that Watergate was in 1973 a distraction and in 1974 threatens the industrial nations with the unknown.

Western Europe's plight is obviously the worst. No need to dwell upon Italy's revolting chaos, Britain's enfeeblement or France's arrogant pretensions to power it does not have.

The guilding reality is that even in a community presuming to "integration," leadership must be taken. And the logical European leader is West Germany, the strongest and most consistent performer — again, notwithstanding its difficulties. But a Europe remembering Hitler has never been able to contemplate such logic realistically. West Germans, I learn from talks, are keenly attentive to their newborn good relations with stubborn France.

They feel caught, not wishing to sully these new ties, but convinced America should be scouting the way out of today's dilemmas.

Some might put Japan's utterances of reliance on our leadership as now just a generation's habit. But the Japanese are pragmatic people. They see American power as governing and are distressed at the frayed U.S.-Europe bonds.

From the stable capitals of the free world, then, eyes gaze hopefully toward the United States. What they wish is that, in the general confusion, Richard Nixon could be performing as the "foreign policy President" he thinks he is.

They are Roy O. Shackleford and Frederick G. Morton, both of whom joined the department in 1962.

He now has been assigned to Battalion 11 C, serving the Antelope Valley.

Morton was a sheriff's deputy before joining the department. He was promoted to engineer in 1965 and operated a fire department bulldozer. He was named captain in 1968.

His assignments included working at the Training Center as a training officer, and serving at fire stations in Maywood and East Los Angeles.

Morton is a graduate of Antelope High School. He has completed numerous fire science courses. He and his wife, Diane, have a daughter.

Morton has been assigned to command Battalion 7C which serves the Palos Verdes, Peninsula, Lomita, Carson and Dominguez.

Council orders destruction of old building

WALNUT — City councilmen have ordered the demolition of an abandoned building at 19939 E. Valley Blvd., between Fairway Drive and Camino de Teodora.

The structure, a former equipment rental outlet, has been the source of complaints from adjoining property owners, officials say. It has been abandoned for four years, and is "substandard."

City officials said owner Ray Smith had been told to restore the 540-square-foot building or it would be demolished, and he failed to comply.

Larry Ammon, a spokesman for the county rehabilitation department, which would raze the structure, said the building is in process of being sold, and the new owner may be given a warning prior to the demolition.

The city is contracting with the county for the work. Actual cost will be recovered by a special assessment against the property and will result in no expense to the city.

2 money-raising activities set by Walnut band

WALNUT — Walnut High School Band, in an effort to earn money to finance a trip to National City and to buy new uniforms, will sponsor two events Saturday.

Band members will conduct a paper drive from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Residents are asked to deliver their discarded newspapers to the school parking lot. Cardboard boxes and old telephone directories also will be accepted.

For those who do not have transportation, band members will provide a pickup service to those who call 525-3018, 595-6808 or 595-1008.

At 7:30 p.m. in the school gym, the band will present hypnotist Harold Gaffney of Montclair. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. They may be purchased in advance from band members or at the door.

The Walnut High Band Boosters are assisting with both events.

Concern over school vandalism leads to meet with Casa Maravilla leader

LA PUENTE — Ron Noblette of Casa Maravilla will speak at a coffee hour April 23 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Josephine Anguiano, 17808 Gemini St.

The meeting was scheduled in response to growing concern over school vandalism and the need for parent understanding of youth gangs, school administrators said.

Interested parents in the Rowland Unified School District are urged to attend. Casa Maravilla is a non-profit organization with a staff working to combat youth gangs.

The event is being sponsored by the Villacorta Elementary School where parents have established a volunteer system of driving around the school campus on weekends to make security checks.

In recent weeks there has been graffiti written in tar on brick walls at the school, the ball wall and black top have been damaged and paint has been spattered indoors.

School alarms have a direct hook-up into the Industry sheriff's Substation. Deputies said calls from parents regarding suspicious activity at the school will be answered by officers.

Officers will attend a meeting in the school cafeteria May 8 at 7:30 p.m. to explain procedure and answer questions.

Those interested in attending the April 23 coffee hour are asked to call Mrs. Gloria Serafin or Miss Alejandra Diaz at 964-8801.

MSAC will explain services at seminars

WALNUT — A series of seminars dealing with the facilities and services available at Mt. San Antonio College will be presented on four successive Tuesdays at the college's Educational Service centers in Pomona and La Puente.

Extra pitches are helping Singer

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

ANAHEIM — Most people thought Singer completed his comeback st year.

Joining the Angels after a 6-16 season with the Dodgers in 1972, the tall, righthander, won 20 games for the Halos.

He appeared to be at the top of his form Monday night at Anaheim Stadium. Facing only five over the minimum 27 batters, Singer scattered five hits, struck out seven, and didn't issue a single walk in subduing the Minnesota Twins, 8-1. The Twins' run was unearned.

"Singer really pitched himself a game tonight," enthused manager Bobby Winkles, "Seven strikeouts and no walks. That's a heck of a game!"

Singer himself was happy with the win, but revealed he still is improving.

"My curve is coming back and my changeup is getting better," he said. "I think I can add one or two pitches this year. I was turning over the fastball once in a while to lefthanded hitters."

Then came the best news of all.

"I think I'm getting closer to being the pitcher I was (with the Dodgers) in '69 and '70," he continued. "I had four pitches then."

They called him "The Singer Throwing Machine in those days and he was brilliant. The Dodgers always had good catchers and Singer feels the Angels have a top flight receiver now.

"(Ellie) Rodriguez is a super catcher," Singer stated quietly. "The guy really knows how to call a game. The plate looks big when he's behind it."

Whatever the reason, the Diamond Bar resident threw 80 strikes and only 40 balls.

His teammates supported him with a 12-hit attack that included a home run and rbi single by Joe Lahood, two hits each by Mickey Rivers, Frank Robinson, Lee Stanton, and Sandy Alomar.

Minnesota did its share by contributing six errors causing Winkles to say, "We're a running club and we keep the pressure on and that's the way we're going to play all year.

"You know I was looking at the stats today, he grinned and our opponents had made 16 errors and that was BEFORE tonight's game. If that keeps up all year we have a chance to win the pennant."

It's spring and these are the days of wine and roses around Anaheim Stadium.

LANDING A PUNCH

Alfred Gonzales of Santa Ana lands a punch on Rafael Reyes of Los Angeles in the 147-pound fight in the novice division of the South Pacific AAU Boxing Championships at L.A. County Fairgrounds.

'Sanford and son' score KO

By JIM McCONNELL
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — Fred Houpe knocked 'em out and Redd Foxx knocked 'em dead Monday night at the Southern Pacific amateur Regional AAU boxing championships held at the L.A. County Fairgrounds.

Houpe (dubbed "Young Sanford") is an impressive heavyweight sponsored by Foxx of TV fame. Both he and Foxx had a chance to show the crowd at the Fairgrounds their talents Monday.

Houpe demolished Harold Green of Riverside in his heavyweight bout, scoring a first-round knockout with a booming right hand. The 6-foot-2, 205-pound boxer will be meeting Bobby Bryant in Saturday's SPAAU finals.

Foxx, on hand to watch his fighter in action, was introduced at ringisde and, at the crowd's urging, entered the ring to take a bow.

However, instead of climbing through the ropes, the comedian of "Sanford and Son" popularity crawled on all fours under them, delighting the sparse Monday evening turnout.

Houpe proved to be much more serious once he entered the ring. The heavyweight hopeful, a student at Pepperdine University, plans to win the national AAU crown, and looked all-business in disposing of his foe in short order.

Highlighted by Houpe and the antics of Foxx, Monday's opening bouts in the SPAUU championships were a most impressive show.

The 12-card bout featured both novice and open AAU competition.

Danny Lira opened the boxing action for the evening, scoring a split decision win over Jesus Bermudez in their 139-pound novice elimination bout.

Alfred Gonzales of Santa Ana won his 147-pound novice match with Rafael Reyes by a decision, while Felix Maldenada also advanced to the 147-pound novice final by outpointing Danny Quiroz.

The Maldenada-Quiroz match developed into a real war, with non-stop action throughout before Maldenada's hand was raised as the victor.

David Wynne of National City scored a KO over Jesus Fernandez of La Mirada in a 178 novice battle. Wynne caught Fernandez coming in during third-round action and caught the La Mirada boxer with a quick combination which sent him down for the count.

In the other novice match held Monday, Bert Hunter of National City outpointed Les Anderson in a 165-pound middleweight attraction.

In the open division, competition was even keener.

Danny Aguilera and Juan Guerrero won by decision in their 112-pound bouts, setting up a possible showdown Saturday between the two boxers.

In the 119-pound open class, John Jensen and Frank Estrada, both of L.A., won their bouts to advance in the tourney.

Jenson outpointed San Diego's Frank Sandoval while Estrada scored a knockout win over Kevin O'Ryan of San Fernando when the referee stopped the bout late in the third round.

Martin Yniquez of Riverside advanced in the 139-pound open division, decisioning Tony Esparza, while Francisco Flores of Pacoima also posted a decision win in his 125-pound open battle with Al Valesquez.

Pomona boxers did not fare well in the tourney, but the reasons have nothing to do with what went on in the ring Monday.

Highly regarded 106-pounder Albert Sandoval apparently will not see any action in the regionals as tourney officials could not find opponents willing to fight the Pomona boxer.

Darrell Huntley ran into some red-tape problems Monday and his scheduled bout with Dave Mendoza had to be canceled.

The expected duel in the middleweight division also was delivered a knockout punch Monday, when it was learned that last year's SPAUU champ Tommy Brooks of San Diego has joined the U.S. Air Force and Danny Sanders of Pasadena has decided to by-pass the event due to personal problems.

Nonetheless, the action and competition are expected to be even greater Wednesday as the SPAUU event continues. Boxing will begin at 8 p.m., with the gates opening to the public at 7:30 at Fairgrounds Building 7A.

Kings face Esposito in game 5

CHICAGO (UPI) — Goalie Tony Esposito, who has shut out the Los Angeles Kings four times in nine games this season, gets the call tonight to try to put the Chicago Black Hawks into the semifinal round of the Stanley Cup playoffs for the fifth straight year.

The Hawks head into what could be the deciding game of the best of seven series with a 3-1 lead. Should Chicago win, it would open the semifinal playoff series at Boston Thursday night. Should they lose, the Hawks and Kings would meet again in Los Angeles Thursday night.

Esposito played the first three games of the series, winning by scores of 3-1, 4-1 and 1-0, before Hawks Coach Billy Reay assigned his alternate goalie, Mike Veisor, for the Sunday night game. During the regular season, Esposito blanked the Kings three times by 3-0 scores.

● KTLA (5), 5:30 p.m.

But Sunday Veisor lost for the first time in 10 games against a National Hockey League opponent because Reay wanted to give Esposito a rest.

"Four games in five nights is too much for any goalie," Reay said. "Besides I have faith in Mike."

Reay wouldn't blame Viesor for the loss since he said "our guys just about deserted him after we fell behind. Almost all the Kings goals were gifts."

Esposito worked in 70 regular season games, losing only 14 times with 34 wins and 21 ties. Combined with Veisor, he shared the Vezina Trophy with Philadelphia's Bernie Parent and Bobby Taylor. Los Angeles beat him only once with two ties in the regular season.

The Hawks will be trying to win a quarter final playoff series for the 15th straight year, while the Kings, out of the playoffs the last four seasons, have won a quarterfinal only once. The Hawks have missed the playoffs once in the last 16 years.

Hawks center Pit Martin was not expected to play, but defenseman Phil Russell, who suffered a collapsed lung in the last week of the regular season, returned Sunday and was expected to be in the lineup again.

Neither Reay nor Kings Coach Bob Pulford expected an easy game. Reay, declaring every game the Hawks won so far was "close," rated the Kings as a "tough hockey team," and Pulford said all his team needed was "a few breaks" to win and send the series back to California.

The Montreal-New York series is deadlocked at two games each following the Rangers' comeback 6-4 triumph Sunday afternoon, and the fifth game will be played at Montreal tonight.

The two other quarterfinal series were completed Sunday. The East Division champion Boston Bruins wiped out the Toronto Maple Leafs in four games and the Philadelphia Flyers, who won the West title, turned in a similar sweep against the Atlanta Flames.

In the semifinals, Boston will meet the winner of the Chicago-Los Angeles series and Philadelphia opposes the Montreal-New York survivor. If the Black Hawks win tonight, they will begin their series against the Bruins at Boston Thursday night.

Rested Bucks resume play vs. Chicago

By United Press International

The old Army game of hurry up and wait may have worn down the finely honed edge of the Milwaukee Bucks, who would love nothing better than to realize an expansion club dream of revenge against the New York Knicks.

While the Bucks are favored to beat the Chicago Bulls tonight in the start of the best-of-seven Western Conference finals, the Knicks' chances of making the title series for the third straight season was being steamrollered by the Boston Celtics in the NBA Eastern Conference playoffs.

Milwaukee won the National Basketball Association title in 1971, but many Buck players voiced that it wasn't a satisfying victory because they beat Baltimore instead of the hoped for match with New York. The Bucks seem to roll over and play dead every time they visit New York and the revenge motive was prevalent that year.

The Bucks are the most rested players among the four contenders after disposing of Los Angeles in five games. But while they gathered around TV sets to watch the outcome of the Chicago-Detroit series, the Bulls were retaining the sharp touch with constant competition in the seven-game victory over the Pistons.

The Bucks last played on April 7. They again call on Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to wear down the Bulls front line and block the lane against penetrating Chicago guards.

The Knicks come off an horrendous 113-88 beating by Boston in their opening game last Sunday, but the Celtics are wary of such laughers. Last season, Boston won the first game in a walkaway and then suffered a similar humiliation in the second game.

"I'd like to throw that first game out the window," moaned Bill Bradley, who made only 2 of 11 field goal tries.

Feurbach, Woods enter field at MSAC Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bob Lafferty, administrator of track and field for the National AAU, admitted Monday that his amateur athletic organization has "problems."

"We have to work with rules," Lafferty told the weekly meeting of the Southern California Track Writers.

"When you have rules you get trouble. But when you have rules you must abide by them."

Lafferty defended the AAU's policies in its methods of selecting athletes for foreign trips, particulary the U.S. Russian meet at Moscow this year.

"I couldn't completely agree that it wasn't a representative team that went to the Soviet Union," he said. "Some world record holders did not go.

"So many open athletes have jobs they can't leave."

Among the world record holders who did not go to Russia were high jumper Dwight Stones and shot putter Al Feuerbach. Both are members of the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, Calif. PCC coach Tom Jennings has been at odds with the AAU for three years.

Lafferty said he doubted there will be an early settlement of the lingering dispute between the AAU and the NCAA in the near future.

"There is an organization in New York with a lot of money," he said. "It is sitting on about $10 million that could be used for sports programs."

Lafferty said he was referring to the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Mike O'Hara, president of the International Track Association, said a last-minute dispute with NBC over procedures for televising Saturday's pro meet here was responsible for the 40-minute delay in getting it started.

"Our biggest harvest of athletes will come after the 1976 Olympics at Montreal," said O'Hara.

Feurbach, holder of the world outdoor record at 71-7, and George Woods, indoor record holder at 72-2 ¾, will meet in the Mt. San Antonio Relays at Walnut, Calif., April 26-28, it was announced.

University of Southern California and UCLA will oppose California and Stanford, respectively, in a Pacific-8 double dual meet at Stanford Saturday.

Long Beach State will host Occidental and Southern California College Saturday.

Lamonica ready to jump loops, sign with Sun

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Veteran Oakland Raider quarterback Daryle Lamonica apparently will sign with the World Football League today.

The Southern California Sun franchise called a news conference today for 11 a.m. while Lamonica said only Monday night that he was here for some "serious negotiating."

Lamonica reportedly will play out his option year this season and then be free to join the Sun for the 1975 season.

His package deal, including deferred payments and incentives, reportedly will be in the $1 million range and span either three or four years. He was believed to be making around $90,000 annually with the Raiders.

Dodgers remembering what Reds did last year

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Off to a 7-3 start and leading the National League West, the Los Angeles Dodgers meet the defending division champion Cincinnati Reds tonight.

Andy Messersmith, 1-0, will go for the Dodgers against Don Gullett, 0-1.

The teams meet again here Wednesday night and the Dodgers then return to Los Angeles to launch a 12-game homestand against the San Francisco Giants next Friday night.

Ron Cey, the Dodgers' regular third baseman who is off to a .389 start with 11 RBIs, said the LA players were thinking about the first meeting of the year with the Reds at Houston Sunday. The Dodgers won that game 7-2.

"All of a sudden, a lot of guys in the dugout were talking and thinking about Cincinnati," he said. "They were already psyching themselves up. The Reds embarrassed us last year and it was obvious we haven't forgotten."

The Reds won 11 of their 18 games with Los Angeles last season and caught the Dodgers in the final month of the season to win the division title.

Nets, Stars eye series sweeps

By United Press International

The New York Nets and Utah Stars have visions of a playoff sweep in their minds while Kentucky and Indiana are in desperate need of victories as both ABA division playoff sites switch to the underdogs' court Wednesday night.

Both the Nets and Stars, regular season champions in the East and West, moved ahead 2-0 in their division finals battle Monday night with victories.

New York, combining a harassing, sagging defense with a free-wheeling offense, convincingly whipped Kentucky for the second straight game. The Nets were "damn near perfect," according to Colonel Coach Babe McCarthy in the opening game victory Saturday night but they were even better Monday night when they handcuffed Kentucky's two top guns, Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore, to win 99-80.

Utah hit its last six points on free throws to beat Indiana 106-102.

Poly gridders go on public view Thursday

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

POMONA — Energetic Andy Vinci, Cal Poly's new football coach, is anxious to present his team to the public Thursday night when the Broncos put on a full scrimmage from 7 to 9 p.m. at Kellogg Field.

His team has concluded the first week of spring practice in good shape and Vinci is his usual enthusiastic self as he prepares the Broncos for the Alumni game on Saturday, May 11.

"We feel we have made considerable progress," Vinci said when discussing the first week. "We had great enthusiasm and we found out our players like to hit. We were disappointed with our intensity but that will come when we get to know each other better."

Vinci is inviting the public to take a look Thursday when he divides his current squad of 68-minus junior college transfers and some footballers involved in spring sports — into two separate teams.

"This scrimmage will help us a great deal," Vinci explained. "We'll have the chance to film it and grade the players. After all, the main purpose in spring practice is to take a look at everybody. This is a teaching time."

Thursday's scrimmage will consist of four 12-minute quarters. Poly will jump to 15-minute periods in its second game-situation workout next week.

Vinci is taking a good look at his 30 junior college transfers. Most of the competition is on the offensive line.

Players who have been impressive so far include tackles Randy Taylor of Palomar and Len Latham of Fullerton. Vinci says Vernon Smith, a tackle last year, has looked outstanding at guard while Jack Murry from Golden West is another top candidate.

Other players earning Vinci's praises include Ron Stewart and Scott Sanders in the defensive secondary, Charlie Grimes at defensive tackle and noseguard Randy Daniel.

Quarterback Jim Zorn, who topped the NCAA Divison 2 statistics with 3,000 yards, has impressed Vinci in his drive to nail down the starting assignment.

"Zorn has looked great so what else is new," Vinci exlaimed. "I have learned that Jim is a super coachable kid. He still needs to learn our new plays and how to read the secondary better but that will come."

Bob Dulich, a NCAA Division 3 All-American under Vinci last year at the University of San Diego, will be arriving next fall after completing this semester at a junior college.

"The quarterback thing is the least of our problems," Vinci said. "Bob isn't even here yet so we'll cross that situation later."

There is some speculation that Zorn, who ran for 633 yards last year, could be shifted to a tailback spot.

Poly has added another quarterback in announcing the addition of Bart Moran, who was selected the Most Valuable Player in the Del Rey League last year in leading Notre Dame High (Sherman Oaks) to a 6-2-1 record.

Mike Steinhower, the former Notre Dame coach who has joined Vinci's staff to handle the linebackers, said Moran is a super prospect. He passed for 1,400 yards and ran for 600 in his junior campaign then threw for 1,260 and rushed for 400 last year despite missing two games with an injury.

Letterman center Steve Weiss is Poly's only casualty thus far. He suffered a knee injury in a scrimmage last Friday and his status is uncertain. He is fighting to retain his starting job against Ken LaVigne, a transfer from Rio Hondo.

JACK SMITH
. . . All-Star coach

Jack Smith will coach North Stars

LA VERNE — If you think Robert E. Lee had a tough time during the United States' Civil War, you should see what Jack Smith is up against in the Pomona Valley's Civil War.

Smith, the senior head basketball coach in the valley from Claremont High, has been selected to coach the North All-Stars for the first annual Pomona Valley High School All-Star Basketball Game, which is scheduled for June 18 at Claremont High.

Smith will be drawing players from teams which compiled a losing 101-139 record this past season. Three of the teams finished last in their leagues, and only one could do as well as second place in its league.

Not only that, but the players from the 10 teams Smith has access of lack height. The Claremont High skipper figures the tallest player he'll have will stand at 6 feet, 5 inches. Meanwhile, the South Stars figure to boast a few players over the 6-6 mark.

The teams from which Smith will be drawing include Alta Loma (11-15), Bonita (5-18), Charter Oak (6-18), Claremont (20-7), Damien (4-20), Pomona (10-15), Royal Oak (18-6), San Dimas (7-15), Upland (16-12), and Webb School (4-13).

Smith is presently receiving nominations from the schools' coaches, and should come up with a roster in a matter of weeks.

"We've got some pretty good ball-handling guards in the North area," stated Smith. "But I don't see where we'll have a player taller than 6-5."

"I'll probably have to run the team just like I did at Claremont this past season," he added. "We didn't have any height, so were established a passing game. We didn't have any forwards or a center—everybody just did the same thing and played the same position."

When you consider the lack of height smith did work with during the prep basketball season and the final record of the year for Claremont (20-7), you can't help but believe Smith is the right man for the job.

"I'm happy to do it," Smith admitted. "I think it will further the interest of basketball in this area and it gives the players an opportunity to be seen by college coaches and scouts."

There was an added reason for Smith's acceptance of the job.

"I live in La Verne and I'm pleased to do something for the community in which I live," he said.

The La Verne Rotary Club is sponsoring the event, hopefully to give added emphasis and exposure in the area in high school basketball. Also, the club is sponsoring the affair in order to raise money for worthy charitable interests in the community.

Each high school coach has been invited to nominate a maximum of three players from his team. The players must be graduating seniors who are not attending college at the time of the game.

Smith will then select a tentative list of 12 players from among the nominees. The final approval of the 12-man roster for each team will be made by the Rotary Club's sponsoring committee. No high school may be represented by more than two players.

Tickets for the game will be priced at $2 for adults, and $1.50 for students (high school and under).

Leo hurler, Mountie third sacker top valley players

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — Pitcher John Verhoeven of La Verne and third baseman Kevin Bell of Mt. San Antonio College were named Players of the Week by Pomona Valley baseball coaches at the weekly luncheon at The Castaway restaurant.

Verhoeven won two games last week as the Leopards swept Arizona State and Grand Canyon College. The 6-5 righthander allowed ASU, fifth-ranked nationally in the University Division, just five hits and one run in an 8-1 victory.

Grand Canyon, ranked second nationally in the NAIA Division, got six hits off Verhoeven. But the Leo ace struck out 11. For the two games, he had 15 strikeouts and five walks.

MSAC coach Art Mazmanian is extremely high on Bell. "Of all the players I've had at Mt. SAC, Kevin is the best major league prospect I've seen," said Mazmanian. "He hits, and hits with power and has a good attitude. He has more power than anybody I've seen at Mt. SAC except Roger Freed."

In four games last week, Bell got 10 hits in 19 trips to the plate, batted in eight runs and scored four. He is hitting .374.

Quoting the coaches.

BEN HINES, LA VERNE — "We just happened to catch Arizona State at the right time. They were coming off tough games with Texas El Paso and a 6-4 loss to USC. Our pitching allowed an average of five hits a game and stopped Bump Wills.

"Wills got just two singles in three games and didn't walk once. ASU was constantly hitting balls to second and first which would have gone through if our first baseman had been holding a runner at first."

JOHN SCOLINOS, CAL POLY — "I still think we have the best-balanced pitching in the league. If we could only get more hitting and defense. (Cal State) Fullerton won two of three from SLO last week and is in the driver's seat now. We play SLO here this Friday and Saturday."

ART MAZMANIAN, MSAC — "We've won nine games in a row now although we're still making errors. I'm convinced it's our field. We don't make them away and the other teams also make two or three errors when they play here. We play Cerritos here Thursday and there Saturday. Cerritos is 25-2, the most wins in the state. We're second with a 23-5 record."

BELL WELCHER, CITRUS — "We were very happy to win the Cuesta Tournament. We thought we could win two of four. We got great hitting. Phil Doktor went 9-for-17 with nine runs batted in. He had two doubles and a home run and scored six runs. John Freedman went 9-for-17 and made three great defensive plays and batted in six runs."

JIM SCHROEDER, CHAFFEY — "We fell apart in the Fullerton tournament. We played and lost a 1 p.m. game in San Diego and then played and lost a game that night at Fullerton. It was a long grind."

Sports news in brief

GOLDEN STATE'S Cazzie Russell, Atlanta's Pete Maravich and anyone else of stature who has played out his option or is discontented with his current club will be the primary targets in Wednesday's first-ever American Basketball Association draft of National Basketball Association players. "I expect most of our clubs will draft NBA players they think then can sign," said ABA commissioner Mike Storen. "the purpose of the draft is to organize our efforts at signing the best players available. I wouldn't expect clubs to be drafting big-name stars like Kareem Abdul Jabbar, who are tied to long term contracts. We'll be after the people whose contracts are up or who have only a year or two left on them."

MASTERY OF THE BOSTON MARATHON has returned to Europe with a machine-like performance by a young Irish runner who could figure prominently in international track. Neil Cusack, a slim, brown-haired Limirick native who attends East Tennessee State College, took a commanding lead Monday early in the 26-mile, 285-yard race, and maintained it with the aid of a slight tail wind and despite a brutal stretch of pavement known as Heartbreak Hill to win in the near-record time of 2:13.39.

THE CINCINNATI Bengals are victims of the World Football League's latest coup and head coach Paul Brown is angry. The Bengals disclosed late Monday that their star linebacker, Bill Bergey, was jumping the National Football League to play for the Virginia Ambassadors of the WFL. But Bergey, an aggressive hard-hitter who along with tackle Mike Reid anchors the Bengals' defense, already is under contract to the Bengals for this season and must play out his option here in 1975 before joining the WFL in 1976.

THE NEW YORK STARS of the New World Football League announced Monday the signing of former New Orleans Saints Jim Ford and D'Artagnan Martin. Ford, a 24-year-old running back, played two seasons with the Saints before sitting out last season with an injury. Martin, started all 14 games in the Saints' defensive secondary as a rookie in 1971, but has not played the last two seasons.

FOUR VETERAN DRIVERS, among them former winners A. J. Foyt and Gordon Johncock, were assured of cars today in the million-dollar Indianapolis "500", with the number of entries at 44. Speedway officials believed at least 20 more entries were in the mail.

Stakes race opens week

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The second week of the Hollywood Park meeting will be kicked off by the $22,650 Debonair Stakes Wednesday.

Eight 3-year-olds are scheduled to go to the post in the six-furlong dash, which is limited to thoroughbreds which have never won a $10,000 purse.

The Debonair is the second of 15 added-money events for sophomores on the Hollywood Park stakes agenda, a schedule which will be highlighted by a pair of $100,000 races, the new Swaps Stakes June 30 and the Hollywood Derby July 14.

Blue Eyed Davy, a consistent son of Viking Spirit which already has proved his liking for Hollywood Park's main track, is expected to be the favorite at post time.

Howard Grant rode Blue Eyed Davy to a four-length victory here last week and will be up on him again.

Also in the field are Sue Canyon, Little Ify, Shirley's Champion, Miradero, Ride Off, Buck Price and Sawtooth.

Little Ify and Miradero, with Don Pierce and Fernando Toro up, respectively, have been assigned high weight of 122 pounds each. Blue Eyed Davy will carry 119 pounds.

Owl golfers enjoy rout

SAN DIEGO — Citrus College captured its third straight golf league win Monday afternoon with a 47-7 rout of San Diego.

The Owls, now 10-3 on the season and 5-1 in Mission League play, had low medalist Art Butler fire a one-over par 73.

Don Wells was two strokes back at 75, for the Owls, while teammate Don Kramer finished at four-over-par 76.

Citrus, currently tied with San Bernardino (who have finished its league season at 6-1) for the lead, play conclude its campaign hosting Southwestern Monday, April 22.

An Owl win over Southwestern would force a playoff with San Berdoo, a victim to Citrus earlier in the season.

Claremont, Azusa manage to split long doubleheader

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

CLAREMONT — If Claremont-Mudd or Azusa Pacific had been playing any mediocre college team, any fair junior college team, or any good high school squad, they both would have absorbed two losses Monday.

Fortunately, for each school, they were playing each other and managed to come away from the long afternoon on the Stags field with only a single setback apiece.

Ausa took the first game 11-5 behind the pitching of third baseman Ted Dominguez and a 15-hit attack by the Cougars. Dominguez helped himself the most with three hits, including a double. Claremont bounced back in the nightcap, 14-13.

Mike Jones got the day underway by blasting a lead-off homer off Stag starter Brad Rehn and the Cougars went on to score three more times.

Claremont then tied it up in the fourth as Andy Roundtree followed three singles with a grand slam home run to left. But that was the last hurrah for CMC in the opener.

In the closer, the Stags started quickly by scoring six runs in the bottom of the first. The main attack was provided by Azusa's gloves and arms which donated four errors.

All of Claremont's runs were unearned but the Stags proved to be generous hosts by turning around in the top of the second and serving up seven unearned tallies to the Cougars.

Chuck Van Schoych, who had an unusual 0-5 performance in the first game, rapped a three-run homer in the second after Dominguez had driven in two with a bases-loaded ground rule double. Van Schoych added another roundtripper in the seventh while Dominguez connected on his second two-run double in the eighth.

The teams bumbled evenly throughout the remainder of the game with Azusa taking a 13-11 lead into the bottom of the ninth—thanks to five Stag errors and 13 walks from CMC pitchers.

But in the ninth, Steve Lopez, who homered earlier, started off with a single. One out later, Azusa reliever John Tully lost his control completely and walked three men, forcing Cougar coach Tom Nelson to bring in Dominguez from short, where he had replaced Tully (it was a long afternoon).

Dominguez showed that he really is a third baseman and not a pitcher by walking in the tying run on four consecutive pitches. When he finally did throw a strike, Brad Koppel spanked the ball up the middle and Roundtree came home with the winning run.

Azusa, which had a five-game winning streak snapped in the second game, bounced right back today by hosting Point Loma while Claremont returns to the SCIAC wars Wednesday against Pomona-Pitzer.

Rowland High hosts prep gymnastics meet

ROWLAND — Westminster, ranked No. 1 in CIF and undefeated in dual meet competition, is favored to capture the Rowland High Invitational Gymnastics Tournament Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Raider gym.

The runnerup position appears to be a battle between Arroyo, South Hills and host Rowland. Other entries include Edgewood, West Covina, Long Beach Milliken, Anaheim, Mark Keppel, San Gabriel and Antelope Valley.

Each team will enter three individuals per event with medals awarded to the top three teams in each of the six (floor exercise, vaulting, pommel horse, horizontal bars, parallel bars and rings) events.

Team trophies will be awarded to the top two teams.

Claremont golf team wins 8th dual match

CHINO — Claremont High, fresh from first place golf finishes in tournament play over the holidays, notched its eighth straight dual meet win Monday afternoon with a 386-424 victory over Quartz Hill at the Western Hills Country Club.

The Wolfpack, who brought home 11 trophies for their vacation toil, were paced by Claye Atcheson, who shot a one-under-part 71 to earn low medalist of the day.

Frank Sowin and Mike Bicker, also of Claremont, were next at 76 and 77, respectively.

Three duffers, two from Quartz Hills, finished at 79. The QH finishers were Scott Thompson and Ray Munoz while Claremont's Chuck Rosin checked in at seven-over-par.

The Pack, 8-0 on the season and 4-0 in San Antonio League play, tackle Alta Loma (4-1) Wednesday.

Claremont downed the Braves 191-212 in their first round league play.

Andy Capps take first

CLAREMONT — The Andy Capps squeezed by the Pumpkins 1-0 on Mike Parish's goal to regain first place in the Pomona Valley Soccer League.

The Pumkins, who fell to second with the defeat, played a tough aggressive game but could never crack the Andy Capps' tough defense.

In other PVSL action, the Studs defeated the Buzzards 1-0, and the Bulls demolished the helpless Lambs 7-1.

Rick Seriani paced the Bulls attack with two goals and two assists. Claude Lieatoud also chipped in with a pair of goals.

In the fight for the cellar, the Buzzards and the Smears are deadlocked with identical 0-4-2 marks.

The league will take this week off with play resuming in two weeks. When play does resume, there will be an all-important clash between the Pumkins and the Lambs.

Defense like dear old aunt

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North and South reached their heart game by means of the classic bidding method called, "Poppa-Momma."

The contract was a fairly good one, but it made because East played the defense like dear old Aunt Emma.

	NORTH ♠ A Q 7 2 ♥ 10 8 4 2 ♦ 9 7 ♣ 8 6 3	16

Opening lead—♦Q

South was delighted with the diamond opening since it eliminated the necessity of hunting for the enemy ace. He won the second trick with his king and saw that in all probability he would need a successful spade finesse to make his contract.

Then he led his king of trumps. East won with the ace and led a trump back. South won in his own hand and played his ace of clubs. The he ruffed his last diamond and led a club from dummy.

The dear old Aunt Emma type sitting East had been paying no attention to the play and followed with her last low club. Now South put up his kind and led his last club.

East won with the queen and South had the rest of the tricks since East had to lead a diamond to give a ruff and discard, or a spade away from his king.

L.A. weekend leaves 5 dead

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An unknown assailant shot and killed a 24-year-old Los Angeles man Saturday night.

Police said they had no suspect or motive for the death of James Calvin Boyce, whose body was discovered beside his car in an alley.

Authorities said Boyce apparently ran from his car down the alley, and was shot in the back as he tried to escape his killer by scaling an eight-foot wire fence.

Four other men were also killed during the weekend, police reported.

James Amos, 22, Los Angeles, was visiting friends when he began arguing with Dalton Roe, 28, Sunday morning. Police said Roe, who is confined to a wheelchair, grabbed a shotgun and fired once at Amos, killing him instantly.

A Pasadena man was stabbed to death by his wife in their home Saturday night. Police said Mary Jane Goodman, 36, was booked on suspicion of murder in connection with the death of her 38-year-old husband, Kenneth.

An 18-year-old Compton Youth, Claude Randolph, was shot to death by a 15-year-old youth during a qurrel over a girl. Police said the 15-year-old was booked on suspicion of murder.

Battle looms over 2nd rock concert

By TONY AULT
P-B Staff Writer

ONTARIO — The April 6 "California Jam" at the Ontario Motor Speedway has been heraled as the greatest concert show ever staged in the state by its promoters and young concert-goers.

But, to others who were there—firemen, policemen, county coroners, doctors and nurses it was the nearest thing to potential disaster ever to hit Ontario and the surrounding communities.

All the elements of mass trouble and chaos were evident—a huge crowd of perhaps 200,000 packed within a 2½ mile racing oval, steadily rising temperatures, a lack of water and sanitary facilities, a large number of individuals intoxicated on drugs or alcohol, and the inability of safety personnel to react to emergency situations rapidly.

"Under normal crowd conditions we expected to have at least eight to 10 deaths," said San Bernardino County Coroner Bill Hill.

"We were preapred to close the freeway (Interstate 10) down from Etiwanda to Archibald Avenue, letting no one in and letting anyone out," said Capt. W. C. Jones, commander of the Claremont California Highway Patrol Office, commenting on the traffic aspects.

"It was a traffic nightmare. It was chaotic. It had tremendous potential for many being being hurt on the freeways.

"I could see from our helicopter they (the fans) lacked sanitation facilities. I saw 50 to 75 people urinating against a fence."

He expressed disbelief that another rock concert was planned. "I can't believe it. We were so fortunate the last time. . . .If it bleeds over on the freeway. I'm hesitant to accept this."

Since the first groups of rock fans converged on the "Big O," opposition to the sanctioning of any future concerts has been growing in the city. Tonight the Ontario City Council will hear a request for approval of yet another concert, possibly larger than the "California Jam," by Cornucopia Productions from New York, to be presented on July 6. Also at the meeting the council will review a petition opposing any further concerts at OMS filed by a small group of residents.

During the concert, the medical aid tent was filled with injured and ill fan, cut and bruised from falls and broken glass, and overdosed on drugs ranging from marijuana to heroin, according to preliminary reports. The reports indicate that 424 persons were given medical aid, with 236 seriously injured or sick, mostly because of drug abuse. Three people were sent to the San Bernardino County Hospital for ereatment and one almost died. Eight thousand others were given aspirin.

The fire department reported it made 12 emergency runs with three firemen injured. Numerous fires were started in the infield with firemen unable to reach them because of the closely packed crowd.

Ontario police reported they made 23 arrests for offenses ranging from drunkeness to assault with a deadly weapon against a peace officer, with more than 50 crimes reported, not including three reported rapes on juvenile girls, and several streaking and nudity incidents.

The California Highway Patrol patroling the freeways towed away nearly 700 cars, moved a number of early rock fans from camping on a freeway on ramp and investigated 11 accidents with three injuries.

Contractors working on the new Guasti Park, two miles west of the stadium reported groups of rock fans tore down fences, tromped over newly planted grass and littered restrooms.

Residents three miles west of the track reported cars blocking their driveways with some rock fans breaking into their cars and syphoning off their gas, and using their carports and garages as restrooms.

Capt. Edward Noon of the West End Sheriffs substation said the rock concerts are "a moratorium on crime." He added that every time a law enforcement agency handles a huge crowd like the one at the OMS concert, "it is always a calculated risk."

SURVIVES BURIAL IN SAND

Buried in sand for half an hour after a cave-in, Steve Seely, 24, a worker at the Mobil Premix Concrete firm in Denver, holds onto an oxygen mask as firemen work to free him. A hooded garment which Seely wore apparently prevented him from smothering, according to the Denver Fire Department.

Wanted as material witness

Warrant out for Hearst girl after robbery of S.F. bank by SLA group

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI today sought Patricia Hearst as one of four rifle-toting women who held up a San Francisco bank Monday, shot two bystanders and escaped with more than $10,000.

Authorities said the 20-year-old kidnap victim may have been forced to participate against her will.

Miss Hearst was identified in pictures taken by a hidden bank camera. Kidnaped 10 weeks ago by the Symbionese Liberation Army, Miss Hearst, in a tape-recorded message, renounced her parents and her former life 13 days ago and said she was joining forces with her captors. She said she has changed her name to "Tania."

A warrant was issued for Miss Hearst, granddaughter of famed newspaper founder William Randolph Hearst, as a material witness in the robbery.

"She may have been acting under duress and coercion," said FBI Special Agent in charge, Charles W. Bates, in explaining why she was sought as a material witness instead of a participant. Three other women were named as suspects, and police said five men apparently also were involved —four of them waiting outside in two getaway cars.

Bates said if it were determined that Miss Hearst was a willing participant, she also would be charged with bank robbery.

The robbery took place shortly after the 9 a.m. opening of a Hibernia Bank branch in San Francisco's oceanside Sunset District. The four women — all young and white, wearing dark coats and 'waffle-stomper" type boots and carrying semi-automatic rifles —and a man entered the bank with military-like precision, scooped $10,690 from cash drawers after ordering patrons and employes to lie on the floor, then fled through the front door, firing at passersby.

Two men were seriously wounded, but both were reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital. They were Peter Markoff, 59, who operates a nearby liquor store, and Eugene Brennan, 70, who lives near the scene.

A hidden camera in the bank took several dramatic photographs of the gun-wielding robbers, including one showing the woman identified as Patricia carrying a gun but with another of the robbers appearing to be holding a gun on her.

It was because of this picture, plus apparent efforts by the robbers to go out of their way to identify her as "Tania," that authorities speculated she was forced to take part.

"There's reason to believe she was not a willing partner in the kidnaping or the bank robbery," said U.S. Attorney James Browning.

The three women named in bank robbery warrants were Nancy Ling Perry, Patricia Michelle Soltysik and Camilla Catherine Hall, all believed previously to be members of the tiny SLA which claimed responsibility for the Hearst kidnaping and the slaying last November of Oakland Schools Suprintendent Marcus Foster.

None of the men was identified.

The bank robbery was yet another bizarre development in a case which U.S. Attorney Browning calls unprecedented.

"There's never been another case in the annals of legal history where the victim of a kidnaping has turned up in the middle of a robbery," he told newsmen.

The appearance of Miss Hearst on the film allayed fears that she might be dead, for while her voice had been heard on a tape recording as recently as 13 days ago, she had not been seen since the night of Feb. 4 when she was carried screaming from her apartment near the University of California campus in Berkeley.

In the tape received April 3 by two FM radio stations, Miss Hearst called her father a "liar," said she could not return to her former life as a college coed, and said she would remain and fight with the SLA.

In Detroit

3 young women bound, executed

DETROIT (UPI) — Three young women were killed early today in what police called execution-like slayings at an apartment complex.

The bodies were found by police after residents in the Town Square apartment building reported gunfire on the building's second floor. Police found the bodies of the women, who were in their late teens and early '20s, lying on the bedroom floor with their hands tied behind their backs and single bullet wounds in their heads.

Police said a fourth person, a male, apparently escaped the execution by jumping from the second story window despite having his hands bound. Authorities said the 19-year-old man suffered minor injuries but did not require hospitalization.

Police said there was no apparent motive for the shootings and would not release the names of the victims.

Ford: I'll serve as middleman

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford said Monday he is willing to serve as middleman between President Nixon and the House Judiciary Committee, which is investigating the President's possible impeachment.

Ford said he thinks "chances are 50-50" now that the committee will approve a resolution calling for the House to impeach, or indict, the President.

Talking with reporters as he began a week-long vacation, Ford said "I am available in any way I can be to serve in a responsible way" in negotiating the conflict with the White House over what presidential tapes and other evidence will be turned over to the committee.

He tried to head off the committee subpoena for presidential tapes last week, he said, but "time ran out on us." He said he had tried to get presidential adviser Dean Burch and lawyer James D. St. Clair to come up with "something specific" as a counteroffer to the committee's demands.

Children roll eggs on lawn of W.H.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of children tossed Frisbies, rolled on the ground and gleefully enjoyed a beautiful spring day Monday at the annual White House Easter Egg Roll.

The costumes ranged from bunny suits and Easter finery to playclothes.

The egg roll, dating back to the 1800s, took on a new look this year. In the past, it has been conducted haphazardly, but this year a determined effort was made to be organized and competitive.

Doesn't make 'cents'

Hoarding pennies has Treasury in a dither

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hoarding pennies as a hedge against rising copper prices appears to be catching on as a get-rich-quick scheme, and it's got Treasury officials in a dither.

Shoe boxes, cookie jars and piggy banks are fattening up on the copper coins and the government's money machines are hard pressed to keep up with the demand.

Twenty-two billion pennies have dropped out of circulation in the past 15 years. In the first three months of 1974 alone, the nation's monetary system ordered 2 billion more pennies, more than twice the amount as in the same period last year.

The problem is so serious that Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz Monday signed regulations prohibiting the export or melting of pennies and ordered the U.S. Secret Service to enforce the law.

According to Mary Brooks, director of the mint, there don't appear to be any "big time operators" behind the disappearing coins —just a lot of average citizens hoping for a windfall if copper prices continue to rise and the government decides to switch to aluminum pennies.

The penny pinchers are in for a disappointment on both counts, she says.

For example, should the price of copper rise to $1.50 a pound (it's now about $1.20 a pound), it would take 240,000 pennies, melted down, to furnish $100 worth of copper.

"It's pretty ridiculous to be hoarding pennies for the copper content," Mrs. Brocks says.

And don't plan on cooking up a do-it-yourself smelting operation on the kitchen stove or in the barkyard, Mrs. Brooks warns. That technique was popular with silver hoarders before the government eliminated the silver content in U.S. coins.

But copper penny smelting requires much higher temperatures plus techniques to separate the 95 per cent copper in each penny from the 5 per cent zinc.

Mrs. Brooks also says she abandoned the idea of lightweight aluminum pennies after the vending machine industry complained that it would "jimmy their machines."

So copper pennies —34 billion are currently in circulation — will be around for a long while although Mrs. Brooks says she might ask Congress to lower the copper content from 95 to 70 per cent if hoarding continues.

"We haven't really got a shortage of pennies in this country," she says. "We can keep up with the demand but it's ridiculous to use up the nation's copper this way ...

"People are just senselessly storing them away like squirrels. It just doesn't make sense."

If there's a villain in the picture, it's the banks, according to Mrs. Brooks. She wants banks to encourage depositors to bring in their pennies but the thought of busy tellers dutifully sorting hundreds of copper coins has left bankers cold.

"I haven't been getting any cooperation from the banking fraternity," Mrs. Brooks said.

Mrs. Hearst can't believe her daughter took part in robbery

LA PAZ, Mexico (UPI) — The mother of Patricia Hearst said today she cannot believe her daughter took part in the $10,000 holdup of a San Francisco bank.

"I'm so upset I can't talk to you," Mrs. Randolph Hearst said. "We just heard it over the radio. It's so bizarre. I can't believe it. Please leave us alone."

The FBI said Miss Hearst was being sought as a material witness in connection with Monday's holdup of a branch of the Hibernia Bank. Two bystanders were shot during the robbery.

Earlier, Miss Hearst's mother, Catherine, said she and her husband "were still as convinced as ever that our daughter has not been converted to the revolutionary philosophy that those terrorists represent."

She added, however, "We don't know anything at all about the techniques involved in brainwashing. That's something highly professional in the field of psychiatry, I believe."

Mrs. Hearst was in Las Cruces with her husband, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner; two other daughters, a son-in-law and a grandson.

The Hearsts were expected to return soon to their home in Hillsborough, Calif.

Voting is light in Pomona's special city council election

POMONA — A light voting trend was indicated at mid-morning for today's special city election in which one woman and two men are vying for an unexpired, City Council term from the First District.

The turnout at six precincts which account for some 5,700 of the city's total voter registration of 32,043 averaged to slightly more than 3 per cent three hours after the polling places opened at 7 a.m.

The highest turnout of 58 of an estimated 1,000 voters then was at Precinct No. 7 polling place in the Ganehsa Park Building, which is within the First District, or northwest Pomona. The poorest showing — 10 persons voting out of about 900—was at the Precinct No. 27 polling place, 2408 Virgina Ave., in southeast Pomona.

Candidates are Mrs. Georgia Grove, Thomas Fisher Hughes and Carl E. Jackson.

City Clerk Larry Thomas had predicted a turnout of 20 per cent. A minor city charter change is also on the ballot. Polling places close at 8 p.m.

Readers may obtain election returns by calling the Progress-Bulletin between 9 and 11 tonight at 622-1201.

Unlikely suspects in San Francisco bank robbery

BANK ROBBERY TEAM

Hibernia Bank camera shows photos of three of the women who robbed the San Francisco bank Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A prison reformer, a one-time social worker and a former topless dancer may seem like unlikely suspects, but they are wanted for the robbery of a San Francisco bank Monday as female members of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

The best known of the trio is Nancy Ling Perry, 26, a former dancer in San Francisco's North Beach who once campaigned for Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential election campaign.

The others are Patricia Soltysik and Camilla Christine Hall.

Missing newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst has also been identified from photos taken during the robbery but the FBI says it is only seeking her as a material witness until it can be determined whether she participated in the robbery willingly or unwillingly.

The FBI today circulated pictures of the SLA trio and copies of the bank robbery warrants for their arrest.

Miss Perry, known in the SLA as "Fahizah," drew attention to herself recently as the writer of a ramlbing essay on the terrorist group's aims. It was one of several communiques to the parents of the abducted Miss Hearst.

In her essay, Miss Perry reviewed her transition from conservative junior high school cheerleader in Santa Rosa to SLA "soldier."

She is also wanted in Contra Costa County, across the bay from San Francisco, in connection with an attempt to burn down a house used as an SLA headquarters. Police found volumes of SLA literature in the house last January, shortly after two other SLA members, Joseph Remiro and Russell Little, were arrested nearby on murder charges in the assassination of Oakland School Superintendent Dr. Marcus A. Foster.

Miss Perry was living in the house under the name, "Nancy Devoto," one of the aliases attributed to her by friends after she became "political." Her SLA affiliation was preceded by sporadic studies at the University of California at Berkeley and a broken marriage.

The oldest of the three SLA women is Camilla Christine Hall, 29, a 1967 graduate of the University of Minnesota and a social worker for three years in Minneapolis. Miss Hall moved into an apartment near the University of California campus in 1972. She disappeared suddenly in February, taking her treasured Siamese cat but leaving furniture behind. A neighbor said she was "good friends" with Patricia Soltysik, 24, known as a prison reformer and a militant feminist.

The San Francisco Chronicle quoted the neighbor as saying, "I heard they were very active in the Gay Liberation Movement."

Miss Soltysik reportedly wrote the outline for the SLA — a romantic vision of a "new world system" accomplished through guerrilla warfare.

A native of Goleta, Calif., she reportedly had her first name legally changed to "Mismoon" after becoming entranced with the name given her in a poem from a friend.

She was a student at the University of California in Berkeley between the autumn of 1968 and the summer of 1971. She was known as intelligent and a quick learner.

Miss Soltysik worked as a part-time janitor at the Berkeley Public Library and later reportedly became a close friend of SLA "Field Marshall" Cinque, who has been identified as Donald D. DeFreeze, an escaped convict.

Kissinger opens 'new dialogue' in Americas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger conferred today with foreign ministers of Argentina and Brazil to lay the groundwork for a meeting Wednesday of Latin American nations.

As part of his announced effort to open "a new dialogue" in the Americas, Kissinger arranged separate sessions with Argentina's Alberto J. Vignes and Brazel's Antonio F. Azeredo da Silviera in advance of a session of the Organization of American States (OAS).

The conference was a sequel to this year's Mexico City foreign ministers' meeting, which led to an agreement on the need for more hemispheric talks.

The ministers go to Atlanta for further sessions later in the week.

In an address to the U.N. General Assembly Monday, Kissinger said the United States would make a major effort to promote world economic development.

In his six-point plan before the United Nations, Kissinger proposed expanding the world energy supply at a fair price, stabilizing the cycles of surplus and shortages of raw materials, balancing food production with population growth, employing technology to achieve abundance and stabilizing world trade.

He warned, however' that arbitrary price hikes of raw materials would produce "global inflation followed by global recession from which no nation could escape."

In his New York hotel suite, Kissinger discussed Syrian-Israeli troop withdrawals with Morrocan Foreign Minister Ahmed Taib Benhima, diplomatic sources said.

Kissinger also met with Yugoslav Vice President Milos Minic and India's External Affairs Minister Swaran Singh, and Turkey's Foreign Minister Turan Gunes

At night, Kissinger and his bride of two weeks, the former Nancy Maginnes, dined in the hotel suite of Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi and his wife.

A State Department spokesman described the meeting as a social affair, with only the two couples present.

The spokesman had no comment on Fahmi's warning at the United Nations of large-scale fighting between Israel and Egypt if the war of attrition along the Golan Heights continues.

Battle looms over 2nd rock concert...

Al Vande Steeg, president of the Ontario Police Officers Association said many officers in the association are opposed to having further rock concerts. He said a statement from the association will be issued soon, along with a statement from Ontario Police Chief Lee Kolbreck.

Ontario resident Fred Rosenveldt, who lives on Rosewood Lane near Vineyard, said he and a group of his neighbors have filed a petition with the City Council criticizing the OMS operations and asking the council to close the area to all except the local residents during rock concerts or motor races.

Rosenveldt in a telephone interview criticized the city council and police department for permitting the activity at the speedway.

"These creeps, and I hate to call them that (referring to some of the rock fans), came our way. They used our carport as their bathroom . . . blocked our driveways with their cars and damaged or syphoned gas from our neighbors' cars.

"It's ridiculous for our police department and council to keep a low profile in these situations. Isn't that just condoning crime?"

Chief Kolbreck, whose police department was primarily responsible for the safety and security at the concert defended the "low profile" stance of his department.

He said his officers were told, "Make an arrest of any law violator — if it could be done with safety." He said the low profile stance was not uncommon. He said the officer should always back off until he can safely make an arrest without endangering innocent bystanders or himself.

Kolbreck said that he could not comment on the last concert until all the other law enforcement agencies participating in the safety and security efforts turned in their reports and statistics. He said when the reports are all in, possibly by next week, he will have them critiqued and make a recommendation to the city council.

Ontario City Manager Ken Hunter said he did not have all the information as yet needed to make a recommendation to the council, but Mayor Paul Treadway has asked Hunter and Chief Kolbreck for a preliminary report for tonight's city council meeting.

'Youngest' ready for Atlantic crossing

WICKFORD, R.I. (UPI) — Bob Gainer launched his 22-foot sailboat "Hitchhiker" on a trial run Monday and began final preparations for his June 29 effort to become the youngest person to cross the Atlantic alone. He is 21.

"It'll be the biggest thing I've ever done," Gainer said. He plans to aim for England, following the route Robert Manry used in his celebrated transatlantic voyage on the 13-foot Tinkerbelle almost 10 years ago.

"If the weather is good, I'll make it in 35 days. If I'm lucky it'll take 45 days, and if I'm enjoying myself —about 50 days," he said.

Can't deny compensation for pregnancy, judge rules

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Employers cannot deny sickness compensation to women for pregnancies or pregnancy-related disabilities, U.S. District Court Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. ruled Monday.

The ruling came in a class action suit filed three years ago by three women employes of the General Electric plant at Salem, Va.

The judge ruled GE had been guilty of "deliberate and intentional" volations of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by denying female employes sickness benefits for pregnancy or pregnancy-related disabilities.

The suit was filed on behalf of about 100,000 women employes at GE and seeks compensation for as many as 5,500 GE employes who were denied compensation for pregnancy since Sept. 14, 1971. No monetary awards were determined Monday.

Merhige overruled defense arguments that pregnancy was a voluntary condition, and that its inclusion under sickness benefits would cost the firm up to $1 billion a year.

Merhige said the voluntary aspect of pregnancy was meaningless, particularly in light of the company policy to grant sickness and accident benefits to male employes for alcoholism, drug addiction, sterilization or plastic surgery.

Under GE's interpretation of the sickness provision, women would have to "forego the right and privilege of the natural state" of pregnancy "if they wish to avoid a total loss of income," he said.

"There is no rational distinction to be drawn between pregnancy-related disabilities and a disability arising from any other cause," Merhige ruled.

Controls off food prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Cost of Living Council (CLC) has ended 2 ½ years of wage and price regulation in the food industry, but government and industry spokesmen say the action won't affect supprmarket prices.

The council Monday removed wage-price controls from 2.5 million workers and 330,000 firms in the food industry nationwide.

The action allows food wholesalers and retailers to boost prices in order to increase their profit margins. Under the controls they could raise prices only to pass along increases in costs.

The controls would have been lifted soon anyway. The CLC and the remaining wage-price control program —now covering only steel and copper —go out of business April 30, unless Congress intervenes with last-minute legislation to control a few inflaton-prone industries.

Lifting the food controls will have "almost no effect" on consumer food prices, Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, told UPI.

W.W.I. hero finally gets his medals

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UPI) — Ernest A. Sheer, 77, a World War I hero who never got his American medals, left his nursing home Monday to enter the Court of Patriots at the Rock Island Arsenal and receive the Silver Star, the nation's No. 3 military honor.

"I'm not much of a talker," he said. "I'm just glad to be here . . . Thanks."

Sheer received the Croix de Guerre with Palm —France's highest military decoration — soon after he and two comrades seized an enemy machine gun nest and captured 47 Germans and several pieces of equipment on Aug. 31, 1918. He was told by an officer of his unit that he had been recommended for the second-highest U.S. military medal —the Distinguished Service Cross. But he never got it.

Later, he read in a history of his division that he had been awarded the DSC. The Pentagon said it has no record of the recommendation, although it acknowledged that some records from Sheer's unit had been lost.

Six years ago, a friend of Sheer's, Mrs. Shirley Barrett of Rock Island, determined to find out why Sheer's own country had never decorated him for gallantry in action. George Nicholas, a local officer of the Disabled American Veterans, also took up the fight.

Army officials, with no record of the DSC recommendation, re-evaluated Sheer's achievements and awarded the Silver Star —now 56 years after the fact.

"I still would have liked to see the other one (the DSC) given," Mrs. Barrett said. "That is still the one the man is listed for."

Sheer was not concerned with such matters. With the help of a cane, he walked slowly, but proudly, into the Court of Patriots for the presentation—a place only entered by men who have been cited for gallantry in action.

"Along toward evening every day on the front I'd always be laying after we'd get our objective in the afternoon," he said. "And I'd lay there in the shell hole and watch the sun go down and say, 'Will I see her go down tomorrow night?"

Maj. Gen. John C. Raaen Jr., pinned the medal on Sheer.

"The Army likes to remember its heroes," he said. "Sometimes we do it right away but sometimes it takes a little time to remember."

Nixon nominees

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI — President Nixon Monday nominated Dallas lawyer Robert W. Porter to be a U.S. district judge for the northern district of Texas.

Nixon at the same time nominated Max E. Wilson of Ashville, N.C., to serve a four-year term as U.S. marshal for the western district of North Carolina.

Porter, 47, is a partner in the Dallas law firm of Thompson, Coe, Cousins, Irons and Porter. He was chosen to succeed Leo Brewster, who retired from the bench last November.

Wigson, 45, is the owner and manager of an automobile repair business in Asheville and would succeed Seibert W. Lockman, who resigned as U.S. marshal last month.

Mom sentenced for delinquency of two children

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Joyce Hayes, the first person to be convicted under a plan to make parents responsible for the delinquency of their truant children, was sentenced Monday to two years' probation with many conditions—including a requirement she make the children go to school.

Mrs. Hayes was found guilty March 13 of two counts of violating Education Code requirements for compulsory education and two counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Authorities said Mrs. Hayes' daughters, aged 12 and 13, had been under investigation eight times between July and November last year in connection with crimes including disturbing the peace, battery, assault with a deadly weapon and grand theft.

Judge James F. Nelson ordered Mrs. Hayes to write a monthly letter to the schools of her two daughters, listing any absences and the reasons.

She was also ordered to appear in court Nov. 20 to report on her daughters' status in school. Nelson said Mrs. Hayes faces a possible sentence of two years in jail if she does not conform to the conditions.

Actor is guilty

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor and comedian Richard Pryor will be sentenced in federal court May 6 on a charge of failure to file an income tax return for the year 1967.

Pryor, who costarred with Diana Ross in "Lady Sings the Blues," had originally pleaded innocent to four counts of failing to file tax returns for the four years 1967 through 1970, a period during which he made $250,000 the Internal Revenue Service charged. Following plea bargaining, he appeared before U.S. District Judge Manuel Real Monday and changed his plea to guilty on one count. Charges for the other three years are expected to be dropped when Pryor is sentenced. He could receive up to one year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Kennedy in Europe

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI)—Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., arrived Monday to begin a fact-finding swing through eastern Europe.

Diplomatic sources said he probably would meet President Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Manea Manescu today although no official schedule was released for the 24-hour visit.

Kennedy and his wife are scheduled to continue their tour today by flying to neighboring Yugoslavia for two days and talks with President Tito.

Pleads innocent

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Ike Turner, of the soul singing combo of Ike and Tina, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of using a "blue box," a sophisticated electronic device that allows users to cheat the telephone company out of unlimited long distance calls.

Trial for Turner and three codefendants was scheduled to begin May 1. They were arrested March 26 at a recording studio. The boxes imitate the signal tones of telephone equipment. Knowledgeable users can signal their way into long lines, and make untraceable calls throughout the world.

Tito denies illness

BELGRADE (UPI) — President Tito today denied Western news reports that he had suffered a stroke and reaffirmed Yugoslav positon on a current border dispute with Italy.

Retarded students in Chaffey district

Funds sought for training center

ONTARIO — Seeking assistance in the construction of the Chaffey Training Center for trainable mentally retarded students, the Chaffey School board approved Monday a resolution calling for an application for state school building aid.

Senate Bill 852, signed April 6 by Gov. Reagan, provides for school building aid for districts not otherwise qualifying for state aid for the construction of facilities for mentally retarded minors.

Trustees, facing a financial crisis in the district next year, are anxious to receive state aid and are planning to visit state senators Ruben Ayala and Jerry Lewis to gain their assistance. But it was noted by Milo Thomas, district business manager, that the funds for aid are limited and in demand by many other districts.

To comply with provisions of the State School Building Aid Law of 1952, the board approved three required documents — application for an appointment, a certified statement of estimated cost of a school project and a certification of ownership of site.

As another required action to gain state aid, trustees appointed Thomas as district quality act officer. Thomas will furnish required information to the State Allocation Board.

In other action the trustees:

— Delegated Mrs. Martha Chapman, board member, as the representative to the spring meeting of the San Bernardino County School Boards Association April 30.

— Approved a district in-service retreat at the USC conference center in Idyllwild on May 10 through 12. The district will pay a portion of the cost for employes. Those in attendance will include district and school administrators, teachers and teachers' aides and representatives of community organizations.

— Appointed Thomas environmental quality act officer for the district to comply with the State School Building Act program.

— Congratulated Fred Beal, chairman of the driver education department at Alta Loma High School, for receiving a special award from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Chino crashes injure three

CHINO — Three persons were injured Monday evening in two separate traffic accidents here less than two hours apart.

At Benson Avenue and Jefferson Street at 5:20 p.m. 7-year-old Toni Lynn Languell of 12613 Benson Ave., was struck by a car driven by Luis Antonio Borrel, 46, of 12550 Benson Ave.

Toni was given emergency treatment for minor injuries at Montclair Doctors Hospital and released.

At 6:48 p.m. Marie E. Marker, 27, and her 8-month-old son, Michael John Marker of 13083 Cousins St., Chino, were injured when two cars collided broadside in the intersection of Riverside Drive and Ramona Avenue. Mrs. Marker was admitted to Chino General Hospital where she is in satisfactory condition. The boy was later released.

Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Marker's vehicle collided with another vehicle driven by John Boone, 17, of 4867 Riverside Dr. Boone was not injured.

Plan to extend Chino fire station approved

CHINO — The Planning Commission Monday night approved site development plans for extension of the present fire station.

The station, located on the east side of Central Avenue immediately north of Chino Avenue, will remain in its present location rather than be included in the new Civic Center complex. All other city offices at Central and D Street will relocate in the new complex of buildings to be constructed west of Central on D, to Sixth Street.

The 5-0 vote, with chairman Nancy Carpenter and James Sanders absent, allows the addition of about 2,217 square feet to the existing station.

Gale Carr, director of building, planning and community development, pointed out in his written report that the "request is to extend the office and engine house portions of the present fire station approximately 30 feet westward toward Central Avenue. This will leave a 50-foot setback from Central Avenue to the station doors. This new extension will allow for the housing of fire equipment and expansion of the headquarters offices."

The addition will be constructed of steel reinforced concrete blocks and elevations will be identical to the existing structure, Carr noted.

Walnut teachers ask 14.2% hike

WALNUT — Teachers in the Walnut School District Monday night handed the board of trustees requests calling for a 14.2 per cent total salary increase and various fringe benefits.

Cost of the proposed 8.73 per cent cost of living boost, and 5.5 per cent additional increase to "improve the total salary schedule," would be $426,000, according to Certificated Employe Council (CEC) spokesmen.

Trustees took no action on the requests, as by law they first must be negotiated between CEC and the board representative, personnel director, Ray McMullen, in "meet and confer" sessions.

Pomonan dies in car crash, train collision

POMONA — Riverside highway patrolmen are still investigating the cause of a single-car accident that took the life of a 19-year-old Pomona man early Sunday morning in the Corona area.

Highway patrolmen reported Norman C. Noble of 1230 W. Third St. lost control of his car on the eastbound Riverside Freeway, crashed through a center divider and a bridge railing and landed on Santa Fe Railroad tracks beneath the freeway. Moments after the crash, Noble's car was struck by a Santa Fe engine. Whether the victim was killed in the initial impact has not been determined, authorities said.

He is survived by his father, Lester J. Noble, his mother, Mrs. Evlyn Carter; a sister, Mrs. Joyce Slamal; two brothers, Gregg and Paige Noble, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Heckler, all of Pomona.

Mackay switches vote

L.V. council drops annexation fees

By BOG NAGEY
P-B Staff Writer

LA VERNE — The City Council reversed itself Monday night and dropped an ordinance that would have charged developers $150 per home for annexing their projects to the city.

The ordinance was coming up for final passage when Councilman Allan Mackay switched his vote of two weeks ago and decided that the city didn't need the ordinance, after all.

"I'm in favor of letting the developers annex without putting obstacles before them" he said. "I learned a lot of things during the past two weeks. We don't need this ordinance.

Councilman Dan Lopez charged that the council was "playing politics" by reversing itself Monday.

The council approved introduction of the ordinance two weeks ago with Mackay, Lopez and Harrison Sanborn edging out Mayor Frank Morales and Councilman Frank Johnson in the vote.

The proposal was aimed primarily at Arcadia developer H.N. Berger, who is about the build a 42-acre mobile home park just outside the eastern boundaries of La Verne.

The council felt that Berger was deliberately attempting to circumvent a bedroom tax that's levied on developers within the city.

If Berger is allowed to annex without payment of any taxes, the city will lose about $49,000 in parks and recreation fees. But Johnson contended the city will get that money back very quickly.

He said the city will realize about $40,000 in revenues from the mobile home park every year if Berger is allowed to join.

By joining, the devloper will be allowed to use the city's sewer and water system.

"I don't see how he can take advantage of a multimillion dollar water system," Lopez argued. "I feel this council should have the guts to stop playing politics and make him pay the fee."

But his proposal lost.

In another matter, the council approved the official zoning map of the general plan, despite some changes recommended by the Planning Commission. The council instructed the commission to go over the map again and revise its recommendations to fall more in line with the wishes of the council.

The commissioners did not object to the map itself, but to the method of monitoring planned residential developments. They felt another body, in addition to the city staff, should judge the merits of proposed plans.

The council also accepted for further study a proposal by City Manager George Caswell to build additional space for the present city hall at the estimated cost of $265,000. The addition would be between the present city hall and the fire station.

Water rates to increase in La Verne

LA VERNE — Water rates are going up about 26 per cent here, starting May 1.

The rates will rise another 10 per cent next January to offset the higher costs of power, labor and import water, according to City Manager George Caswell.

The City Council approved the two-step increase Monday night after consultant Kenneth I. Mullen reported that at the present rates, the cost of operation was higher than water users were paying in fees.

Under the two plan, the rates will go from $11.90 ot $15.05 bi montly for the average residential. The rates will go to approximately $16.50 bimonthly Jan. 1.

Caswell told the council that the average home requires about 31,000 gallons of water every two months.

Rates also are going up for the installation of new connections, from 100 to $185 for ¾ inch lines, and from $125 to $265 for those who need 1-inch lines.

SANBAG fund request riles Montclair mayor

By MAE TATE
P-B Staff Writer

MONTCLAIR — Mayor Harold Hayes led Montclair City Council indignation Monday night about a regional government group's attempt to appropriate funds without authorization from participating cities.

Hayes voiced his concern after a report from City Administrator Lauren Wasserman on a request from San Bernardino Associated Governments (SANBAG) for an additional one per cent funding for bikeway planning. The mayor voiced consternation about SANBAG'S executive board consideration of the one per cent allocation during its March meeting "without first getting funding authorization from participating cities."

Hayes pointed out that clarification of procedure for various city council's approval was necessary in order to avoid the possibility of SANBAG executive board bypassing cities in appropriation of funds for special projects.

Wasserman reported that the one per cent would be in addition to the current three per cent funding coming from each city for regional transportation study and planning. The extra expense would cost the City of Montclair about $1,600.

The city administrator questioned whether the expenditure was appropriate at this time, particularly due to the fact that SANBAG has not finalized plans for regional transportation. Additional funding may be premature at this time, Wasserman said.

Hayes noted that SANBAG's present priorities should be "with people and the mass effort of regional transportation." Councilman Tom McClure also voiced indignation about any allocation without councils' approvals. He asked that a letter be sent to the executive director of SANBAG, "strongly" emphasizing this opinion and signed by the mayor.

Ernest Rowley advised a "wait and see" attitude toward the additional money. He also recommended that SANBAG press for federal allocations for bikeways. Nelson Gentry said although there was a need for bikeways for safety purposes, this should not be considered a separate expense. Rather, it should be included with consideration of other regional transportation needs, he added.

The council unanimously accepted the mayor's recommendation for opposition to the additional one per cent, clarification of procedure for funding special projects and opposition at this time to any annexation to the Southern California Rapid Transit District.

In other action, the council:

— Heard a report on the housing element from Chuck Regalia, planning assistant. Regalia said that the research and analysis stage of the element had been completed and the initial draft would be ready for submission to the planning commission, council and public within a week.

The element will identify neighborhoods and problems; evaluate the housing market; identify housing problems, constraints and obstacles; and outline long-term goals according to those expressed by people in the public hearings on the matter.

— Set a public hearing for May 6 for posting prices and hours of operation for service stations.

— Approved a joint participation project with the Chamber of Commerce for the construction of entry signs at the east and west entrances to the city on Holt Boulevard. The eight-foot wide signs will be funded by the two bodies at $1,700 each.

— Adjourned to a special session next Monday with the fire chief, fire department officials and recreation department representatives to discuss budget matters at 5 p.m.

Gas price signs still required

By PATRICK SPENCER
P-B Staff Writer

UPLAND — Gasoline price signs will still be required in the city, but the flag system indicating gas availability has been dropped by City Council action Monday night.

The council voted 4-1 in favor of requiring the price signs after City Attorney Donald Maroney announced that a pending state law also requiring the signs had not yet emerged from committee deliberations.

The council had been waiting to see if the legislation would pass before taking action to rescind a March 4 ordinance that required both the signs and the flag system.

The original ordinance had raised the ire of service station operators and didn't seem to be alleviating the length of lines at stations.

The council voted unanimously Monday to table action that would have rescinded the original ordinance. All but Councilman Harold Bailin approved an amendment to the original ordinance striking down the requirement for the flag system.

Although he commented that he would "rather have prices than flags," Bailin objected to any revision of the basic ordinance.

Councilwomen Ina Petokas, who had supported the basic ordinance, also thought the flag system should be retained, but cast her vote in favor of the change

Councilmen George Gibson and John McCarthy both agreed that the flag system should be left to the discretion of the station owners.

In a final comment Bailin suggested that all stations in the city be advised that the ordinance will be in effect following a second reading in two weeks.

In other action, the council accepted a traffic light request petition signed by parents of children using the intersectin of 16th Street and Second Avenue to and from Sierra Vista School.

The council also approved action by the city administration to hire a crossing guard who will be on duty at the intersection for the remainder of the school year.

The $30,000 initial cost for the traffic lights will be considered during coming budget sessions, but according to City Engineer Fred Blanchard the lights could not be installed much before the end of the next school year.

The council indicated it was exploring the possibility of busing students next year to and from the school to help solve the safety problem.

In other business action, the council:

—Approved a zone change from agricultural to single-family residential (R-1-C) on 10 acres west of San Antonio Avenue on the north side of 18th street.

—Tabled a Planning Commission request to reaffrim General Plan zone designations on property fronting both sides of north Mountain Avenue. The council felt the action was unnecessary and proposed a future joint meeting with the commission to make another attempt at developing a plan for the future development of the area.

—Agreed to consider a resolution in joining the county and the cities of Ontario and Chino in requesting the state to designate Euclid Avenue as a state scenic highway. No major benefits will accrue to the city as a result of the change, but Planning Director Rod Anderson said the city would have slightly more control of traffic and usage of the street.

Wednesday, April 17

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't plan too challenging a schedule today. You aren't likely to be your usual assertive self.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Outside interests will take you off-course a bit at this time. You'll not pursue goals as vigorously as they should be sought.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be considerate of any who come under your authority today. They can best be directed if orders come in the form of suggestions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Let imagination run free, particularly if problem solving. Don't block your thoughts with reasons why something can't be done.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best you keep some secrets to yourself. Bear this in mind when you're just about to reveal a confidence that you shouldn't.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're likely to be wishy-washy about making decisions. This will irk those you're closely associated with.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Serving the needs of another before your own interests will prove a good investment. Later, you'll be repaid for your thoughtfulness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You need some form of social outlet at this time just to change the pace. How about dinner at your favorite restaurant?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Everyone will have a better time if they come to your house to be entertained today, rather than your going to theirs.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You won't have the peace of mind you should if you leave a task half-done. Wrap it up so you can relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Conditions that affect your bank balance are on the upswing if managed wisely. Don't spend what you don't have in hand.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're still in a cycle where things come, to you easier than usual. It's up to you to make the most of them.

April 17

You're likely to see rewards from plans you've worked very hard to develop this year. Don't give up on your ideas now that victory is near.

Americans are peanut eaters

Dirksen flower recognized by his hometown

PEKIN, Ill. (UPI) — The late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen failed to make the marigold the national flower but his hometown has not forgotten his efforts.

The marigold will form the center of new flag which the city of Pekin, Ill. will adopt this week.

The flag was designed by Jim Thomas of Peoria, Ill. in response to a local contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Proxmire hits 'useless agencies'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. today called for abolishing 16 government agencies including the Selective Service System and the Small Business Administration. He said they were useless and wasteful.

The agencies included the Small Business Administration, Renegotiation oBard, Selective Service System, the Cost of Living Council and eight of its subordinate agencies, Interstate Commerce Commission, President's Council on Physical Fitness, Overseas Private Investment Corporation, and what Proxmire called the Central Intelligence Agency's "Department of Dirty Tricks."

Proxmire said that this was just "a short list of the useless agencies and wasteful functions of the government which should end." Among his charges:

— The Selective Service "wants $41 million this year to maintain several thousand bureaucrats, offices, local, state, and county boards, and a host of appeal boards" despite the fact that under the law no Americans can be drafted.

—"Instead of regulating transportation to avoid monopoly and increased prices, the ICC has established monopolies, reduced competition, and ordered high and uneconomic rates to cover the costs of inefficient producers."

—The Small Business Administration has had "a history of political favoritism, bad judgment and based decisions. Such a small proportion of businesses are helped, far less than 1 per cent of eligible businesses, that the expense and bureaucracy doesn't merit the cost."

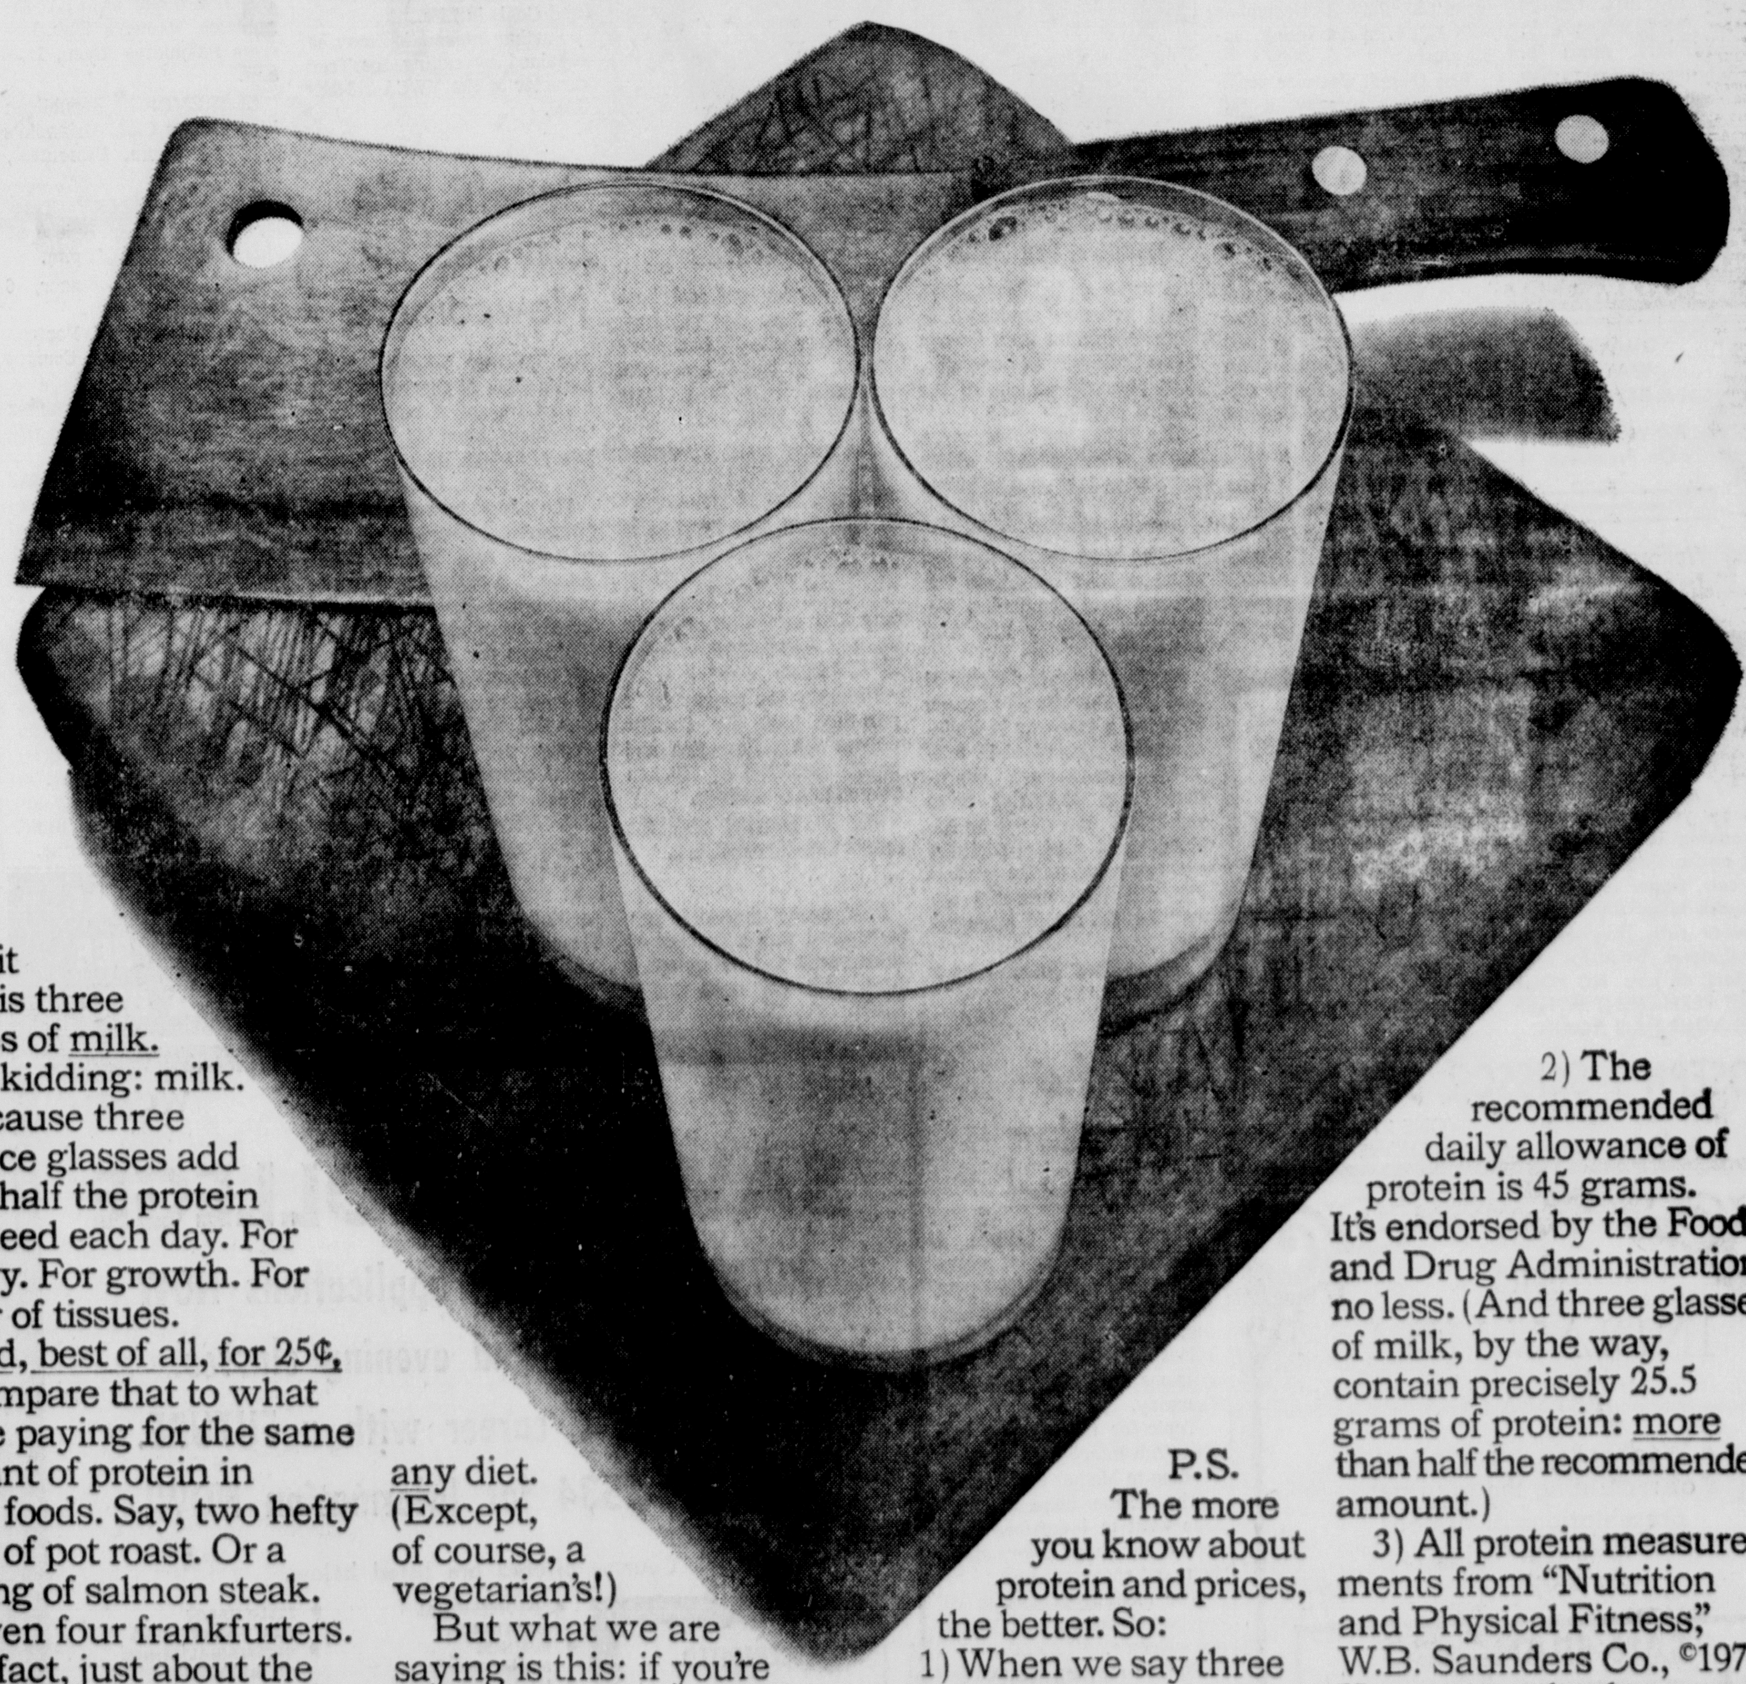
How to cut the price of protein.



All it takes is three glasses of milk.

No kidding: milk.

Because three 8-ounce glasses add up to half the protein you need each day. For energy. For growth. For repair of tissues.

And, best of all, for 25¢.

Compare that to what you're paying for the same amount of protein in other foods. Say, two hefty slices of pot roast. Or a serving of salmon steak. Or even four frankfurters.

In fact, just about the only protein you can get for less these days comes from certain dried peas, beans and nuts.

Now: does this mean we're saying don't eat meat or fish? No way—because they belong in any diet. (Except, of course, a vegetarian's!)

But what we are saying is this: if you're concerned about the rising price of protein, now you know a thrifty way to get it.

In fact, you can pour it on.

California Milk Advisory Board

2) The recommended daily allowance of protein is 45 grams. It's endorsed by the Food and Drug Administration, no less. (And three glasses of milk, by the way, contain precisely 25.5 grams of protein: more than half the recommended amount.)

3) All protein measurements from "Nutrition and Physical Fitness," W.B. Saunders Co., ©1973. Very meaty book.

P.S. The more you know about protein and prices, the better. So:

1) When we say three glasses, we mean eight ounces per...or 24 ounces in all. And that price of 25¢ is based on the average price in California stores for one-half gallon. Which is 66.2¢. And you're welcome.

Milk has something for every body.™

WATER YOU DRINK Has a Strong Bearing on Your Health

Some people — and we consider them misinformed —claim that the body needs the minerals in water. They advise people to avoid distilled water for this reason. They would have us drink water saturated with impurities and chemicals and run the risk of contracting serious diseases to obtain a few minerals.

Water is certainly not our only source of minerals. The mineral content in water varies from area to area. One locality might have water with a high calcium content and be low in phosphorous. Drinking a glass of milk would supply both.

So doesn't it make good common sense to clean the water of all bacteria, virus and chemicals, eat a good balanced diet, and if there are doubts as to sufficient minerals, take a good organic mineral supplement?

ENJOY FRESH DISTILLED WATER DAILY. Makes your drinking water problems a thing of the past! The right water can make a drastic change in your health!

Burglary will be the topic of a speaker from the Upland Police Department.

A fund-raising event is also being planned.

Guess how many bales of cotton are used domestically in the making of denim. Some 673,000 bales. That figure is for 1972. It is up from 348,000 bales in 1968.

The demand for denim is making things rosy for cotton farmers. In 1968, the cotton farmers got $38.3 millon from cotton for denim. In 1972 they got $87.5 million for cotton gone to denim making.

Violinist to offer recital at Pomona

CLAREMONT — Violinist Mark Emile will play music by Bach, Beethoven and Schoenberg in his senior recital in Bridges Hall of Music, Pomona College, a 8:15 p.m. April 26. He will be accompanied by pianist Ebet Dudley.

The concert, sponsored by the Pomona College music department, is open to the public. Admission is free.

Emile will perform Bach's D Minor Partita, for solo violin, with its accompanying "Chaconne," Schoenberg's "Phantasy for Violin," and Beethoven's Violin Sonata No. 3.

A native of San Diego, Emile has been a frequent solosit during his four years at Pomona College. Most recently he played Prokofieff's First Violin Concerto with the Pomona College Symphony in November, and last May he conducted a special program of highlights from Bach's B Minor Mass. In addition, he has regularly served as concertmaster for the orchestra.

Miss Dudley, a freshman at Scripps College, has performed in a number of student recitals this season.

ANGELIC ANGELA — Musical comedy star Angela Lansbury, shown with Lisa Peluso, center, and Bonnie Langford, stars in "Gypsy," opening Sunday night at the Shubert Theater in Los Angeles. The show was a resounding hit during its recent London engagement. Tickets are on sale at Mutual, Liberty, Wallich's and Ticketron agencies.

At Paramount Ranch

Pleasure Faire to open six weekends engagement

AGOURA — The 12th annual Renaissance Pleasure Fair & Springtime Market will be held on the old Paramount Ranch Saturdays and Sundays for six weekends starting Saturday.

The fair, a recreation of 16th Century English festivals, was originated by Ron and Phyllis Patterson, who are devoted to the recreation and preservation of the color, pageantry, music, plays and customs of medieval England.

All of the participants are dressed in the costume of the Middle Ages, and visitors are urged to wear similar garb. Free patterns and instructions for making costumes can be obtained by writing to Faire Costumes, Box 46070, Los Angeles 90046.

The fair runs from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. Parking is free. The ceremonial "Call of the Faire" opens the activities. These include plays, dancing, concerts of Renaissance music, performances by jugglers, puppeteers, strolling troubadours and others.

The Pleasure Faire is reached by the Ventura Freeway west from Los Angeles to the Kanan Road exit.

A-limp became the B-limp

During World War I, the British experimented with non-rigid, lighter-than-air ships. Though the first model, named A-limp, failed, the second model, B-limp was successful. That model name became the one-word "blimp."

Martha Raye to star in CLO musical

SAN BERNARDINO — Comedienne Martha Raye will star in the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association production of the "No, No, Nanette," opening May 10 at the California Theater of Performing Arts.

Miss Raye, who appeared with CLO two seasons ago in "Hello, Dolly!" will re-create her Broadway role in "Nanette," which she says is her favorite.

"No, No, Nanette," billed as "the new 1925 musical," features a cast of Broadway and film performers. It will play through May 18.

Tickets are on sale at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce. A 10 percent discount is offered to groups of 30 or more persons.

The musical brings back such dances as the Castle Walk, the Bunny Hug, the Maxixe, the Tango, the Charleston, and a good deal of tap dancing, according to Jack Bunch, director-choreographer who is mounting the musical.

"No, No, Nanette" also brings back such songs as "Tea for Two," "I Want To Be Happy," "Take a Little One-Step," "You Can Dance With Any Girl," and the title song.

Council backs police officer hiring policy

By TONY NAVARRO
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — A Merit System Commission recommendation that the city hire less experienced police officers at higher salaries and provide more opportunities for inexperienced young men to join the public safety departments was overruled by the City Council 2-1 Monday night.

The council acted in the case of a La Palma police officer who has applied for a position with the Pomona Police Department.

Police Chief F. P. Wallick recommended that the officer be hired at the third salary step, two steps above the starting salary, a recommendation endorsed by City Administrator Jerrold Gonce providing the applicant was required to live in Pomona in keeping with council action taken on a similar case.

At a meeting April 3, the commission voted 3-1 to deny the recommendation of Wallick and Personnel Director Sidney Simms.

At that meeting, Simms was asked to inform Wallick the commission "was not in the mood" to accept additional experienced officers from other cities' departments, prefering instead to see inexperienced young men hired from wthin the city limits.

Commissioner John Rogan appeard at the council meeting to press for the denial.

Rogan noted that the city recently had agreed on an equal employment opportunity program and said the practice of hiring experienced police officers instead of inexperienced Pomona residents "can get around that program."

He said the police department was the one department allowed to hire persons at higher than starting salaries without requiring the applicants to take an examination.

In a letter to the council, Wallick said that the average attrition rate for the past four years has been 9.75 per cent and during calendar year 1973 was 8 per cent.

He listed figures showing that in 1973, seven inexperienced officers were hired compared to eight experienced; in 1972 it was 18 inexperienced and six experienced, in 1971 it was six inexperienced and six experienced and in 1970, four inexperienced and seven experienced.

"The department understands the value of hiring inexperienced police applicants, especially from the community. The department also has a difficult job to do which can best be done with experienced officers on the street," Wallick wrote.

"In order to keep this experience at some acceptable level it is necessary to balance our recruitment of police officers with experienced officers on a regular basis."

The dissenting council vote came from Councilman Ben Ochoa Sr. who asked for a city staff report on the "experience level" of the entire police department.

The council also voted, 3-0, to overrule a resolution of the Planning Commission denying a request for a conditional use permit for the construction of a mini-warehouse development at 2735 N. Towne Ave. The applicant agreed to put in additional parking spaces.

CLAREMONT'S SEAL

Claremont fire engineer Dave Horn gets approval from Claremont Mayor Bertye Smith as he presses into place a reverse decal of the new city seal on the fire department's yellow fire truck. The new seal slowly is replacing the old seal of a "free flowing leaf." Mrs. Adele Schoene designed the seal and incorporated into it the arches found in the colleges, the city's many trees, and the year of the city's incorporation. The seal normally comes in black on white.

Reward awaiting tipster in narcotics sales case

POMONA — The We T.I.P. Board of Directors has authorized a reward will be made at a prearranged drop point.

According to a spokesman from the Pomona Police Department, Joe Russell Kennedy, 20, of 567 Miller Ave., Pomona, was arrested in May of 1973 on suspicion of sales of marijuana. Kennedy has since been convicted of the narcotics offense in the Pomona courts.

The Pomona Police spokesman said information supplied by We T.I.P. informant GC 1127 was helpful in the investigation and the We T.I.P. Board of Directors has authorized a reward.

We T.I.P. is a citizen action program designed to supply intelligence information about the activities of suspected drug pushers to local authorities while keeping the identity of informants anonymous.

Bill Brownell, state director of We T.I.P., said that information supplied by anonymous informants has resulted in the arrest of 524 suspected drug pushers and 122 convictions. More than $4,100,000 in illegal drugs has been seized by local police as a result of the information.

Anyone having information about a suspected drug pusher is urged to call the We T.I.P. toll free state line (800-472-7785) or the local line (714-983-9611) from noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. If the information results in the arrest and conviction of a suspected drug pusher, a reward of $100 to $500 will be paid.

Fault line found there

Claremont school site will be sold

By GEORGE MacLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

CLAREMONT — After receiving a report that the Sage Avenue school site sits astride a trace of the Cucamonga Fault, the school board Monday night authorized the staff to proceed with the necessary steps to sell the 10-acre elementary school site.

A representative of F. Beach Leighton and Associates was present at the school board meeting to clarify the firm's geotechnical and seismic study of the Sage Avenue site and the La Puerta Intermediate School site, both south of the Thompson Creek flood control channel.

A study was required by the state Office of Architecture and Construction before the district could proceed with construction of a lunch shelter roof at La Puerta School.

The report said that school construction on the La Puerta School site is considered feasible, provided such construction is designed to resist collapse in case of an earthquake.

The report said that school construction is not considered feasible on that portion of the Sage Avenue site located north of the Cucamonga Fault trace, but is considered feasible south of the trace provided a minimum setback of 100 feet is maintained.

District business manager Charles Abbott reported to the board that such a setback would affect adversely the district's plans for an elementary school on the site.

"Even if an architect could redesign the plans using the land available south of the setback, the engineering design required for the maximum credible earthquake would make construction costs prohibitive," Abbott said.

The Leighton official, Michael Sculling, explained to the board and the City Council at a joint workshop that the best evidence to locate fault traces is the difference in groundwater levels.

He explained that there is a difference of 200 feet depth in well water in the land on the north and south sides of the Cucamonga traces.

He estimated that the land on the north side of the trace would receive twice as much ground motion during a quake than the land on the south side.

Mayor Bertye Smith reported that the city might be interested in buying a portion of the Sage site if funds are available. She explained that the site is next to the James Higginbotham park site.

Deaf-mute youth reacts quickly to assist woman

POMONA — Jan Ross Simpson, a 14-year-old deaf mute, helped an elderly woman in distress here by summoning emergency aid after he saw the woman lying on the sidewalk on S. Locust Street.

The woman, Marie Bickel, 70, was apparently pushed from behind by an unknown assailant and her purse was stolen Sunday.

Simpson rode his bicycle to the police department and communicated with officers by writing on a note pad. The police called the fire department who dispatched rescue units.

The young man rode on the fire truck to direct the firemen to the place where he saw the woman. Mrs. Bickel was treated at the scene but refused further medical assistance.

Panel to speed up sales of abandoned homes proposed

POMONA — Formation of a regional committee "to facilitate the sale" of abandoned houses owned by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) was proposed Monday night by Councilman Charles W. Bader.

Bader is chairman of the Valley Association of Cities (VAC) whose nine member cities together contain an estimated 1,000 abandoned houses owned by federal agencies and private lending institutions—more than 800 such units in Pomona alone.

Bader said the proposal would be submitted to VAC after a report has been received from the Pomona city staff on recommendations for implementation and on ways other cities can take action.

The problem of abandoned housing was discussed at a meeting last Friday between HUD officials and Bader; Montclair Councilman Paul Jones, vice chairman of VAC; the organization's executive director, Joseph Korpsak; and members of the Pomona city staff.

"One of our subjects of discussion was the inability of HUD to sell a house once it was boarded up and once title was transferred to the federal government," Bader told the council.

Bader said that presently, only 12 of the hundreds of houses owned by HUD in Pomona were available for sale.

"Obviously, if abandonments of HUD financed houses continue as they are, and HUD doesn't sell the houses that they already own, the number of abandoned houses will continue to increase," Bader said.

"I am persuaded that there is a demand for many of these houses. I am persuaded that many of these houses can be sold to legitimate buyers with a meaningful down payment. It is in the best interest of the citizens of Pomona, and indeed the citizens of this valley, that we help in speeding up the sale of these abandoned houses."

Bader said the committee would include representatives of the Pomona Valley Board of Realtors and the Ontario-Upland-Chino Board of Realtors, of the chambers of commerce, city staffs, VAC delegates and Korpsak.

School district criticized in session on coordinator job

POMONA — Two major criticisms of the Pomona Unified School District surfaced at a special meeting Monday night for the purpose of receiving community opinion on desirable qualities in any prospective candidate for coordinator of intergroup education.

Lack of community representation on the interview committee and asserted invalid reasoning for the reassignment of the current coordinator, Mrs. Daisy L. Cook, were the major complaints voiced by the audience.

The meeting, called by Lynn Rountree, assistant superintendent of personnel services for the district, was not, in his words, intended to revolve around the question of personalities.

Members of the audience, however, gave vent to their feelings of support for Mrs. Cook and indicated they had no desire to lend credibility to the search for a new coordinator.

Mrs. Cook was reassigned to teaching duties effective next year by a unanimous vote of the Board of Education in late February. She has indicated her displeasure with this action and has reapplied for the position.

In a statement issued by Mrs. Eddiemarie Patterson, chairperson of the Pomona Valley Black Coalition, Mrs. Cook was characterized as "an integral part of our district."

Mrs. Patterson went on to say that to remove Mrs. Cook would cause some hardships since "about two years are required to begin to function."

"We want constructive change without undue chaos and confusion. Mrs. Cook has been most effective in helping us to attain these goals," said Mrs. Patterson.

There were approximately 20 people in the audience, most of whom lent their vocal support to Mrs. Patterson's statement.

Rountree refused to discuss any aspects of Mrs. Cook's reassignment with the audience, indicating that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss necessary quaities of applicants for the position.

Last Christmas the organization distributed more than 3,000 toys, dolls, games and bicycles to needy children.

Electric gold mine in America's trash

A four-leaf clover is blooming on the nation's growing mountain of trash, and more and more communities are beginning to look it over.

This is the idea, which is becoming increasingly attractive and practical in these energy-and ecology-conscious days, of converting trash into power and mining it for recyclable metals and other resources.

According to the federal Environmental Protection Agency, there is enough energy in garbage and other solid wastes generated in the nation's large cities to provide the equiyalent of 150 million barrels of oil a year, or more than a quarter of the oil expected to be piped from Alaska's North Slope.

In a recent status report on programs to convert waste to energy, the agency listed these cities as having either started or seriously considering transforming trash into electricity or otherwise utilizing it:

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Washington, D.C., Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Diego, Buffalo, Rochester, Memphis, Albany, Akron, Nashville, Knoxville, Bridgeport, Conn., Brockton, Mass., and Eugene, Ore.

New York, which has created a virtual dead sea off the East Coast by years of dumping sewage sludge in the ocean, is considering a proposal by a private company to build a "resource recovery center" in its lower harbor.

First, a 225-acre island would be constructed out of garbage, and then on top of it a plant which would initially consume about 11,000 tons of garbage a day, or almost a third of the amount produced by the city. After glass, metals and other salvagable materials had been removed, the remainder would be grounded into a fuel that could be purchased by utility companies.

The most ambitious plan so far is one in St. Louis, where the Union Electric Company has announced plans to generate electrical power using essentially all of the solid waste collected in St. Louis and six adjoining Missouri and Illinois counties.

A $70-million plant, scheduled to be in operation in mid-1977, will be able to handle from 2.5 to three million tons of solid waste a year and will generate about six per cent of its power from the waste when it is shredded and mixed with coal, after separating out metals and glass.

In recoverable metals alone, the Environmental Protection Agency estimates that there is over $1 billion worth that could be mined annually from the nation's trash. Not surprisingly, that kind of money is attracting a number of well known firms into the field — Garrett Systems, Raytheon, American Can and Continental Can, Monsanto, Allis-Chalmers — all of which have developed or are developing varying waste-processing systems.

Waste conversion will not in itself be the answer to the country's long-term energy needs, of course. But even if some of the estimates that have been made as to the amount of energy available in the nation's total refuse output are exaggerated or unrelizable — seven per cent of current natural gas consumption, for example, or six per cent of electricity production — the potential power now being thrown away in our garbage is not anything to turn one's nose up at.

A misguided Watergate burglar

WASHINGTON — Long before Frank Sturgis joined the world's most celebrated burglary crew and broke into the Watergate, he was my friend.

I knew him as a soldier of fortune, a pilot and gun runner, a romantic who bloomed ill-betimed in a programmed age, an adventurer whom humdrum could never quite assimilate.

He was a Don Quixote, square jaw set against the enemy, drawn irresistibly to such calamities as the Bay of Pigs and Watergate.

We have kept in touch over the years, but he has periodically dropped out of sight,forever chasing adventure, usually finding misadventure.

Once in his youth, he confounded the odds and became part of a legend, one of the ragged few who perservered in the mountains with Fidel Castro.

After their incredible victory, he could be seen on Havana's streets in the regalia of an Air Marshal. For a time, he was Castro's man in charge of "liberated" gambling casinos and luxury hotels.

On matters of principle, having to do with Castro's repression and his turn toward Russia, Frank defected from the Revolution to become again the long-shot gambler against the house. Thereafter, he risked his neck against Castro in foredoomed ventures of the Cuban "freedom fighters."

He progressed from the Bay of Pigs to Watergate, where he thought he was seeking evidence that Castro was contributing to the George McGovern campaign.

After Frank and his friends were arrested at gunpoint inside Democratic headquarters, they were pictured in the press as figures of fun, bunglers and petty thieves.

On another level, they became caricatures of Orwellian enemies of the American system. It was even whispered that they had been behind the plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

As evidence, one group brought me a news photo taken on the streets of Dallas on assassination day. They eagerly pointed out a man they said was Sturgis lukring in the shadows. The man resembled Sturgis but definitely was not Sturgis.

And in Miami, the Justice Department solemnly charged that Sturgis had recruited mercenaries, a dirty dozen ostensibly to fight Castro but really to steal cars. The prosecutors waited until after the Watergate caper to bring the charges. when they couldn't convince the jury, they convened another jury which finally convicted Frank of transporting stolen cars to Mexico.

Frank has told me that the Watergate figure he admires most is G. Gordon Liddy who has maintained a grim, tight-lipped silence in the face of a harsh, 20-year sentence. So Sturgis, Liddy-like, sat through the auto theft trial without testifying in his own defense.

I have no persuaded him to tell his story, which I have carefully checked with the witnesses I could reach. They have confirmed most details as he related them, but there are no available witnesses to other events.

Frank has always been ready at the crook of a finger to pick up his carbine and rush off to a new adventure. It was altogether characteristic of him, therefore, to volunteer in 1968 to lead a mission for a total stranger who identified himself as Col. Francisco Quesada. The colonel sought out Sturgis to help hijack a Soviet freighter and hold it hostage for the return of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo, which the North Koreans had captured in January 1968.

Frank advertised in the newspapers and selected his dirty dozen from the toughest applicants. He gave no thought to the possibility that some of them may have applied from the wrong side of the law.

In obedience to the colonel's instructions, Frank told them only that they would participate in a mission against Castro and would be paid after the mission was completed.

He hever learned until later, he swears, that a couple of his troopers raised drinking and gambling money by leasing two cars and selling them in Mexico. Indeed, one had been sentenced to a federal penintentiary in 1966 for a similar crime.

Eventually, Frank rounded up his undisciplined band from Mexican bars and bawdy houses, loaded them aboard a fishing boat and set out for a secret rendezvous with a gunboat that he had been told would assist them with the hijacking.

But Frank's boatload of adventurers, alas, ran aground on a reef off the coast of British Honduras. Frank put eight men and all the firearms ashore on a mangrove swamp. Then he and four others made their way to Belize, British Honduras, seeking to repair the boat.

The motley mercenaries, of course, were spotted and rounded up by the British authorities, and Frank's "Mission: Impossible" ended in a Honduran jail.

They were shortly deported back to the United States and the missing autos were traced to Frank's men. Angry at Frank because they hadn't been paid for the abortive adventure, they told the authorities he had directed them to sell the leased cars.

I have always known Frank Sturgis as a man of touching sincerity, sober habits and fierce patriotism. Although misguided, he fully deserved the sentence for his role in the Watergate break-in. But the auto theft conviction, I believe, is a bum rap.

Gossip for today

Throughout our nation's history, Americans have successfully weathered many a crisis. As long ago as the 1850s we survived a whale oil shortage. During the 1930s there were shortages of almost everything, but we are still here. At the present time we seem to be surviving the gasoline and electricity shortages. — But are there no limits to the trials and tribulations to which American citizens are to be subjected? — Now it has been announced that because of the shortage of horsehide, baseball covers are being made of cowhide.

BRUCE BIOSSAT

Industrial world seeks leadership

WASHINGTON — From what I've learned from some Europeans and from Japanese leaders in recent weeks, it is clear that the realists in the free industrial world still count upon America for the critical leadership.

French Premier Pierre Messmer's recent comment, suggesting France and the United States are engaged in some kind of duel for domination of Europe, is from dreamland. Except as an anchor-drag, France doesn't figure large in the hard thinking presently going on about the free world's future.

The crucial, stable economic core of Western Europe is formed by West Germany despite Chancellor Willy Brandt's undoubted political troubles), Holland and — through its financial influence — Switzerland, this latter of course not a member of the nine-nation European Economic Community.

In these relatively stable places, for all the talk of the need for and promise of greater internal integration of the European Countires, the word is plan and simple: The United States is the big one, and must show the way.

In Japan, though leaders practice the litany of saying they should exercise more diversity in foreign policy, they make it resoundingly clear in private talks that they continue to believe America has to exhibit imaginative leadership out of an economic morass that engulfs all.

The view in the free world is virtually universal — that from the borders of Eastern Europe to the waters beyond Japan, everyone is in the same muck and mire of inflation, shortages and a generally uncertain raw materials outlook, and so on.

The confident, stable elements in this sprawling industrial community do not today worry all that much about U.S. domination. They want to get out of the mess, they recognize our size and power as something special and see American leadership as a properly inevitable consequence of it.

Their regret, naturally, is that 1973 was not the Year of Europe President Nixon promised. Deflected from that purpose by the scandals of Watergate, he, who prides himself so much upon his foreign policy achievements, caused the free world perhaps irretrievable loss.

The concern at the far end of the two great oceans is not with the morality of the Nixon regime, but with the fact that Watergate was in 1973 a distraction and in 1974 threatens the industrial nations with the unknown.

Western Europe's plight is obviously the worst. No need to dwell upon Italy's revolting chaos, Britain's enfeeblement or France's arrogant pretensions to power it does not have.

The guilding reality is that even in a community presuming to "integration," leadership must be taken. And the logical European leader is West Germany, the strongest and most consistent performer — again, notwithstanding its difficulties. But a Europe remembering Hitler has never been able to contemplate such logic realistically. West Germans, I learn from talks, are keenly attentive to their newborn good relations with stubborn France.

They feel caught, not wishing to sully these new ties, but convinced America should be scouting the way out of today's dilemmas.

Some might put Japan's utterances of reliance on our leadership as now just a generation's habit. But the Japanese are pragmatic people. They see American power as governing and are distressed at the frayed U.S.-Europe bonds.

From the stable capitals of the free world, then, eyes gaze hopefully toward the United States. What they wish is that, in the general confusion, Richard Nixon could be performing as the "foreign policy President" he thinks he is.

Life's elixir

This may upset a few preconceived notions about the toll of stress and competition in the business world, but a study by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. indicates that executives who reach the highest levels in the business community have the most favorable prospects of completing —or exceeding — their biblically alloted three-score and ten.

"Captains of industry," says the report, "not only live distinctly longer than white men in general, but also considerably longer than prominent business executives in general."

This conclusion was reached on the basis of a 16-year follow-up study of 1,078 corporate executives of the 500 industrial coporations ranked by Fortune magazine as having had the largest sales in 1957. (The study was limited to white men because there were very few blacks or women executives in the 500 corporations, which is another story.)

What makes top executives such good life insurance prospects?

In large measure, the statisticians believe, it reflects the physical and emotional fitness of business executives for positions of responsibility. Many of those who attain high status are able to cope with an even thrive on stressful situations by harnessing tensions for productige use.

It may well be, they add, that work satisfaction, together with public recognition of accomplishments, is an important determinant of health and longevity.

An alternative to amnesty

Amnesty is more an emotional than a legal question. It's easy to say that Americans who don't like the American way of doing things should be allowed to get out — but should have to stay out.

It's easy to say that our prodigal sons should be welcomed home because there have been many other instances in U.S. history when they were — following the Uncivil War, the War of 1812. Two years after World War II, 1,500 draft evaders were pardoned.

Now it's been a year and a half since we backed out of Indochina and thousands of Americans are still unwelcome home, some of them after as long as 10 years in self-exile. If it were put to a vote how would you vote? In a Harris survey Americans were asked, "Should we allow the draft evaders to come home?"

A year ago Americans said no, 49 per cent to 43 per cent. This year they say yes, 45 per cent to 43 per cent.

Most of those surveyed still insist that the prodigals should be required to perform some form of "national service." But opposition to unconditional amnesty has declined by 11 points.

Thus is measurable the traditional American willingness to forgive. Congress is not going to do anything about it this year. Despite the erosion of opposition to amnesty, it remains far too sensitive an issue for most campaigners.

President Nixon remains firmly and, I believe, unalterably opposed to blanket amnesty. I expect that by the next presidential election one or both party platforms may provide for conditional amnesty. It it's a close race, one or both candidates for the Presidency may embellish that offer.

Since neither this Congress nor this President is going to recommend amnesty and since even conditional amnesty appears years away, there is another option.

Come home and face the music. Most all draft evaders who return to the United States to stand trial are receiving very light, if any, sentences.

Only one-third of those prosecuted in federal court are convicted and three-fourths of those convicted are placed on probation.

It is a calculated gamble; it's up to each individual judge in each individual case. But stateside parents can talk to the U.S. attorney in the home district and get a pretty good idea of what local judges are doing about penalties.

CLEM WHITAKER JR.

State will miss Ivy's charm, ability

California's delightful and talented Ivy Eaker Priest will not be a candidate to succeed herself as State Treasurer. One-time Treasurer of the United States during the administration of President Dwight Eisenhower, Mrs. Priest caught the political world looking the other way when word was released she would not seek re-election.

The performance of the State Treasurer's office under Mrs. Priest's leadership has been phenomenal. So much so, coupled with her charm and grace, she was assured renomination by the Republican Party and even in this era of low esteem for the politically inclined, she undoubtedly would have won re-election barring anything short of a total Democratic landslide. California will miss its only statewide lady officeholder both for her charm and her ability—which is what public office really should be all about, but isn't very often.

It is frequently said that anyone has to be silly to hold public office, in view of the brickbats, scorn and abuse heaped upon those who do. To her credit this was not Mrs. Priest's problem. Other than taking a few cheap political shots from would-be challengers she has earned the universal respect of Democrats and Republicans alike. That she chooses to step down is a blow to California, but should not be totally unexpected. Her personal travail, with the loss of a son and a husband in a terribly short period of time, is reason enough even without weighing the responsibilities of office.

What scramble will pop to the fore with Mrs. Priest's retirement is hard to determine, but scramble there will be as is always the case. All of the political types will be trying to establish themsleves in the race if it should appear more appealing than those already being contested.

In a way it is a shame both political parties don't nominate Mrs. Priest's Deputy State Treasurer Alex Steinkamp by acclamation. Steinkamp, a career Treasury offical who has served former Treasurers Gus Johnson, Ronald Button, and Bert Betts in addition to Mrs. Priest, knows the office and its functions intimately. As Treasurer he would bring the same fresh citizen approach to the office Mrs. Priest did, and would revive the public's confidence in the game of politics. Those, however, are the things dreams are made of and citizen dreams don't come true too often politically.

Good lucky, Ivy and God bless you.

Council orders destruction of old building

WALNUT — City councilmen have ordered the demolition of an abandoned building at 19939 E. Valley Blvd., between Fairway Drive and Camino de Teodora.

The structure, a former equipment rental outlet, has been the source of complaints from adjoining property owners, officials say. It has been abandoned for four years, and is "substandard."

City officials said owner Ray Smith had been told to restore the 540-square-foot building or it would be demolished, and he failed to comply.

Larry Ammon, a spokesman for the county rehabilitation department, which would raze the structure, said the building is in process of being sold, and the new owner may be given a warning prior to the demolition.

The city is contracting with the county for the work. Actual cost will be recovered by a special assessment against the property and will result in no expense to the city.

2 money-raising activities set by Walnut band

WALNUT — Walnut High School Band, in an effort to earn money to finance a trip to National City and to buy new uniforms, will sponsor two events Saturday.

Band members will conduct a paper drive from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Residents are asked to deliver their discarded newspapers to the school parking lot. Cardboard boxes and old telephone directories also will be accepted.

For those who do not have transportation, band members will provide a pickup service to those who call 525-3018, 595-6808 or 595-1008.

At 7:30 p.m. in the school gym, the band will present hypnotist Harold Gaffney of Montclair. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. They may be purchased in advance from band members or at the door.

The Walnut High Band Boosters are assisting with both events.

Concern over school vandalism leads to meet with Casa Maravilla leader

LA PUENTE — Ron Noblette of Casa Maravilla will speak at a coffee hour April 23 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Josephine Anguiano, 17808 Gemini St.

The meeting was scheduled in response to growing concern over school vandalism and the need for parent understanding of youth gangs, school administrators said.

Interested parents in the Rowland Unified School District are urged to attend. Casa Maravilla is a non-profit organization with a staff working to combat youth gangs.

The event is being sponsored by the Villacorta Elementary School where parents have established a volunteer system of driving around the school campus on weekends to make security checks.

In recent weeks there has been graffiti written in tar on brick walls at the school, the ball wall and black top have been damaged and paint has been spattered indoors.

School alarms have a direct hook-up into the Industry sheriff's Substation. Deputies said calls from parents regarding suspicious activity at the school will be answered by officers.

Officers will attend a meeting in the school cafeteria May 8 at 7:30 p.m. to explain procedure and answer questions.

Those interested in attending the April 23 coffee hour are asked to call Mrs. Gloria Serafin or Miss Alejandra Diaz at 964-8801.

MSAC will explain services at seminars

WALNUT — A series of seminars dealing with the facilities and services available at Mt. San Antonio College will be presented on four successive Tuesdays at the college's Educational Service centers in Pomona and La Puente.

Extra pitches are helping Singer

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

ANAHEIM — Most people thought Singer completed his comeback last year.

Joining the Angels after a 6-16 season with the Dodgers in 1972, the tall, righthander, won 20 games for the Halos.

He appeared to be at the top of his form Monday night at Anaheim Stadium. Facing only five over the minimum 27 batters, Singer scattered five hits, struck out seven, and didn't issue a single walk in subduing the Minnesota Twins, 8-1. The Twins' run was unearned.

"Singer really pitched himself a game tonight," enthused manager Bobby Winkles, "Seven strikeouts and no walks. That's a heck of a game!"

Singer himself was happy with the win, but revealed he still is improving.

"My curve is coming back and my changeup is getting better," he said. "I think I can add one or two pitches this year. I was turning over the fastball once in a while to lefthanded hitters."

Then came the best news of all.

"I think I'm getting closer to being the pitcher I was (with the Dodgers) in '69 and '70," he continued. "I had four pitches then."

They called him "The Singer Throwing Machine in those days and he was brilliant. The Dodgers always had good catchers and Singer feels the Angels have a top flight receiver now.

"(Ellie) Rodriguez is a super catcher," Singer stated quietly. "The guy really knows how to call a game. The plate looks big when he's behind it."

Whatever the reason, the Diamond Bar resident threw 80 strikes and only 40 balls.

His teammates supported him with a 12-hit attack that included a home run and rbi single by Joe Lahood, two hits each by Mickey Rivers, Frank Robinson, Lee Stanton, and Sandy Alomar.

Minnesota did its share by contributing six errors causing Winkles to say, "We're a running club and we keep the pressure on and that's the way we're going to play all year.

"You know I was looking at the stats today, he grinned and our opponents had made 16 errors and that was BEFORE tonight's game. If that keeps up all year we have a chance to win the pennant."

It's spring and these are the days of wine and roses around Anaheim Stadium.

LANDING A PUNCH

Alfred Gonzales of Santa Ana lands a punch on Rafael Reyes of Los Angeles in the 147-pound fight in the novice division of the South Pacific AAU Boxing Championships at L.A. County Fairgrounds.

Kings face Esposito in game 5

CHICAGO (UPI) — Goalie Tony Esposito, who has shut out the Los Angeles Kings four times in nine games this season, gets the call tonight to try to put the Chicago Black Hawks into the semifinal round of the Stanley Cup playoffs for the fifth straight year.

The Hawks head into what could be the deciding game of the best of seven series with a 3-1 lead. Should Chicago win, it would open the semifinal playoff series at Boston Thursday night. Should they lose, the Hawks and Kings would meet again in Los Angeles Thursday night.

Esposito played the first three games of the series, winning by scores of 3-1, 4-1 and 1-0, before Hawks Coach Billy

● KTLA (5), 5:30 p.m.

Reay assigned his alternate goalie, Mike Veisor, for the Sunday night game. During the regular season, Esposito blanked the Kings three times by 3-0 scores.

But Sunday Veisor lost for the first time in 10 games against a National Hockey League opponent because Reay wanted to give Esposito a rest.

"Four games in five nights is too much for any goalie," Reay said. "Besides I have faith in Mike."

Reay wouldn't blame Viesor for the loss since he said "our guys just about deserted him after we fell behind. Almost all the Kings goals were gifts."

Esposito worked in 70 regular season games, losing only 14 times with 34 wins and 21 ties. Combined with Veisor, he shared the Vezina Trophy with Philadelphia's Bernie Parent and Bobby Taylor. Los Angeles beat him only once with two ties in the regular season.

The Hawks will be trying to win a quarter final playoff series for the 15th straight year, while the Kings, out of the playoffs the last four seasons, have won a quarterfinal only once. The Hawks have missed the playoffs once in the last 16 years.

Hawks center Pit Martin was not expected to play, but defenseman Phil Russell, who suffered a collapsed lung in the last week of the regular season, returned Sunday and was expected to be in the lineup again.

Neither Reay nor Kings Coach Bob Pulford expected an easy game. Reay, declaring every game the Hawks won so far was "close," rated the Kings as a "tough hockey team," and Pulford said all his team needed was "a few breaks" to win and send the series back to California.

The Montreal-New York series is deadlocked at two games each following the Rangers' comeback 6-4 triumph Sunday afternoon, and the fifth game will be played at Montreal tonight.

The two other quarterfinal series were completed Sunday. The East Division champion Boston Bruins wiped out the Toronto Maple Leafs in four games and the Philadelphia Flyers, who won the West title, turned in a similar sweep against the Atlanta Flames.

In the semifinals, Boston will meet the winner of the Chicago-Los Angeles series and Philadelphia opposes the Montreal-New York survivor. If the Black Hawks win tonight, they will begin their series against the Bruins at Boston Thursday night.

'Sanford and son' score KO

By JIM McCONNELL
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — Fred Houpe knocked 'em out and Redd Foxx knocked 'em dead Monday night at the Southern Pacific amateur Regional AAU boxing championships held at the L.A. County Fairgrounds.

Houpe (dubbed "Young Sanford") is an impressive heavyweight sponsored by Foxx of TV fame. Both he and Foxx had a chance to show the crowd at the Fairgrounds their talents Monday.

Houpe demolished Harold Green of Riverside in his heavyweight bout, scoring a first-round knockout with a booming right hand. The 6-foot-2, 205-pound boxer will be meeting Bobby Bryant in Saturday's SPAAU finals.

Foxx, on hand to watch his fighter in action, was introduced at ringside and, at the crowd's urging, entered the ring to take a bow.

However, instead of climbing through the ropes, the comedian of "Sanford and Son" popularity crawled on all fours under them, delighting the sparse Monday evening turnout.

Houpe proved to be much more serious once he entered the ring. The heavyweight hopeful, a student at Pepperdine University, plans to win the national AAU crown, and looked all-business in disposing of his foe in short order.

Highlighted by Houpe and the antics of Foxx, Monday's opening bouts in the SPAUU championships were a most impressive show.

The 12-card bout featured both novice and open AAU competition.

Danny Lira opened the boxing action for the evening, scoring a split decision win over Jesus Bermudez in their 139-pound novice elimination bout.

Alfred Gonzales of Santa Ana won his 147-pound novice match with Rafael Reyes by a decision, while Felix Maldenada also advanced to the 147-pound novice final by outpointing Danny Quiroz.

The Maldenada-Quiroz match developed into a real war, with non-stop action throughout before Maldenada's hand was raised as the victor.

David Wynne of National City scored a KO over Jesus Fernandez of La Mirada in a 178 novice battle. Wynne caught Fernandez coming in during third-round action and caught the La Mirada boxer with a quick combination which sent him down for the count.

In the other novice match held Monday, Bert Hunter of National City outpointed Les Anderson in a 165-pound middleweight attraction.

In the open division, competition was even keener.

Danny Aguilera and Juan Guerrero won by decision in their 112-pound bouts, setting up a possible showdown Saturday between the two boxers.

In the 119-pound open class, John Jensen and Frank Estrada, both of L.A., won their bouts to advance in the tourney.

Jenson outpointed San Diego's Frank Sandoval while Estrada scored a knockout win over Kevin O'Ryan of San Fernando when the referee stopped the bout late in the third round.

Martin Yniquez of Riverside advanced in the 139-pound open division, decisioning Tony Esparza, while Francisco Flores of Pacoima also posted a decision win in his 125-pound open battle with Al Valesquez.

Pomona boxers did not fare well in the tourney, but the reasons have nothing to do with what went on in the ring Monday.

Highly regarded 106-pounder Albert Sandoval apparently will not see any action in the regionals as tourney officials could not find opponents willing to fight the Pomona boxer.

Darrell Huntley ran into some red-tape problems Monday and his scheduled bout with Dave Mendoza had to be canceled.

The expected duel in the middleweight division also was delivered a knockout punch Monday, when it was learned that last year's SPAUU champ Tommy Brooks of San Diego has joined the U.S. Air Force and Danny Sanders of Pasadena has decided to by-pass the event due to personal problems.

Nonetheless, the action and competition are expected to be even greater Wednesday as the SPAUU event continues. Boxing will begin at 8 p.m., with the gates opening to the public at 7:30 at Fairgrounds Building 7A.

Rested Bucks resume play vs. Chicago

By United Press International

The old Army game of hurry up and wait may have worn down the finely honed edge of the Milwaukee Bucks, who would love nothing better than to realize an expansion club dream of revenge against the New York Knicks.

While the Bucks are favored to beat the Chicago Bulls tonight in the start of the best-of-seven Western Conference finals, the Knicks' chances of making the title series for the third straight season was being steamrollered by the Boston Celtics in the NBA Eastern Conference playoffs.

Milwaukee won the National Basketball Association title in 1971, but many Buck players voiced that it wasn't a satisfying victory because they beat Baltimore instead of the hoped for match with New York. The Bucks seem to roll over and play dead every time they visit New York and the revenge motive was prevalent that year.

The Bucks are the most rested players among the four contenders after disposing of Los Angeles in five games. But while they gathered around TV sets to watch the outcome of the Chicago-Detroit series, the Bulls were retaining the sharp touch with constant competition in the seven-game victory over the Pistons.

The Bucks last played on April 7. They again call on Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to wear down the Bulls front line and block the lane against penetrating Chicago guards.

The Knicks come off an horrendous 113-88 beating by Boston in their opening game last Sunday, but the Celtics are wary of such laughers. Last season, Boston won the first game in a walkaway and then suffered a similar humiliation in the second game.

"I'd like to throw that first game out the window," moaned Bill Bradley, who made only 2 of 11 field goal tries.

Feurbach, Woods enter field at MSAC Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bob Lafferty, administrator of track and field for the National AAU, admitted Monday that his amateur athletic organization has "problems."

"We have to work with rules," Lafferty told the weekly meeting of the Southern California Track Writers.

"When you have rules you get trouble. But when you have rules you must abide by them."

Lafferty defended the AAU's policies in its methods of selecting athletes for foreign trips, particulary the U.S. Russian meet at Moscow this year.

"I couldn't completely agree that it wasn't a representative team that went to the Soviet Union," he said. "Some world record holders did not go.

"So many open athletes have jobs they can't leave."

Among the world record holders who did not go to Russia were high jumper Dwight Stones and shot putter Al Feuerbach. Both are members of the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, Calif. PCC coach Tom Jennings has been at odds with the AAU for three years.

Lafferty said he doubted there will be an early settlement of the lingering dispute between the AAU and the NCAA in the near future.

"There is an organization in New York with a lot of money," he said. "It is sitting on about $10 million that could be used for sports programs."

Lafferty said he was referring to the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Mike O'Hara, president of the International Track Association, said a last-minute dispute with NBC over procedures for televising Saturday's pro meet here was responsible for the 40-minute delay in getting it started.

"Our biggest harvest of athletes will come after the 1976 Olympics at Montreal," said O'Hara.

Feurbach, holder of the world outdoor record at 71-7, and George Woods, indoor record holder at 72-2 ¾, will meet in the Mt. San Antonio Relays at Walnut, Calif., April 26-28, it was announced.

University of Southern California and UCLA will oppose California and Stanford, respectively, in a Pacific-8 double dual meet at Stanford Saturday.

Long Beach State will host Occidental and Southern California College Saturday.

Lamonica ready to jump loops, sign with Sun

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Veteran Oakland Raider quarterback Daryle Lamonica apparently will sign with the World Football League today.

The Southern California Sun franchise called a news conference today for 11 a.m. while Lamonica said only Monday night that he was here for some "serious negotiating."

Lamonica reportedly will play out his option year this season and then be free to join the Sun for the 1975 season.

His package deal, including deferred payments and incentives, reportedly will be in the $1 million range and span either three or four years. He was believed to be making around $90,000 annually with the Raiders.

Dodgers remembering what Reds did last year

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Off to a 7-3 start and leading the National League West, the Los Angeles Dodgers meet the defending division champion Cincinnati Reds tonight.

Andy Messersmith, 1-0, will go for the Dodgers against Don Gullett, 0-1.

The teams meet again here Wednesday night and the Dodgers then return to Los Angeles to launch a 12-game homestand against the San Francisco Giants next Friday night.

Ron Cey, the Dodgers' regular third baseman who is off to a .389 start with 11 RBIs, said the LA players were thinking about the first meeting of the year with the Reds at Houston Sunday. The Dodgers won that game 7-2.

"All of a sudden, a lot of guys in the dugout were talking and thinking about Cincinnati," he said. "They were already psyching themselves up. The Reds embarrassed us last year and it was obvious we haven't forgotten."

The Reds won 11 of their 18 games with Los Angeles last season and caught the Dodgers in the final month of the season to win the division title.

Nets, Stars eye series sweeps

By United Press International

The New York Nets and Utah Stars have visions of a playoff sweep in their minds while Kentucky and Indiana are in desperate need of victories as both ABA division playoff sites switch to the underdogs' court Wednesday night.

Both the Nets and Stars, regular season champions in the East and West, moved ahead 2-0 in their division finals battle Monday night with victories.

New York, combining a harassing, sagging defense with a free-wheeling offense, convincingly whipped Kentucky for the second straight game. The Nets were "damn near perfect," according to Colonel Coach Babe McCarthy in the opening game victory Saturday night but they were even better Monday night when they handcuffed Kentucky's two top guns, Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore, to win 99-80.

Utah hit its last six points on free throws to beat Indiana 106-102.

Poly gridders go on public view Thursday

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

POMONA — Energetic Andy Vinci, Cal Poly's new football coach, is anxious to present his team to the public Thursday night when the Broncos put on a full scrimmage from 7 to 9 p.m. at Kellogg Field.

His team has concluded the first week of spring practice in good shape and Vinci is his usual enthusiastic self as he prepares the Broncos for the Alumni game on Saturday, May 11.

"We feel we have made considerable progress," Vinci said when discussing the first week. "We had great enthusiasm and we found out our players like to hit. We were disappointed with our intensity but that will come when we get to know each other better."

Vinci is inviting the public to take a look Thursday when he divides his current squad of 68-minus junior college transfers and some footballers involved in spring sports — into two separate teams.

"This scrimmage will help us a great deal," Vinci explained. "We'll have the chance to film it and grade the players. After all, the main purpose in spring practice is to take a look at everybody. This is a teaching time."

Thursday's scrimmage will consist of four 12-minute quarters. Poly will jump to 15-minute periods in its second game-situation workout next week.

Vinci is taking a good look at his 30 junior college transfers. Most of the competition is on the offensive line.

Players who have been impressive so far include tackles Randy Taylor of Palomar and Len Latham of Fullerton. Vinci says Vernon Smith, a tackle last year, has looked outstanding at guard while Jack Murry from Golden West is another top candidate.

Other players earning Vinci's praises include Ron Stewart and Scott Sanders in the defensive secondary, Charlie Grimes at defensive tackle and noseguard Randy Daniel.

Quarterback Jim Zorn, who topped the NCAA Divison 2 statistics with 3,000 yards, has impressed Vinci in his drive to nail down the starting assignment.

"Zorn has looked great so what else is new," Vinci exlaimed. "I have learned that Jim is a super coachable kid. He still needs to learn our new plays and how to read the secondary better but that will come."

Bob Dulich, a NCAA Division 3 All-American under Vinci last year at the University of San Diego, will be arriving next fall after completing this semester at a junior college.

"The quarterback thing is the least of our problems," Vinci said. "Bob isn't even here yet so we'll cross that situation later."

There is some speculation that Zorn, who ran for 633 yards last year, could be shifted to a tailback spot.

Poly has added another quarterback in announcing the addition of Bart Moran, who was selected the Most Valuable Player in the Del Rey League last year in leading Notre Dame High (Sherman Oaks) to a 6-2-1 record.

Mike Steinhower, the former Notre Dame coach who has joined Vinci's staff to handle the linebackers, said Moran is a super prospect. He passed for 1,400 yards and ran for 600 in his junior campaign then threw for 1,260 and rushed for 400 last year despite missing two games with an injury.

Letterman center Steve Weiss is Poly's only casualty thus far. He suffered a knee injury in a scrimmage last Friday and his status is uncertain. He is fighting to retain his starting job against Ken LaVigne, a transfer from Rio Hondo.

JACK SMITH
. . . All-Star coach

Jack Smith will coach North Stars

LA VERNE — If you think Robert E. Lee had a tough time during the United States' Civil War, you should see what Jack Smith is up against in the Pomona Valley's Civil War.

Smith, the senior head basketball coach in the valley from Claremont High, has been selected to coach the North All-Stars for the first annual Pomona Valley High School All-Star Basketball Game, which is scheduled for June 18 at Claremont High.

Smith will be drawing players from teams which compiled a losing 101-139 record this past season. Three of the teams finished last in their leagues, and only one could do as well as second place in its league.

Not only that, but the players from the 10 teams Smith has access of lack height. The Claremont High skipper figures the tallest player he'll have will stand at 6 feet, 5 inches. Meanwhile, the South Stars figure to boast a few players over the 6-6 mark.

The teams from which Smith will be drawing include Alta Loma (11-15), Bonita (5-18), Charter Oak (6-18), Claremont (20-7), Damien (4-20), Pomona (10-15), Royal Oak (18-6), San Dimas (7-15), Upland (16-12), and Webb School (4-13).

Smith is presently receiving nominations from the schools' coaches, and should come up with a roster in a matter of weeks.

"We've got some pretty good ball-handling guards in the North area," stated Smith. "But I don't see where we'll have a player taller than 6-5."

"I'll probably have to run the team just like I did at Claremont this past season," he added. "We didn't have any height, so were established a passing game. We didn't have any forwards or a center—everybody just did the same thing and played the same position."

When you consider the lack of height smith did work with during the prep basketball season and the final record of the year for Claremont (20-7), you can't help but believe Smith is the right man for the job.

"I'm happy to do it," Smith admitted. "I think it will further the interest of basketball in this area and it gives the players an opportunity to be seen by college coaches and scouts."

There was an added reason for Smith's acceptance of the job.

"I live in La Verne and I'm pleased to do something for the community in which I live," he said.

The La Verne Rotary Club is sponsoring the event, hopefully to give added emphasis and exposure in the area in high school basketball. Also, the club is sponsoring the affair in order to raise money for worthy charitable interests in the community.

Each high school coach has been invited to nominate a maximum of three players from his team. The players must be graduating seniors who are not attending college at the time of the game.

Smith will then select a tentative list of 12 players from among the nominees. The final approval of the 12-man roster for each team will be made by the Rotary Club's sponsoring committee. No high school may be represented by more than two players.

Tickets for the game will be priced at $2 for adults, and $1.50 for students (high school and under).

Leo hurler, Mountie third sacker top valley players

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — Pitcher John Verhoeven of La Verne and third baseman Kevin Bell of Mt. San Antonio College were named Players of the Week by Pomona Valley baseball coaches at the weekly luncheon at The Castaway restaurant.

Verhoeven won two games last week as the Leopards swept Arizona State and Grand Canyon College. The 6-5 righthander allowed ASU, fifth-ranked nationally in the University Division, just five hits and one run in an 8-1 victory.

Grand Canyon, ranked second nationally in the NAIA Division, got six hits off Verhoeven. But the Leo ace struck out 11. For the two games, he had 15 strikeouts and five walks.

MSAC coach Art Mazmanian is extremely high on Bell. "Of all the players I've had at Mt. SAC, Kevin is the best major league prospect I've seen," said Mazmanian. "He hits, and hits with power and has a good attitude. He has more power than anybody I've seen at Mt. SAC except Roger Freed."

In four games last week, Bell got 10 hits in 19 trips to the plate, batted in eight runs and scored four. He is hitting .374.

Quoting the coaches.

BEN HINES, LA VERNE — "We just happened to catch Arizona State at the right time. They were coming off tough games with Texas El Paso and a 6-4 loss to USC. Our pitching allowed an average of five hits a game and stopped Bump Wills.

"Wills got just two singles in three games and didn't walk once. ASU was constantly hitting balls to second and first which would have gone through if our first baseman had been holding a runner at first."

JOHN SCOLINOS, CAL POLY — "I still think we have the best-balanced pitching in the league. If we could only get more hitting and defense. (Cal State) Fullerton won two of three from SLO last week and is in the driver's seat now. We play SLO here this Friday and Saturday."

ART MAZMANIAN, MSAC — "We've won nine games in a row now although we're still making errors. I'm convinced it's our field. We don't make them away and the other teams also make two or three errors when they play here. We play Cerritos here Thursday and there Saturday. Cerritos is 25-2, the most wins in the state. We're second with a 23-5 record."

BELL WELCHER, CITRUS — "We were very happy to win the Cuesta Tournament. We thought we could win two of four. We got great hitting. Phil Doktor went 9-for-17 with nine runs batted in. He had two doubles and a home run and scored six runs. John Freedman went 9-for-17 and made three great defensive plays and batted in six runs."

JIM SCHROEDER, CHAFFEY — "We fell apart in the Fullerton tournament. We played and lost a 1 p.m. game in San Diego and then played and lost a game that night at Fullerton. It was a long grind."

Sports news in brief

GOLDEN STATE'S Cazzie Russell, Atlanta's Pete Maravich and anyone else of stature who has played out his option or is discontented with his current club will be the primary targets in Wednesday's first-ever American Basketball Association draft of National Basketball Association players. "I expect most of our clubs will draft NBA players they think then can sign," said ABA commissioner Mike Storen. "the purpose of the draft is to organize our efforts at signing the best players available. I wouldn't expect clubs to be drafting big-name stars like Kareem Abdul Jabbar, who are tied to long term contracts. We'll be after the people whose contracts are up or who have only a year or two left on them."

MASTERY OF THE BOSTON MARATHON has returned to Europe with a machine-like performance by a young Irish runner who could figure prominently in international track. Neil Cusack, a slim, brown-haired Limirick native who attends East Tennessee State College, took a commanding lead Monday early in the 26-mile, 285-yard race, and maintained it with the aid of a slight tail wind and despite a brutal stretch of pavement known as Heartbreeak Hill to win in the near-record time of 2:13.39.

THE CINCINNATI Bengals are victims of the World Football League's latest coup and head coach Paul Brown is angry. The Bengals disclosed late Monday that their star linebacker, Bill Bergey, was jumping the National Football League to play for the Virginia Ambassadors of the WFL. But Bergey, an aggressive hard-hitter who along with tackle Mike Reid anchors the Bengals' defense, already is under contract to the Bengals for this season and must play out his option here in 1975 before joining the WFL in 1976.

TNE NEW YORK STARS of the New World Football League announced Monday the signing of former New Orleans Saints Jim Ford and D'Artagnan Martin. Ford, a 24-year-old running back, played two seasons with the Saints before sitting out last season with an injury. Martin started all 14 games in the Saints' defensive secondary as a rookie in 1971, but has not played the last two seasons.

FOUR VETERAN DRIVERS, among them former winners A. J. Foyt and Gordon Johncock, were assured of cars today in the million-dollar Indianapolis "500", with the number of entries at 44. Speedway officials believed at least 20 more entries were in the mail.

Stakes race opens week

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The second week of the Hollywood Park meeting will be kicked off by the $22,650 Debonair Stakes Wednesday.

Eight 3-year-olds are scheduled to go to the post in the six-furlong dash, which is limited to thoroughbreds which have never won a $10,000 purse.

The Debonair is the second of 15 added-money events for sophomores on the Hollywood Park stakes agenda, a schedule which will be highlighted by a pair of $100,000 races, the new Swaps Stakes June 30 and the Hollywood Derby July 14.

Blue Eyed Davy, a consistent son of Viking Spirit which already has proved his liking for Hollywood Park's main track, is expected to be the favorite at post time.

Howard Grant rode Blue Eyed Davy to a four-length victory here last week and will be up on him again.

Also in the field are Sue Canyon, Little Ify, Shirley's Champion, Miradero, Ride Off, Buck Price and Sawtooth.

Little Ify and Miradero, with Don Pierce and Fernando Toro up, respectively, have been assigned high weight of 122 pounds each. Blue Eyed Davy will carry 119 pounds.

Owl golfers enjoy rout

SAN DIEGO — Citrus College captured its third straight golf league win Monday afternoon with a 47-7 rout of San Diego.

The Owls, now 10-3 on the season and 5-1 in Mission League play, had low medalist Art Butler fire a one-over par 73.

Don Wells was two strokes back at 75, for the Owls, while teammate Don Kramer finished at four-over-par 76.

Citrus, currently tied with San Bernardino (who have finished its league season at 6-1) for the lead, play conclude its campaign hosting Southwestern Monday, April 22.

An Owl win over Southwestern would force a playoff with San Berdoo, a victim to Citrus earlier in the season.

Claremont, Azusa manage to split long doubleheader

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

CLAREMONT — If Claremont-Mudd or Azusa Pacific had been playing any mediocre college team, any fair junior college team, or any good high school squad, they both would have absorbed two losses Monday.

Fortunately, for each school, they were playing each other and managed to come away from the long afternoon on the Stags field with only a single setback apiece.

Ausa took the first game 11-5 behind the pitching of third baseman Ted Dominguez and a 15-hit attack by the Cougars. Dominguez helped himself the most with three hits, including a double. Claremont bounced back in the nightcap, 14-13.

Mike Jones got the day underway by blasting a lead-off homer off Stag starter Brad Rehn and the Cougars went on to score three more times.

Claremont then tied it up in the fourth as Andy Roundtree followed three singles with a grand slam home run to left. But that was the last hurrah for CMC in the opener.

In the closer, the Stags started quickly by scoring six runs in the bottom of the first. The main attack was provided by Azusa's gloves and arms which donated four errors.

All of Claremont's runs were unearned but the Stags proved to be generous hosts by turning around in the top of the second and serving up seven unearned tallies to the Cougars.

Chuck Van Schoych, who had an unusual 0-5 performance in the first game, rapped a three-run homer in the second after Dominguez had driven in two with a bases-loaded ground rule double. Van Schoych added another roundtripper in the seventh while Dominguez connected on his second two-run double in the eighth.

The teams bumbled evenly throughout the remainder of the game with Azusa taking a 13-11 lead into the bottom of the ninth—thanks to five Stag errors and 13 walks from CMC pitchers.

But in the ninth, Steve Lopez, who homered earlier, started off with a single. One out later, Azusa reliever John Tully lost his control completely and walked three men, forcing Cougar coach Tom Nelson to bring in Dominguez from short, where he had replaced Tully (it was a long afternoon).

Dominguez showed that he really is a third baseman and not a pitcher by walking in the tying run on four consecutive pitches. When he finally did throw a strike, Brad Koppel spanked the ball up the middle and Roundtree came home with the winning run.

Azusa, which had a five-game winning streak snapped in the second game, bounced right back today by hosting Point Loma while Claremont returns to the SCIAC wars Wednesday against Pomona-Pitzer.

Rowland High hosts prep gymnastics meet

ROWLAND — Westminster, ranked No. 1 in CIF and undefeated in dual meet competition, is favored to capture the Rowland High Invitational Gymnastics Tournament Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Raider gym.

The runnerup position appears to be a battle between Arroyo, South Hills and host Rowland. Other entries include Edgewood, West Covina, Long Beach Milliken, Anaheim, Mark Keppel, San Gabriel and Antelope Valley.

Each team will enter three individuals per event with medals awarded to the top three teams in each of the six (floor exercise, vaulting, pommel horse, horizontal bars, parallel bars and rings) events.

Team trophies will be awarded to the top two teams.

Claremont golf team wins 8th dual match

CHINO — Claremont High, fresh from first place golf finishes in tournament play over the holidays, notched its eighth straight dual meet win Monday afternoon with a 386-424 victory over Quartz Hill at the Western Hills Country Club.

The Wolfpack, who brought home 11 trophies for their vacation toil, were paced by Claye Atchesen, who shot a one-under-part 71 to earn low medalist of the day.

Frank Sowin and Mike Bicker, also of Claremont, were next at 76 and 77, respectively.

Three duffers, two from Quartz Hills, finished at 79. The QH finishers were Scott Thompson and Ray Munoz while Claremont's Chuck Rosin checked in at seven-over-par.

The Pack, 8-0 on the season and 4-0 in San Antonio League play, tackle Alta Loma (4-1) Wednesday.

Claremont downed the Braves 191-212 in their first round league play.

Andy Capps take first

CLAREMONT — The Andy Capps squeezed by the Pumpkins 1-0 on Mike Parish's goal to regain first place in the Pomona Valley Soccer League.

The Pumkins, who fell to second with the defeat, played a tough aggressive game but could never crack the Andy Capps' tough defense.

In other PVSL action, the Studs defeated the Buzzards 1-0, and the Bulls demolished the helpless Lambs 7-1.

Rick Seriani paced the Bulls attack with two goals and two assists. Claude Lieatoud also chipped in with a pair of goals.

In the fight for the cellar, the Buzzards and the Smears are deadlocked with identical 0-4-2 marks.

The league will take this week off with play resuming in two weeks. When play does resume, there will be an all-important clash between the Pumkins and the Lambs.

Defense like dear old aunt

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North and South reached their heart game by means of the classic bidding method called, "Poppa-Momma."

The contract was a fairly good one, but it made because East played the defense like dear old Aunt Emma.

Opening lead—♦Q

South was delighted with the diamond opening since it eliminated the necessity of hunting for the enemy ace. He won the second trick with his king and saw that in all probability he would need a successful spade finesse to make his contract.

Then he led his king of trumps. East won with the ace and led a trump back. South won in his own hand and played his ace of clubs. The he ruffed his last diamond and led a club from dummy.

The dear old Aunt Emma type sitting East had been paying no attention to the play and followed with her last low club. Now South put up his kind and led his last club.

East won with the queen and South had the rest of the tricks since East had to lead a diamond to give a ruff and discard, or a spade away from his king.

L.A. weekend leaves 5 dead

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An unknown assailant shot and killed a 24-year-old Los Angeles man Saturday night.

Police said they had no suspect or motive for the death of James Calvin Boyce, whose body was discovered beside his car in an alley.

Authorities said Boyce apparently ran from his car down the alley, and was shot in the back as he tried to escape his killer by scaling an eight-foot wire fence.

Four other men were also killed during the weekend, police reported.

James Amos, 22, Los Angeles, was visiting friends when he began arguing with Dalton Roe, 28, Sunday morning. Police said Roe, who is confined to a wheelchair, grabbed a shotgun and fired once at Amos, killing him instantly.

A Pasadena man was stabbed to death by his wife in their home Saturday night. Police said Mary Jane Goodman, 36, was booked on suspicion of murder in connection with the death of her 38-year-old husband, Kenneth.

An 18-year-old Compton Youth, Claude Randolph, was shot to death by a 15-year-old youth during a qurrel over a girl. Police said the 15-year-old was booked on suspicion of murder.
